

Miss Thorne & Dr. Fayne's

wedding write up -

Oct. 20th - 1897 -

Wedding Bells at Blackstock.

"And they when moons with borrow'd roses,
About the world have times twelve blinded been;
How have our hearts, and Hymen did our hands,
To tie our hearts in most sacred bands."

And thus the Shakesperian sentiment apparently continues to absorb the minds of gallant youths, as to Hymen's altar fair maidens are blushing led to plight their troth.

On the afternoon of October twentieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven—a beautiful afternoon, with just enough clouds to make a glorious sunset, and only enough sadness mingled with brightness to add solemnity to the scene—

"Two souls with but a single thought
Two hearts that beat as one"—

their lives as a necklace of pearls and adorned it with Heaven's blessing.

The wedding—the most recherche of this season—took place in the First Presbyterian church, Blackstock, S. C. The church was beautifully and artistically decorated, thereby converting the interior into a veritable floral picture.

As the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march pealed forth, under the deft touches of Miss Janie Thompson, the bridal party proceeded to enter the church, preceded up the aisle by the flower girl and boy, little Miss Theodora Hayne, sister of groom, and Master Cleveland Beattie, nephew of groom, who united the affians which were reserved seats for the family of the contracting parties, who immediately followed.

Mrs. Francis Porcher Thorn, mother of bride, leaning on the arm of Mr. Cleveland Beattie, brother-in-law of groom.

Miss Theodora Hayne, mother of groom, and Mrs. Cleveland Beattie, leaning on the arm of Mr. James Harrison, cousin of the groom, followed by the members of the family.

They entered the gallery of handsome ushers, Messrs. E. Jones, McCurey and John Douglass. Master Cleveland Beattie, who gracefully took their place through the pines, so softly and sweetly fell the strains of Titania, as Rev. J. L. McLin, assisted by Revs J. G. Hall and M. R. Kirkpatrick, beautifully and impressively performed the ceremonial rites, using the ring with a modification of the Episcopal ceremony.

The bridal party then passed under the monogram T. H., keeping time to Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom, accompanied by Miss Sue Thorn, left, amid a shower of rice, for Greenville, where receptions were tendered them by Mrs. T. B. Hayne, Mrs. Hamlin Beattie and Miss Hoke.

The costumes were as follows:

The bride was attired in pure white duchess satin (en train), elaborately trimmed with ruffles of chiffon lace, over which she wore a bridal veil of silk tulle, draped with orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of lovely white dahlias and maiden hair fern.

Maid of honor, Miss Adaleze Thorn, wore white silk, elaborately trimmed with silk tulle, chiffon lace and ribbon.

Miss Alicia Hayne, white organ-die, over yellow satin, yellow trimmings; pearls.

Miss Sue Thorn, yellow silk, pearl passamentarie, chiffon lace.

Miss Mattie Mills, heliotrope silk, chiffon and ribbon.

Miss Lillius Anderson, heliotrope organ-die, ribbon garniture.

Miss Bessie Hubby, green silk, passamentarie.

Miss Mary Thompson, pink cashmere, silk trimmings.

Miss Ednae Cloud, pink organ-die, ribbon garniture.

Groom and Groomsman were attired in handsome evening suits.

Mr. Theodore Brevard Hayne wore black tuxedo with snow trimmings, the groom's colors, as he was born in Baltimore, the land of the oriole.

Mrs. Cleveland Beattie, blue satin and diamonds.

Miss Theodora Hayne, white cashmere with white silk trimmings, white slippers and stockings.

Master Cleveland Beattie, white page's costume, white slippers and Solid silver forks, Mrs. Dr. T. J. H. Douglas, Chester, S. C.

After dinner coffee set of china, Misses Thompson, Blackstock.

Elegant Mexican drawn work centre piece, Mrs. Heber Cullom, Texarkana, Texas.

After dinner coffee spoons, gold bowl, Mr. J. R. Rutledge, Greenville, S. C.

Gold bowl bon bon spoon, Miss Mattie Mills, Blackstock.

Silver belt buckle and clasp, Hon. J. D. Harrison, Ridgeway, S. C.

Gold bowl berry spoon, Mr. J. C. McLure, Chester, S. C.

China berry bowl, Mrs. W. H. Hardin, Chester, S. C.

Solid silver dessert spoons, Mr. C. Singleton Green, Columbia, S. C.

China dessert service, Mrs. well and Mrs. Sinkler.

Cuff buttons and set of studs, E. H. Harrison, Ridgeway, S. C.

Silver knives and forks, Mrs. R. E. and J. C. Shannon, Spindale, S. C.

White silk Austrian fan, Mrs. Jas. P. Adams, Columbia, S. C.

Butter knife and gold bowl jelly spoon, Miss Tillman, Van Wyck, S. C.

Cleveland and Margaret Beatty, silver handled brush and comb.

Elegant carving knife and fork, Mrs. P. T. Hayne, Greenville.

Bible handsomely bound in white, Miss Theodora Hayne, Greenville.

"Wedding Bells," Miss Alicia Hayne, Greenville.

Two elegant rocking chairs, Mrs. Hamilton Beattie, Greenville.

Sideboard, Mrs. Frank Hayne, Greenville.

1-2 doz. table spoons, Messrs. G. Hoke and Perry Beattie, Greenville.

Two coffee cups, Mrs. Porter, Greenville.

Groom presented his gift pearl earrings.

Misses Nannie Brant, of Converse, S. C. and others.

ley, who gracefully took their positions by two floral pillars on the right and left.

Next entered the two bridesmaids in yellow, coming up each aisle and crossing in front:

Miss Alicia Hayne, Greenville, with Mr. J. H. Craig, Blackstock.

Miss Sue Thorn, Blackstock.

Mr. R. E. Shannon, Blackstock.

Following came two bridesmaids in heliotrope:

Miss Mattie Mills with Mr. J. C. Shannon.

Miss Lillius Anderson.

Mr. D. Mabrey Mobley.

And to break the monotony next entered Miss Bessie Mobley, beautyfully attired in green, coming up left side, while Dr. E. H. Harrison reached up the right, meeting her and taking position on the right.

Lastly came two bridesmaids in pink:

Miss Eunice Cloud with Mr. W. J. Simpson.

Miss Mary Thompson with Mr. J. C. Moore.

Taking their places they formed the terminus of a semi-circle.

Then coming up right aisle, the groom, Dr. J. Adams Hayne, with his best man, Dr. B. E. Kell; at same time coming up the left, entered the bride, Miss Fannie Douglas Thorn with maid of honor, Miss Adalize Thorn, who escorted her to the front of floral platform, where she was received by Rev. J. L. McLin, and given to the groom.

The bride and groom standing in rear of platform amid flowers, palms and cannas, while over them swayed from an arch of evergreens, a floral bell, thus surrounded by the beauties of nature, as softly as the moon steals o'er the lake and as sweetly as the southern sunny breeze sweeps page's costume, white suppers and stockings, a wealth of yellow curls.

Dr. and Mrs. Hayne received a number of handsome and elegant presents, viz:

Satin lined case of solid silver, containing 1-2 dozen forks, 1 dozen spoons, 1-2 dozen knives, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beattie, Greenville, S. C.

China berry bowl, Miss Bettie Caldwell, Bowling Green, S. C.

Solid silver pickle fork, Gen. Jno. Brotton, Winnsboro, S. C.

Solid silver sugar shell, Masters Will and Thorn Moores, Texarkana, Texas.

Gold lined silver salt service, Mr. J. Jones McCree, Asheville, N. C.

Solid silver teaspoons, Miss Bessie Mobley, Blackstock, S. C.

Solid silver teaspoons, Mr. J. H. Craig, Blackstock, S. C.

Solid silver teaspoons, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. B. Moores, Jr., Texarkana, Texas.

Gold bowl berry spoon, Dr. B. E. Kell, Chester, S. C.

Individual cream and sugar set of china, Miss Yoder, Van Wyck, S. C.

China tea service, Miss Lillius Anderson, Richburg, S. C.

Silver tea service, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hayne, Greenville, S. C.

Silver cracker jar, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McLin, Mt. Carmel, S. C.

Set of solid silver oyster forks, Mr. W. J. Simpson, Blackstock.

Solid silver salad fork and spoon, Mr. D. Mabrey Mobley, Blackstock, S. C.

Gold lined salt and pepper service, Miss Eunice Cloud, Wellridge, S. C.

After dinner coffee spoons, Mrs. Dr. F. J. H. Douglas, Chester, S. C.

1894

Wedding Bells at Blackstock.

"And thirty dozen moons with borrowed sheen,
About the world have times twelve thirties been;
Since love our hearts, and Hymen did our hands,
Unite committal in most sacred bands."

And thus the Shakesperian sentiment apparently continues to absorb the minds of gallant youths, as to Hymen's altar fair maidens are blushingly led to plight their troth.

On the afternoon of October twentieth, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven—a beautiful afternoon, with just enough clouds to make a delicious sunset, and only enough sadness mingled with brightness to add solemnity to the scene—

"Two souls with but a single thought united.

"Two hearts that beat as one"— their lives as a necklace of pearls united and adorned it with Heaven's blessing.

The wedding—the most recherche of this season—took place in the First Presbyterian church, Blackstock, S. C. The church was beautifully and artistically decorated thereby converting the interior into a veritable floral picture.

As the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march pealed forth, under the deft touches of Miss Janie Thompson, the bridal party proceeded to enter the church, preceded up the aisle by the flower girl and boy, little Miss Theodora Hayne, sister of groom, and Miss Cleveland Beattie, nee Hamilton, who united the partners which were seated on seats for the attracting parties, who immediately followed.

Mrs. Francis Porcher Thorn, mother of bride, wearing the dress of Mrs. Cleveland Beattie, her in-law of groom.

Mrs. M. H. Hamilton, mother of groom, and Mrs. Cleveland Beattie, nee Hamilton, cousin of the bride, followed.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jones, Miss Gray and Miss H. Glass, white dresses.

through the pines, so softly and sweetly fell the strains of Titania, as Rev. J. L. McLin, assisted by Revs J. C. Hall and M. R. Kirkpatrick, beautifully and impressively performed the ceremonial rites, using the ring with a modification of the Episcopal ceremony.

The bridal party then passed under the monogram T. H., keeping time to Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom, accompanied by Miss Sue Thorn, left, amid a shower of rice, for Greenville, where receptions were tendered them by Mrs. T. B. Hayne, Mrs. Hamlin Beattie and Miss Hoke.

The costumes were as follows:

The bride was attired in pure white duchess satin (en train), elaborately trimmed with ruffles of chiffon lace, over which she wore a bridal veil of silk tulle, draped with orange blossoms, and carrying a bouquet of lovely white dahlias and maiden hair fern.

Maid of honor, Miss Adaleze Thorn, wore white silk, elaborately trimmed with silk tulle, chiffon lace and ribbon.

Miss Alicia Hayne, white organdie, over yellow satin, yellow trimmings; pearls.

Miss Sue Thorn, yellow silk, pearl passamentarie, chiffon lace.

Miss Mattie Mills, heliotrope silk, chiffon and ribbon.

Miss Lillius Anderson, heliotrope organdie, ribbon garniture.

Miss Bessie Moberg, green silk, passamentarie.

Miss Alice Thompson, pink cashmere, silk trimmings.

Miss Louise Cloud, pink organdie, ribbon garniture.

The groom and Groomsman were attired in handsome evening suits.

Mr. Theodore Brevint, groom's best man, wore black suit and snow white bow tie.

Mr. J. C. Hamilton, groom's best man, wore a patterned suit and the end of the world.

Mr. Cleveland Beattie, groom's best man, wore a suit of satin and diamonds.

Miss Theodora Hayne, with white cashmere with white silk trimmings.

Miss Mattie Mills, white dress.

Miss Cleveland Beattie, white dress.

Solid silver forks, Mrs. Dr. T. J. H. Douglas, Chester, S. C.

After dinner coffee set of china, Misses Thompson, Blackstock.

Elegant Mexican drawn work centre piece, Mrs. Heber Cullom, Texarkana, Texas.

After dinner coffee spoons, gold bowl, Mr. J. R. Rutledge, Greenville, S. C.

Gold bowl both bon spoon, Miss Mattie Mills, Blackstock.

Silver belt buckle and clasp, Hon. J. D. Harrison, Ridgeway, S. C.

Gold bowl berry spoon, Mr. J. C. McLure, Chester, S. C.

China berry bowl, Mrs. W. H. Hardin, Chester, S. C.

Solid silver dessert spoons, Mr. C. Singleton Green, Columbia, S. C.

China dessert service, Mrs. well and Mrs. Sinker.

Cuff buttons and set of studs, E. H. Harrison, Ridgeway, S. C.

Silver knives and forks, Messrs. R. E. and J. C. Strimmon, Spindale, S. C.

White silk Austrian fan, Mrs. J. P. Adams, Columbia, S. C.

Butter knife and gold bowl jelly spoon, Miss Tillman, Van Wyck, S. C.

Cleveland and Margaret Beatty, silver handled brush and comb.

Elegant carving knife and fork, Mrs. P. T. Hayne, Greenville.

Bible handsomely bound in white, Miss Theodora Hayne, Greenville.

"Wedding Bells," Miss Alicia Hayne, Greenville.

Two elegant rocking chairs, Mrs. Hamlin Beattie, Greenville.

Tableboard, Mrs. F. H. Hayne, Greenville.

Table spoons, Messrs. G. Hoke and Perry Beattie, Greenville.

Table coffee cups, Mrs. Porter, Greenville.

Groom presented Bessie Hamilton pearl earrings.

Misses Nannie Brevint, Craig, or Converse, Spartanburg, S. C. were bridesmaids.

...ey, who gracefully took their positions by two floral pillars on the right and left.

Next entered the two bridesmaids in yellow, coming up each aisle and crossing in front:

Miss Alicia Hayne, Greenville, with Mr. J. H. Craig, Blackstock.

Miss Sue Thorn, Blackstock.

Mr. R. E. Shannon, Blackstock.

Following came two bridesmaids in heliotrope:

Miss Mattie Mills with Mr. J. C. Shannon.

Miss Lillius Anderson.

Mr. D. Mabrey Mobley.

And to break the monotony next entered Miss Bessie Mobley, beautifully attired in green, coming up left aisle, while Dr. E. H. Harrison reached up the right, meeting her and taking position on the right.

Lastly came two bridesmaids in pink:

Miss Eunice Cloud with Mr. W. J. Simpson.

Miss Mary Thompson with Mr. J. C. Mc...

Taking their places they formed the terminus of a semi-circle.

Then coming up right aisle, the groom, Dr. J. Adams Hayne, with his best man, Dr. B. E. Kell; at same time coming up the left, entered the bride, Miss Fannie Douglas Thorn with maid of honor, Miss Adalize Thorn, who escorted her to the front of floral platform, where she was received by Rev. J. L. McLin, and given to the groom.

The bride and groom standing in rear of platform amid flowers, palms and cannas, while ... from an arch of evergreens, a floral bell, thus surrounded by the beauties of nature as softly as the moon steals o'er the lake and as sweetly as the southern sunny breeze sweeps page's costume, white slippers and stockings, a wealth of yellow curls.

Dr. and Mrs. Hayne received a number of handsome and elegant presents, viz:

Satin lined case of solid silver, containing 1-2 dozen forks, 1 dozen spoons, 1-2 dozen knives, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beattie, Greenville, S. C.

China berry bowl, Miss Bettie Caldwell, Bowling Green, S. C.

Solid silver pickle fork, Gen. Jno. Brotton, Winnsboro, S. C.

Solid silver sugar shell, Masters Will and Thorn Moores, Texarkana, Texas.

Gold lined silver salt service, Mr. J. Jones McCord, Asheville, N. C.

Solid silver teaspoons, Miss Bessie Mobley, Blackstock, S. C.

Solid silver teaspoons, Mr. J. H. Craig, Blackstock, S. C.

Solid silver teaspoons, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Moores, Jr., Texarkana, Texas.

Gold bowl berry spoon, Dr. B. E. Kell, Chester, S. C.

Individual cream and sugar set of china, Miss Yoder, Van Wyck, S. C.

China tea service, Miss Lillius Anderson, Richburg, S. C.

Silver tea service, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Hayne, Greenville, S. C.

Silver cracker jar, Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McLin, Mt. Carmel, S. C.

Set of solid silver oyster forks, Mr. W. J. Simpson, Blackstock.

Solid silver salad fork and spoon, Mr. D. Mabrey Mobley, Blackstock, S. C.

Gold lined salt and pepper service, Miss Eunice Cloud, Wellridge, S. C.

After dinner coffee spoons, Mrs. Dr. E. J. H. Douglas, Chester, S. C.