Brothers - James Edmond and Joseph Benjamin Henderson
(c1916 in Alabama)

Note: Four children of James and Nancy Henderson married four Roebuck children beginning in 1928. These four marriage are the genesis of ongoing close family relationships between Henderson and Roebuck families which continue to the present day. Author and Mr James Roebuck of Tuscaloosa, AL have reviewed both family lineages and can find no evidence of an earlier marriage between the Henderson and Roebuck families. Based on this evidence, author is confident that middle name of Agness R Stephens (i.e., wife of William Franklin Henderson) was 'Robinson' not 'Roebuck'. (Thanks to Tina Henderson, a fellow researcher, for this tip regarding Agness' middle name.)

James and Nancy Henderson sired 16 children and 46 grandchildren. These 46 grandchildren became known as "The Numbered Cousins" among their immediate Henderson family. The oldest grandchild was designated Cousin #1 while the youngest became Cousin #46. Following table lists these "numbered cousins" in order of their birth. The underline indicates name by which that individual was known among family members.

Living to date*

Following Summary of Lives of James & Nancy Henderson was written by Milton Henderson (c1990)

- Milton is brother of Ann Ella Henderson Collier

James "Jim" Edmund Henderson (1878-1947) and his wife Nancy Jane Lamb Henderson (1879-1947), were married January 25, 1899 and their progeny are a most interesting Greene County family; a most accomplished family. Descendants of Jim and Nancy include thirteen (13) children that lived (three others died early). Jim Roebuck (of Tuscaloosa, AL) has advised that "Jim" Henderson joined the Beulah Baptist Church at age 12; that Jim grew to be a Master Carpenter, also a Blacksmith; a Justice of the Peace and a Church Deacon. Jim Henderson was a Deacon for many years in the fantastic old Beulah Baptist Church near Snoddy, Alabama and that he became a Deacon in 1907 at about age 29 for forty (40) years which closed at his 1947 death. Uncle Jim was a Deacon for most his adult life!

These frontier men/families and frontier parents, built their own houses, barns and probably their own sugar-cane grinding equipment/mills to produce syrup for their use and to sell; and as well they prepared their land for planting and harvesting of crops for their food, syrup and income. "Uncle Jim," actually a Great Uncle (of Milton), built his/their own family home over the years in very rural Greene County near Snoddy / Knoxville, Alabama. Jim and his wife, Aunt Nancy, lived there 49 years during their married life and never moved into Eutaw as some of their grown children eventually desired for them to do, but to no avail.

This compiler (i.e., Milton) remembers being told that Uncle Jim "turned Beulah Church around" as a master carpenter. (Such a remarkable unusual project and accomplishment!) That is, Beulah Baptist Church was remodeled as such by Jim Henderson and "turned around" the interior of the Church. Thus, the main entrances were now positioned at the rear of the congregation. Jim and Nancy Henderson are buried in the Beulah Church Cemetery

Further, Jim was a champion fiddler, played far and wide, and most of his children (if not all) were also accomplished musicians and could sing as well. Jim and his children were educated in the Greene County Public Schools and his/their grandchildren (and further offspring) are educated, professional people, successful businessmen, in local politics and fine Christian persons. Uncle Jim as a Justice of the Peace, had a set of Alabama Law Books in his home which were in some disarray as Jim Roebuck has advised of, obviously read and used by Jim Henderson in support and furtherance of his legal responsibilities as a J.P. Most of this info was prepared and provided this compiler by Jim Henderson's grandson, Mr. Jim Roebuck.

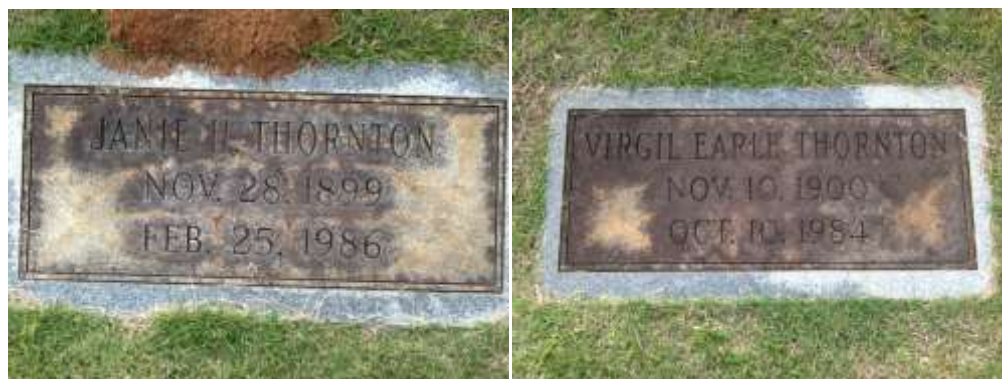

Accomplishments: professional, as musicians and writers, religious and otherwise, of the Jim and Nancy Henderson family, their progeny is numerous. Wilson was a building contractor with many of his brothers and brothers-in-law as employees, he was a self-taught civil engineer and laid out most of the early roads in Greene County and Austin built the roads. Further, Austin was noted for building bridges. J.E. was a concrete contractor and built many bridges. Nelson was a contractor of importance building many schools, armories, and professional buildings. Charlie was the Postmaster of Eutaw "forever" and Clara's husband Wrennie was a farmer all his life who never gave up farming and Jim Roebuck remembers at least 60 hogs on that farm at one time!

There are/were accountants, businessmen, at least one nurse and attorneys. Floyd was President of the Georgia

Descendants of James Edmund Henderson and Nancy Jane Lamb

Baptist Convention for two terms and Vice-President of the Southern Baptist Convention one term. Melvin was Dean of an Iowa College. Jim was different (of course!) as a Communications Engineer retired from BellSouth. Carl was a Tuscaloosa County Commissioner elected for a four year term and appointed to the balance of a second term when same became vacant, by Gov. Fob James. Reginald is now retired and living back at the old home-place of his parents (Charlie and Sue Henderson) and Reginald was a Eutaw City Councilman, an E.M.S. person, and Commander of the Eutaw/Greene County National Guard Armory. Wilson and Ucal ("Aunt Trixie") were both proficient at writing poetry and some of their poems were read at the One-Hundred Year Jim & Nancy Henderson Family Reunion! Charlie was the most musically talented of the sons. Wilson, Robert Lee, J.E. and Carl were all excellent musicians while Austin and Clifford mostly "blew the jug."

Per Mr James Roebuck of Tuscaloosa, AL (in 2017), J.E. Henderson thought his name was "James Edmund Henderson Jr" for 65 years. When he filed for social security at age 65, he applied for a birth certificate and learned that the U S Government thought his name was "James Everett Henderson". As a result, he had his name legally changed to "James Edmund Henderson" to match his legal records (e.g., social security).

Descendants of James Edmund Henderson and Nancy Jane Lamb
