P.S. Also enclosed is a 5 gen. pedigree chart on my HENRY family.

As you note, JAMES HENRY, d. 1845, but all his sons ~~in~~ living in 1880 stated that JAMES was born in Ireland. The censuses place his birth between (1780-1790)--I picked 1790 as that seemed more correct; however, it would be incorrect. JANE ANN WRIGHT was 2nd wife to JAMES HENRY. His 1st wife with infants were burried in a different cemetery.

I have a LWT for WILLIAM HENRY d. 1795 in Newberry Co., S.C., and he names his "beloved ~~son~~ son, GEORGE." No one else--no mention of anyone else. However, I have a LWT for ~~xxx~~ NANCY later, and she names her "beloved son GEORGE." and some grand-daughters--one a Lyles.

Then I have a LWT for a JOHN HENRY stating that if he had any portion of his father "s estate, etc.etc.--naming brother GEORGE and some sisters; so from all of this I know that old WILLIAM had more children than just GEORGE.

GEORGE HENRY is very elusive. He appears only once in the 1810 census<sup>in S.C.</sup> and that is all. In 1809 a GEORGE HENRY m. a RAINEY in N.C.; so I wondered if this was the same GEORGE, and if he was father to my JAMES, as JAMES named a son GEORGE RAINEY HENRY.

I visited Newberry Co. and found the cemetery where JAMES HENRY was buried and some of his children--including the eldest son of GEORGE RAINEY HENRY and MARTHA BELL HENRY. According to tradition HUGH HENRY had an elder relative in New berry County when he came to America. I was wondering if it wasn't WILLIAM?

Anyway, any help on ~~any~~ <sup>this</sup> of these on ~~is~~ chart will be appreciated.

Thank you so much for all past help, the marriages performed by EPHRAIM FANT, etc.
