Jackson to study at African university

6-13-96

On Tuesday, May 21, LaCrystal Jackson traveled to Ghana, West Africa. There she will study at the University of Cape Coast.

The six week program is designed to immerse students in modern and traditional Ghanaian life. The program will include a performing arts class, and excursions into other regions of Ghana and neighboring Cote d'Ivoire. In addition, the rich cultural heritage of Ghana's major ethnic groups will be studied. LaCrystal will volunteer at the local secondary school or one of the social agencies in the metropolitan area.
