PROLOGUE

Some brief explanations are in order, so that the reader may fully understand the objectives and the limitation of this genealogical paper on the Jennings family.

This paper is an attempt to compile a list of four generations of the descendants of John Jennings (ca.1740/45-ca.1819). This John Jennings has been identified as the patriarch of most of the Jennings lines that originated in the old Edgefield District of South Carolina, particularly those that settled initially along the Little Saluda River in what is present day Saluda Co., South Carolina.

Not much is known about John Jennings and all efforts to trace his ancestry and thus extend the line have so far failed. The Jennings surname abounded in the South at the time, and the given name John appears to have been highly popular with all of the various branches of the Jennings family. As such, it has been an extremely difficult task, trying to separate and identify the John Jennings in question, from all others of like name. Perhaps his real origins will never be known.

During the course of searching for the elusive John Jennings and our related Jennings ancestors, the compilers ran across many "cousins" also involved in the search. Thus began the inevitable process of exchanging information on our immediate lines. It soon became apparent that this shared information needed to be collected, sorted, and tabulated into some sort of a comprehensive list that all interested family members could use. It was from these needs that this paper was conceived.

The reader should note, however, that no attempt has been made to carry the list down to the present generation. As originally conceived, this paper was to identify only four generations of the descendants of John Jennings. Generally, four generations will take each line into the 20th Century, and it was felt that any serious researcher should be able to identify their line from that point. The information for the last compiled generation has been abbreviated. Only the descendant's name and year of birth, death, and marriage, together with the name of the spouse, and the spouse's year of birth and death, has been provided. Exact dates and the place that these events occurred, have not been included.

This paper contains seven sections, each section dealing with one of the seven known children of John Jennings and their descendants. The numbering system being utilized simply assigns John Jennings the number 1, and each successive generation retains the antecedents' number and adds their own number in the order of their birth within the family group. Thus, William Jennings being the fourth child of #1 John Jennings retains John's number 1, and adds his birth order number 4, to become #14 William Jennings. William Jennings' son Tyre Jennings was the first child born in that family and thus becomes #141 Tyre Jennings, etc.

Many hours of primary research have been conducted, and many individuals have shared their private records on the Jennings family. And while John Jennings still remains elusive, the generations that succeeded him have grudgingly yielded themselves to the compilers. We thank all of you who have assisted and contributed to this endeavor. Without your generosity and cooperation this paper would not have become a reality.

The compilers acknowledge that there will undoubtedly be both errors of commission and omission in this paper. Be assured that they are not intentional, and we solicit help in correcting them.

1 (M) JOHN JENNINGS (ca.1740/45 - ca.1819)

b. "unknown"; d. probably So. Car.

m. ca.1760/65, place "unknown"

"UNKNOWN" (-) The only positive reference to the wife of #1 John Jennings that the compilers presently have, is an 1804 deed which names his wife as MARY (ref: Fairfield Co., S.C. Deed Book "Q", pg. 81). The compilers recognize that #1 John Jennings may have been married more than once, and therefore MARY may or may not have been the mother of the children listed below.

Known Children:

1. (M) James Jennings (1765/70-1830/40) m/1 ca.1791 Mary Grubbs (-before 1810)
m/2 possibly a second wife - name "Unknown"

line continued - SECTIONS 1 - 7

John Jennings (ca.1740/45 - ca.1819) first appeared in South Carolina records in 1785, when he bought land on McClure's Creek of Beaver Creek of Broad River in Fairfield Co., S. C. At that time he was living in Chester Co., S. C. He appeared in the S. C. 1790 census living in Camden Dist., Fairfield Co., S. C. and in the 1800 S. C. census living in Fairfield Dist., S. C. In 1804, he and wife Mary were living in Edgefield Dist., S. C. according to Fairfield Co. land records.

John Jennings died before 15 April 1820, for on that day William Jennings sold land on Dailey's Creek, a branch of Little Saluda River, to his brother Jesse Jennings. This land had belonged to William and Jesse Jennings' father, John Jennings, dec'd, and had been bought by William at his father's estate sale. In this deed, John Jennings was referred to as John Jennings, Sr. On 2 February 1828, Jesse and James Jennings, Exors. of the estate of John Jennings, dec'd, conveyed 52A. of land on the north side of Beaver Dam Creek to William Jennings. Executors would suggest that John Jennings, Sr., died testate, but to date no will has been found.

John Jennings, Sr. had seven known children who are identified in the Philip Jennings estate file. (Apt.60, Pkg. 2475, Edgefield Co., S. C.) Philip Jennings died in Edgefield Dist., S. C., 30 May 1848. Since Philip Jennings died intestate and without issue, his estate was divided between his widow Lucy Jennings, who died shortly thereafter, leaving children by a previous marriage; a brother Jesse Jennings; children of his predeceased brothers James Jennings, John Jennings and William Jennings; children of his predeceased sister Mary Partin, wife of Hubbard Partin; and children of his predeceased sister Lucy Howell by her first husband Benjamin Partin, dec'd.

John Jennings, Sr. may have had other children but no record of them has been found. If they existed, they either died young or died prior to 1848 without issue.

There has been some confusion over whether it was James or John Jennings who married Mary Grubbs, daughter of Enoch Grubbs. The compilers are convinced that it was James Jennings who was Mary Grubbs' husband, even though no record stating the given name has as yet been found.

In 1839, Thomas Jennings appealed to the Equity Court of Fairfield Dist., S. C. (Equity Bill No. 6) on behalf of himself and his brothers and sister, Elizabeth Jennings, William Jennings, Enoch Jennings, John Jennings and James Jennings, grandchildren of Enoch Grubbs, being the children of Enoch's daughter Mary, who had intermarried with () Jennings and who had died during the lifetime of said Enoch. These children correspond very well both in name and age with the children of James Jennings as listed in the Philip Jennings estate file in Edgefield Co., S. C.. (Apt. 60, Pkg. 2475)

James Jennings and John Hedgpath (a son-in-law of Enoch Grubbs) witnessed a deed of William Grubbs to his father, Enoch Grubbs, Sr., 11 July 1807. (Fairfield Co., S. C. Deed Book "R", pg. 33)

Census records for James Jennings in Chester Dist., S. C. in 1800 and Edgefield Dist., S. C., 1810 through 1830, show the above children correspond well with the children living in James Jennings' household.

The name Partin is most often spelled PARTIN, PARTON, or PARTAIN. In this paper, the compilers have chosen to spell the name PARTIN.

Birthdates and order of birth for the children of Lucy Jennings and Benjamin Partin is uncertain. At present, not much is known about these children other than their names and the names of all but one of their spouses. Much of the information on these Partin descendants came from the 1850 census, and may contain errors. Any additional information about this family would be welcome.

John Jennings' will written 15 Jan 1839 in Anderson Dist., S. C. and proved 4 Mar 1839 left his estate to his wife Jane Jennings and "all my children". The Exors. were Roberson Smith and Joel H. Berry. In 1840 the legatees were William Jennings, residing in Anderson Dist., S. C.; Benjamin F. Partin and wife Sarah, residing in Walker Co., Ga.; James D. Watt and wife Mary, residing in Anderson Dist., S. C.; Benjamin Etheredge and wife Elizabeth, residing in Edgefield Dist., S. C.; Hiram Jennings, residing in Walker Co., Ga.; Asa Jennings, residing in Habersham Co., Ga.; Benjamin Partin and wife Ellender, residing in Harris Co., Ga.; Spear Partin and wife Holly, residing in Harris Co., Ga.; and the heirs of Jesse Jennings, a deceased son of John Jennings, namely: James Jennings, Rhoda J. Jennings, Enoch T. Jennings, Asa M. Jennings and Sarah E. Jennings (ref: Anderson Co., S. C. Estates, Box 10, Pkg. 3).

It is not known whether Jane (.....) Jennings was the mother of the above children, but she has been treated as such until more information appears. She apparently left Anderson Dist., S. C. before 1850, as she was not in the 1850 So. Car. census. In 1851 she transferred her membership from Zebulon Baptist Church in Georgia (possibly Zebulon Baptist Church in Habersham Co., Ga., now Stephens Co., Ga.) to Red Bank Baptist Church in Edgefield Dist., S. C. (now Saluda Co., S. C.), probably to live with her daughter Elizabeth (Jennings) Etheredge. Church records state she died in May 1854.

The list of children above, who are shown as being the issue of #14 William Jennings, has been constructed from those public and private records which have been presently located. The reader will, therefore, note that the compilers have identified and recorded a total of sixteen children as being the issue of #14 William Jennings and his two wives. Ten of these children are shown as issue from the first marriage to Nancy Dove, and six are shown as issue from the second marriage to Eleanor (Etheredge) Richardson.

According to family information left by #14-11-1 William Buchanan Jennings, and currently in the possession of Margaret Scott of Miami, Fla., #14 William Jennings was the father of fourteen children by his first wife Nancy Dove, and nine children by his second wife Eleanor (Etheredge) Richardson, for a grand total of twenty-three children. Unfortunately, this family information does not record all of the names of these children, although it does indicate that some of them died young.

If family information is correct, this truly remarkable record of twenty-three children by two wives, leaves a total of seven children unidentified and unaccounted for. If they existed, the compilers must assume that these seven unidentified children did indeed die young.

The reader should also be aware that the widow Eleanor (Etheredge) Richardson brought to her marriage with #14 William Jennings, three known children from her previous marriage. These children have been identified as a son Emmanuel Richardson, and daughters Clarasy and Isabella Richardson. Whether these three step-children of #14 William Jennings were included in his grand total of twenty-three children, is unknown.

Family information left by #1495 Elizabeth (Jennings) Nash, a granddaughter of William Jennings, lists William Jennings' children by his first wife, Nancy Dove, as Tyre, John, Hastings, Elizabeth, Mary, Lucy, Martha and Sookie; by his second wife, Ellen Etheridge, William, Lot, Phil, Rachel, Fannie and Ellen. This list was compiled from memory in later years and may only include those children who lived to maturity.

The relationship of James B. Lee to William Jennings is uncertain. Edgefield Co., S. C. Deed Book "CCC", pg. 78, states that William Jennings on 20 May 1842 gave a negro boy to his "son" James B. Lee. The compilers have thought the relationship may have been intended to read "son-in-law". Family information now indicates this assumption may not be correct, but the actual relationship is still unclear.

Children of 144 Nancy Jennings and Bailey Crouch, Jr.

Much of the existing evidence points to the fact that Nancy (Jennings) Crouch was a daughter of William Jennings and Nancy Dove. Reference is made to Edgefield Co., S. C. Deed Book "CCC", pg. 78, in which it is recorded that William Jennings, on 20 May 1842, gave a negro girl to his "daughter" Nancy Crouch, among others. This statement of relationship is very specific and hard to refute.

The compilers express concern, however, that Nancy (Jennings) Crouch is nowhere mentioned in the estate settlement of her presumed father, William Jennings, nor is she mentioned in the estate settlement of her supposed uncle, Philip Jennings, in 1848. (This latter settlement lists the living children of William Jennings.) The 1850 census would indicate that Nancy (Jennings) Crouch was not only alive at the time, but living in the area as well.

Until such time as additional evidence presents itself, the compilers remain unwilling to state positively that Nancy (Jennings) Crouch was a daughter of William Jennings and Nancy Dove, although she has been listed as such for the present.

No further information

The name of #149 Hasting Jennings has been variously spelled as Hastan, Hasten, Hastin, and Hasting Jennings in So. Car. deeds and So. Car. and Georgia census records. An old family Bible record states Hastin Jennings was born January 29, 1814.

However, a son of Sarah D. (Jennings) Healan, #14917 Ralph H. Healan, was given the middle name Hastings. Elizabeth N. (Jennings) Nash, in a brief family history, referred to her father as Hastings Jennings, and a grandson, son of #14954 Tyre J. Nash, was named William Hastings Nash.

The compilers have chosen to use "Hasting" when referring to #149 Hasting Jennings.

Philip Jennings' estate file (Apt. 60, Pkg. 2475, Edgefield Co., S. C.) proved to be a big help in identifying the children of John Jennings (ca.1740/45-ca.1819). Because Philip died intestate and without issue, his estate was divided between his widow Lucy Jennings, a brother Jesse Jennings and the living children of three predeceased brothers and two predeceased sisters. Since Lucy Jennings died soon after Philip, her share was divided between the children of her marriage to Daniel Coleman, or if deceased, to their children. John Coleman, Anna, wife of John Deshazier, Thornton Coleman and three children of a deceased daughter Barthemey Chapman, namely, John Chapman, Mary Chapman and Caroline, wife of Vines Harrel, collected half of Philip Jennings' estate. The other half was divided among Philip's brother Jesse and the living children of five predeceased brothers and sisters. Each of Philip's siblings were allotted 1/12 of his estate and the amount an individual child received, depended upon how many children in each family were still living. William Jennings' family represented twelve children, so each child received 1/144.

Although the amount each distributee received was small, the names of brothers and sisters and nieces and nephews who were mentioned in Philip Jennings' estate file were invaluable in helping to identify John Jennings' descendants.

Philip Jennings' date of birth is uncertain. From census records 1790 through 1840, it appears Philip was born 1775/80. A death notice in The Edgefield Advertiser states Philip Jennings died 30 May 1848 in his 66th year.
