The list of children above, who are shown as being the issue of #14 William Jennings, has been constructed bit by bit from those public and private records which have been presently located. The compilers have yet to find a full and comprehensive list of the children of #14 William Jennings, and seriously doubt that any such list is in existence.

The reader will, therefore, note that the compilers have identified and recorded a total of sixteen (16) children as being the issue of #14 William Jennings and his two wives. Ten (10) of these children are shown as issue from the first marriage to Nancy Dove, and six (6) are shown as issue from the second marriage to Eleanor (Etheredge) Richardson.

According to family information left by #14-11 William Buchanan Jennings, and currently in the possession of Margaret Scott of Miami, Fla., #14 William Jennings was the father of fourteen (14) children by his first wife Nancy Dove, and nine (9) children by his second wife Eleanor (Etheredge) Richardson, for a grand total of twenty-three (23) children. Unfortunately, this family information does not record all of the names of these children, although it does indicate that some of them died young.

If family information is correct, this truly remarkable record of twenty-three (23) children by two wives, leaves a total of seven (7) children unidentified and unaccounted for. If they existed, the compilers must assume that these seven (7) unidentified children did indeed die young. As such, it is probable that they will never be identified by name, and we must, therefore, satisfy ourselves with the list as it now stands.

The reader should also be aware that the widow Eleanor (Etheredge) Richardson brought to her marriage with #14 William Jennings, three (3) known children from her previous marriage. These children have been identified as a son Emmanuel Richardson, and daughters Clarasy and Isabella Richardson. Whether these three (3) step-children of #14 William Jennings were included in his grand total of twenty-three (23) children, is unknown.

Children of 14 William Jennings and 1st wife, Nancy Dove.
