

Macon

In the William & Mary College Quarterly for October, 1929, on page 339, appears a sketch of the Macon Family of Cumberland and Powhatan Counties. To this may be added the following items.

2. William Macon had, besides the children named, a daughter:

Anne Macon, married in 1813, Dr. George W. Crump, and had, with perhaps others, a son, George T. Crump.

3. John Macon married Martha Todd, as stated. They had two daughters:

a. Katy Todd Macon, who was the principal heir of her step-grandmother, Mrs. Frances Netherland Macon. She married, after 1788, Thomas Miller.

b. Martha Todd Macon, married after 1788, John Miller.

To these two daughters their father deeded, in November, 1788, the slaves that he had received with their mother.

3. John Macon married again in October, 1787, and by his second wife had the following-named children:

c. Margaret Macon, married John Burton.

d. Elizabeth Macon, married Joel Yancey.

e. Robert C. Macon.

f. (posthumous) Anne Macon, married before 1818, Daniel A. Wilson.

The widow of 3. John Macon, married before 1812, Archibald Freeman.

(Rev.) B. L. Ancell,
20 Minghong Road,
Shanghai, China.

Moffett

In Volume V. of the William and Mary Quarterly, page 179, the author of an article on the family of Josiah Moffett of Loudoun Co. states that "David Moffett who died in 1812 or early in 1813 was either the father or brother of Josiah Moffett (Jr.?)."

An examination of the Personal Property Tax List of Loudoun Co. for the year 1801 makes it clear that both David and Robert Moffett were sons of Josiah Moffett, Sr.

"Josiah Moffett senr. & sons David & Robert."

In 1802 we find "Josiah Moffett, Jr., Josiah Moffett, Sr., and son David."

In 1797—Josiah Moffett, Sr., and sons David and Thos. Moffett, and John Macan.

It is certain, then, that Josiah Moffett, Sr., had at least four sons—Josiah, Jr., Thomas, Robert and David.

In 1791 Josiah Moffett and Joseph Moffett are listed together, and the name of Joseph appears again on the tax lists of 1794. Whether this Joseph was another son of Josiah Moffett, Sr., I am unable to determine.

A Benjamin Moffett appears in the tax list of 1813, along with Robert and Josiah.

Another family of Moffetts of much smaller means appears on the early tax lists. Henry Moffett is on the 1813 list, and in 1792 he is shown to have a tithable John Moffett, presumably his son. In 1791 the name Charles Moffett (one horse) appears. In 1799, John Moffett.

tha Jordan; Ann
ucker. Sons: Y.
s not name her.
itnessed by John

ame of his wife,

ms Chapman,
hfield, Virginia.

h wherein he has

a marriage bond
ecorded in Amelia
arterly, volume 11,
ise to Col. John
e), Va., June 11
eyond question,
("Patsy") Bland
second marriages,
otes to the Bland
ems to have been
his seems all the
and Mary Bland

nd his wife, Anne
of age when her
er mother married
er, certainly later)
unford, then living
ottoway), had two
eal that her home,
m, thus accounting
t so easily for her
it be assumed that
nce in that county—

ick Bland Munford
s grandparents, the
in the 1750's), and
Banister, of Batter-
How came he there
is also to be borne
s the wife of James

ore the existence of
hey make him the
hat the latter died
een the botanist's
ce was declared—an

en McCorkle,
4 8th St., N.W.,
Washington, D. C.