Remarks:

The 6th Regiment South Carolina Infantry entered the State service on April 11, 1861, for twelve months and was mustered into the Confederate States service during June and July, 1861. Subsequently it was broken up and a number of men re-enlisted in the Palmetto Regiment South Carolina Sharpshooters, the 8th Regiment South Carolina Infantry, the 13th Regiment South Carolina Infantry and the 17th Regiment South Carolina Infantry. In February, 1862, the remainder re-enlisted for two years or the war and were re-organized into six companies which were joined on March 21, 1862, by a company of re-enlisted men from the 6th Regiment South Carolina Infantry. These seven companies formed the 1st South Carolina Battalion of Re-enlisted Volunteers, which was increased to a regiment April 23, 1862, by the addition of three more companies of re-enlisted men from the 6th Regiment South Carolina Infantry and designated the 6th Regiment South Carolina Infantry. A number of re-enlisted men from the old 6th Regiment South Carolina Infantry and a few recruits were also assigned to the various companies.
