We're sorry - one member claimed the picture of Miss Anne Hamilton offered in the June Bulletin. We've misplaced your name and address so please try again.

October Meeting

A Treasure - Hopewell's Cemetery Inscriptions

Hopewell Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church's well kept rock wall cemetery with readable stones dating back to 1790 contains the remains of many of Chester County's early settlers who established homes along Rocky Creek.

A great store of genealogical information is engraved in the stones standing there which have never before been published. The members of Hopewell have painstakingly copied the inscriptions from each marker and provided a map showing the approximate location of each grave. In addition, Mrs. J. Watt Weir has provided a history of the cemetery and Miss Jimmie Mills a brief history of the church and a list of its elders from 1787 to date.

The Chester County Genealogical Society is honored to have been selected by the Session of Hopewell to bring this useful and informative book to publication and distribution. It is offered at $10 per copy postage paid.

Another Treasure - Old Catholic's Minutes

There has been much information published over the years relating to Old Catholic Presbyterian Church - and well there should have been - for this is where many of our long ago ancestors worshipped and began their new life in America.

But the Minutes of Catholic for security reasons have been and continue to be kept in a bank vault and have never been published.

So far as is known the Minutes of Catholic prior to 1840 were not preserved or have become lost. The Minutes from 1840 to date have been carefully protected and the Chester County Genealogical Society is honored to be privileged by the Session to reproduce the Minutes from 1840 thru 1884. The greatest growth of Catholic occurred during this period when is membership at times exceeded 300 communicants. Likewise, the latter part of this period the issue of slavery and the hope for greater economic opportunities caused many of Catholics members to migrate westward.

In addition to the minutes of this period included is a register of communicants, register of baptisms white and colored, and a register of deacons and elders with the minute portion of this book indexed in alphabetical form.

We are pleased to be able to offer this "treasure" of genealogical information and history for $11.00 per book postage paid.

- HELP IN YORK COUNTY S.C. -

In a quiet grove of tall oaks and hickorys about 6 miles east of Clover in York County stands Bethel Presbyterian Church. It was organized in 1764 by Rev. Wm. Richardson "of the Waxhaws". The membership was large for the congregation covered an area of about 20 miles square.

In 1840 Rev. Samuel Watson, a son of Bethel, accepted a call to Bethel where he served for 29 years. He reported he received 803 members into the church and baptized 1,045. At one time the membership was close to 500 but by 1879 had reduced to 345 primarily because the negro members began to leave Bethel after the war to form their own churches.

Bethel Church, one of the ancient landmarks of upper South Carolina is still active. Beside it stands its stately cemetery with more than 1500 well marked and cared for graves within its bounds.

In November 1981 Messrs. J. T. Caldwell and J. E. Hart, Jr. of York copied the inscriptions on these stones and made them available to the Westmoreland Printing Co. from whom we have secured a supply and hereby offer them to our members and friends for $8 per book postage paid. If you have ancestors in York County these inscriptions could very well be a great help to you.

ROB'T HARPER - REV. SOLDIER 1742-1801

In the June Bulletin we reported Mrs. Troy Harper Reynolds 2025 Brent-wood Dr. Houston TX 77019 had presented to our library "Descendants of Wm.,

Robt., Daniel, and Thomas Harper of S. C., Ala., Ark. and Texas.

Mrs. Reynolds has also sent a copy of her book "Robt Harper, Rev. Soldier of Catholic Pres. Church 1742-1801". The index contains close to 400 names of family and non family names which could be of great value to others in obtaining documentary proof their ancestors were in this area during these years. We are most grateful to Mrs. Harper for these additions to our library.

THOMAS WOODWARD, CHAMPION OF JUSTICE

By Mary D. Boulware

Thomas Woodward, father of the Regulator was born and reared near Annapolis, Maryland. He was married in Maryland and he and his first wife had several children. After her death he went to Fairfax County, Virginia where he married Elizabeth Simpson. They had one son, Thomas Woodward, the Regulator. After the death of Thomas Woodward, Sr. his widow married William Robertson and had three sons, William, John, and Henry, and several daughters.

Thomas, the Regulator, married at an early age, Jemima Collins and had two sons, John and William, and four daughters. He was a soldier, serving as Captain in the French Wars. His wife died while he was in service. Sometime prior to 1760 he came to South Carolina, met and married the Widow May. Of this union there were six children, three sons and three daughters. After this marriage he brought his mother and three step-brothers, William, John, and Henry Robertson to South Carolina. (William was the father of Benoni Robertson of Fairfield Co.)

At this time Fairfield has been described as being fertile, with very little undergrowth. Wild peas grew in abundance, affording natural pasturage. The settlers engaged chiefly in stock raising.

When the Cherokee Indian War ended and peace was restored to the Back Country of S. C., there was an influx of settlers coming down from Pennsylvania, western Virginia, and North Carolina. With this wave of immigration also came an undesirable element, composed of horse thieves, Indian traders, drunkards, and immoral men. These outlaws banded together, maintained contact with their own kind in other colonies, and congregated into communities, terrorizing the scattered settlers, and becoming a scourge to the Back Country. They dwelled in their own settlements with their women and children. Often times young girls of respected families were abducted. In the summer of 1767 a wave of crime swept the back country.

The following was carried in the GAZETTE of July 27, 1767 - "The gang of villians from Virginia and North Carolina who have for some years past in small parties under particular leaders, infested the back parts of the Southern provinces, stealing horses from one and selling them to the next, not withstanding the late public example made of several of them, we hear are more formidable then ever as to numbers, and more audacious and cruel in their outrages. Tis reported that they consist of more than 200, for a chain of communication with each other, and have places of general meeting, where in imitation of councils of war, they form plans of operation and defense, and alluding to their sevrecy and fidelity to each other, call their places, "free mason lodges." Instances of their cruelty to the people in the back settlements where they rob or otherwise abuse, are so numerous and shocking that a narrative of them would fill a whole gazette, and every reader with horror. They at present range in the forks between the Broad, Saludy, and Savannah Rivers. Two of the gang were hanged last week at Savannah, viz, Lundy Hart and Obadiah Greenage. Two others, James Ferguson and James Hambersam were killed when these were taken."

Travel from the back country to Charleston was difficult. A trip from Fairfield County on the rough roads and trails required a week's ride on horseback, or from two to three weeks by wagon. Thus the time and trouble involved in making a trip from the interior to the capitol left the back country virtually without courts or law enforcement. County Courts were non existant. Justices of the peace had only slight judicial power, criminal trials were held in Charleston.

Out of desparation, respected, law abiding men of the back country organized a Regulation. Small planters and leading men alike joined the movement to rid the country of the lawless. Between the Broad and Catawba Rivers the Regulators were activated by Thomas Woodward, Barnaby Pope, and Edward McGraw.

Thomas Woodward was a large man, of commanding presence, was very active, and possessed great physical strength, as verified by an incident related by his grandson, Hon. Joseph A. Woodward. Captain Woodward together with a part of his company were in pursuit of a band of Tories, who took refuge in a stoutly built log cabin on Little River. This presented a problem as to how to dislodge them. The Captain after consulting with his men as to the best plan of attack, ordered them to be ready. He rushed for the door, and with one powerful kick, broke it from its hinges, sending it into the middle of the floor. Shots were fired from outside and within. The affray ended with the surrender of the Tories.

Tradition says it was here that the old Regulator received his only wound prior to his death. His weapon was a rifle with the barrel sawed off so that it could be wielded with one hand. As he charged the door, he was holding it in front of his chest, a bullet fired from inside split on the barrel sending bits of lead into his chest.

Another demonstration of his daring courage and physical stamina - Thomas Woodward led five Regulator-Rangers on a grueling, fast paced scout, beginning in late December. He and his men reached Bethabara, North Carolina on Jan. 17, 1768. There they aided in the seige of the outlaws in the Hollow, crossed the border into Virginia, proceeded to Augusta County and took custody of four Negroes stolen in S. C. On Feb. 29, after riding hundreds of miles the Woodward party arrived in Charleston with the Negroes and two horse thieves.

Thomas Woodward's first house built in Fairfield County was at a place called the Muster Field Spring, the remains of which could still be seen in 1866. There was a racetrack near the old homesite. Major Benoni Robertson and Billy Simpson were the race riders.

Captain Woodward moved out on the public road near Anvil Rock. Here he constructed a frame house, which presented an imposing appearance in the days of the log cabin. People came from miles around to view it. It withstood the passage of Cornwallis and his troops through the county, but was laid waste by Sherman's torch.

He is said to have been the first subscriber to a newspaper in the District. Upon its arrival his neighbors would gather to hear the news read.

At the start of the Revolution, as he had done with the Regulators, he rallied the patriots of the Little River-Cedar Creek area, and was their leader. He and his men took part in the "Snow Campaign" against the Tories in 1775. He was elected to the 1st Provincial Congress of 1775.

Nearing the age of 60, he resigned his commission in January 1776, but later that year led volunteers against Indians and Tories. He was "a terror to evil-doers and the dry bones of Tories shook at the very name of Woodward." During the war he served as a justice of the peace.

On his final campaign, he had gathered together some men of his company who were at home, and was in hot pursuit of a band of Tories. In the Tory party were some he was very anxious to catch. He ordered his men not to fire, but to strive to capture the entire party that they were following very closely. The old Captain rode at the head of his company, and had crossed Little Dutchman's Creek when a Tory turned in his saddle and fired. The bullet struck Thomas Woodward in the chest, and he fell from his horse, dead. He died as he had lived - a champion of justice.

At his death, his step-son, Benjamin May, took command of his old company. His sons, John and William, served their country in the Revolution.

The body of the gallant old Regulator rests in the Woodward family cemetery, near the Anvil Rock. His headstone is inscribed, "Thomas Woodward, the Regulator, killed by Tories, May 12, 1779."

We would like to thank Mr. William F. Roberts, Route 4, 104 Hedgewood Terr., Greer, South Carolina 29651 for sharing the following article on the Roberts with us.

Genealogy is much like a disease, the main symptom being an intense, close to insatiable curiosity about your ancestors. How did they live? Why did they settle here? Where did they come from? What did they believe? My curiosity began after the death of my grandmother, Martha Clark Roberts (1892-1976). Who were the Roberts' of Chester and Fairfield Counties?

My father Talton Clark Roberts (1922-1964) had taken me to visit our Chester relatives, who we called Uncle Elbert (John Elbert Roberts, Sr.) and Aunt Jessie (Jessie Wages Roberts). Actually they were the brother and sister-in-law of my grandfather, James Wade Roberts (1890-1958). I remember as a small boy from the city of Greenville, South Carolina being amazed at the huge old unpainted house, with lights that hung from the ceiling by a cord; the animals; the watermelons; the wood cook stove; the outhouse; Uncle Elbert's chewing tobacco; his catfish stew; Aunt Jessie's cheerful greeting when we drove up; the pears that never seemed to get soft enough to eat; and the people, lots of people - it was a big family. I remember, too, when Aunt Jessie and Uncle Elbert moved into a new house, near the 'old home place'. This house had lights, an electric stove and plumbing, just like my house in the city. And I remember one very sad trip made by my father and me when my best Chester friend, Uncle Elbert's and Aunt Jessie's son Troy Wages Roberts, was killed in an automobile accident.

Troy had been a few years older than me, but I had liked him. More than that; I had respected and trusted him. I was young and naive, while Troy had been bold and he had known lots more than city boys.

When we would visit, there was always a time set aside to catch us up on family happenings. This bored the boy in me and I tried to find something more exciting to do, which was usually easy. Now, I wish I could remember some of those conversations.

When I started looking into Roberts' history, I discovered that I was blessed, or cursed, with having two great-great grandfathers with the Roberts surname. I also quickly learned that my Roberts ancestors left very little in the county and state records to mark their passing through this life and the memories of them were diminished in their descendents.

The manuscript that follows is an outline of the little that I know about my two great-great grandfathers, William Roberts and Elbert Roberts. It is incomplete and I'm sure it has errors. I hope, however, that it will be read by those who are interested and that maybe we can piece together a complete history of them. Not to glorify them or to increase our present status, but because we want to know.

William Roberts

William Roberts was probably born around 1827 and he probably died in 1858 or 1859. He married on 4 March 1844 a girl named Jane Halsell. Jane was born on 16 November 1819, she was the daughter of Peter and Sarah Combest Halsell. (This is the family for whom the community of Halsellville is named.)

William and Jane had six children. Leroy, born 17 December 1844; Sobaski Combest, born 3 February 1847; Peter Albert, born 26 February 1849; Abigail, born 1 July 1853; Elizabeth, born 3 January 1856; Wade Oscar, born 19 May 1858.

These births were recorded in the Halsell family Bible, which is now lost, but which was kept by Miss Maggie Harris, who passed this information to relatives, in her own handwritting, prior to her death.

William and Jane struggled to raise their children. William was a farmer but he never owned land in Chester county. Jane, like most women of that time, was uneducated. Jane did inherit 1/17th share in the estate of her Aunt Mary Halsell in 1859, however, this was probably after William's death and the inheritance was not enough to help her greatly. On the 1860 census, she lists herself as a farmer, with $100 in personal property. By 1870 only Abigail and Elizabeth were listed at home with her.

As an indication of the struggle this couple had, in 1846 William was arrested for trading a pair of shoes for a bushel of corn from a slave of Mr. Francis Land. William's grandfather-in-law, John Halsell, who was a shoe maker by trade, posted bond for him. William was found guilty and fined $92.15 for his offense.

Both William and Jane may have been buried at Bethlehem Baptist Church near Blackstock in Chester county, South Carolina, but if they are there, there are no remaining markers for them.

My problem is finding the parents and brothers and sisters for William Roberts. On the 1850 census he stated that he was born in South Carolina. He may have been born in Chester or Fairfield counties, but I doubt it. There is a possibility that he was born in Edgefield county, but this is only a hypothesis. Jane Halsell Roberts' uncle was Thomas Halsell. Thomas had moved to Edgefield county and it is possible that Jane Halsell met

William Roberts while visiting her Uncle or that William moved to Chester county on the recommendation of Thomas Halsell.

William and Jane Halsell Roberts' son Wade Oscar was my great grand-father. He would marry Catherine Sara Roberts the daughter of Elbert and Mary Ann Long Roberts.

Elbert Roberts

Elbert Roberts, my great-great grandfather, was born in 1827; he died on 7 April 1914. He was married to Mary Ann Long (born 4 March 1834). They are buried at the New Hope Methodist Church in the Armenia Community of Chester county, South Carolina.

Elbert and Mary Ann had the following children: John, born ?; Jane, born ?; Catherine Sara, born 15 February 1858; Obediah, born 11 June 1860; Francis, born 1 October 1865; Margaret, born 1869; Laura, born 1870; Winifred Louise, born 13 May 1871; Robert W., born 9 March 1876.

There is a possibility that Elbert was married prior to his marriage to Mary Ann Long. The 1880 census list a granddaughter named Addie aged 12 years old. This child may be a daughter of a child from Elbert's first marriage.

Elbert was literate and that gave him an advantage. He chose farming as his occupation, and like all farmers his fortunes rose and fell based on the weather and insects and the fickle marketing systems that are a part of farming. He did have some land, but by the time of his death he had sold most of it or lost it when it was collateralized for a crop loan. In his later years he lived in a house built for him and Mary Ann by their son Robert. He was well liked and refered to by the nickname of "birdie" because he could make bird sounds.

Elbert had at least one brother named Moses. Moses, too, was a Chester county farmer; however, he did move for a time to the state of Georgia. Nothing else is known of Elbert's family. It has been reported, but not confirmed, that his mother's maiden name was Estes.

Elbert and Mary Ann Roberts' daughter Catherine Sara Roberts was my great grandmother.

Wade Oscar Roberts and Catherine Sara Roberts

Wade Oscar Roberts was born on 19 May 1858. He died on 20 May 1925. His parents were William and Jane Halsell Roberts.

Catherine Sara Roberts was born on 16 February 1860. She died on 17 November 1944. Her parents were Elbert and Mary Ann Long Roberts.

Wade Oscar and Catherine Sara were married in December 1878. They had 12 children. Peter Oscar, born 19 November 1879; Eunice, born 24 December 1880; Mary, born 26 January 1882; Martha, born ?; Laura Viola, born 21 February 1888; James Wade, born 5 January 1890; John Elbert, born 5 March 1892; Lula Bethany, born 23 June 1895; Samuel Boroughs, born 15 April 1896; Margaret Evelyn, born ?; Estelle, born 26 November 1900; Marion Douglas, born 19 August 1903.

Their son James Wade Roberts was my grandfather.

James Wade Roberts

On Christmas Day in 1912 James Wade Roberts married Martha Lee Clark. She was the daughter of Talton Elam Clark and Maggie Pamelia Robinson. Their marriage was witnessed by Elbert and Mary Ann Long Roberts. It was performed at the Beaver Creek Baptist Church.

James Wade also started his married life with the intent of farming. Martha Clark Roberts had inherited some land on the Chester-Fairfield border and it was on this ground that they started. Somewhere around 1920 the family moved to Greenville, South Carolina, where James Wade started work for a tire recapper. It was likely that the family planned to return one day, because they never sold their land. However, Greenville became their home and the land in Chester became known as the 'old home place'. It was one of the sites we visited when I was a boy.

James Wade and Martha Clark Roberts had the following children: James Arthur, born in Fairfield/Chester; Margie Lee, born in Fairfield/ Chester; Charles Franklin, born in Fairfield/Chester; William Morrison, born in Fairfield/Chester; Talton Clark, born in Greenville; Mary Halsel, born in Greenville; Eugene White, born in Greenville.

James Wade and Martha Clark Roberts' son Talton Clark Roberts was my father.

Martha Hawkins, Monticello, Arkansas sent the following article for our files, but it contained so much information of interest to our members that we decided to print it in the Bulletin. Many thanks, Martha.

THE DUMAS CLARION, Wed. July 25, 1979 - 75th Anniversary Issue.

David Oscar Porter, a pioneer of Southeast Arkansas and a Dumas leader until his death Jan. 2, 1939, had a prominent role in the growth of this city.

Born in Chester, S. C. March 23, 1852, Mr. Porter was the third of a family of four children of W. A. Porter and Martha Cherry Porter, natives of South Carolina. Mr. Porter's father was a wheelright by trade and manufactured buggies, carriages in Landsford, S. C. He died in 1853. When he was nine years of age, David Oscar Porter came to Arkansas with his mother and family. He was educated in South Carolina and Monticello. He remained with his mother in Monticello until he was 25. She then moved to Arkansas City to make her home with her oldest daughter and her husband and lived there until her death in 1886.

At the age of 25, Mr. Porter became manager of a plantation for W. A. Blakemore somewhere near Old Arkansas Post. He managed the plantation for four years and then took charge of a plantation for Quilling and Goza for two years. After this, he rented a plantation for himself and ran it for a year and then became manager of Dr. Taylor's place at South Bend where he remained until going to Arkansas City for seven years, and during that time — in 1889 — he was elecged as one of the aldermen of Arkansas City.

In 1893, Mr. Porter came to Dumas. He bought considerable amount of farming land and town property in and around Dumas. As the town grew, he sold some of the farm land and town property, dividing the town property into lots and opening up streets to the town. He retained most of his property on Main Street, and the first farm he bought west of Dumas which is still in operation. His home place is on the original site where he built his first home shortly after coming to Dumas. In the early years here, he served as Sheriff of Desha County. Later, together with his farming and business interests, he was associated with the late Gus Waterman in the Mercantile Business in Dumas.

So it was that David Oscar Porter took a very active part in the business life and building of Dumas, seeing it grow from a very small settlement to thriving business center. He was ill only two weeks before he died in 1939, at the age of 86.

Mr. Porter's widow, the former Miss Frances Ann Hall of Bastrop, La., to whom he was married May 25, 1899, died 1964.

The Porter's daughter, Beryl (Mrs. L. T. Sallee) still lives in the family home here. The Porters' son, D. O. (Bud) Porter, Jr., was in business on Main Street here until his death in 1956.

The Porter family business is carried on by David O. Porter, III, who is a longtime member of the Dumas City Council.

(N. B. Dumas is located in present day Desha County, Arkansas. Monticello is in Drew County. Arkansas City is county seat of Desha - and I believe in early Chicot County.)

THE RECORDS OF THE SESSION OF FISHING CREEK CHURCH

The Records of the Session of Fishing Creek Church, with a brief statement of its origin and progress, compiled by its present pastor, John B. Davies, acting as the clerk for the said Session.

A brief historical sketch of the Church of Fishing Creek in Chester District, S. C.

This church was organized about the year 1770. Of its first bench of Elders were Samuel Neely, John Latta, Robert Walker, and Robert Lusk.

In the year 1773, this Church procured the labors of the Rev. John Simpson from New Jersey. He arrived at Fishing Creek on the 26th of November of that year. He was ordained and installed April 6, 1774, in the pastoral charge by the Presbytery of Orange, which embraced the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia.

Mr. Simpson sustained the relation of Pastor to this Church in connexion with Lower Fishing Creek, afterwards, Richardsons; but having withdrawn from that church, he continued the Pastor of this church until 1789, when this relation was dissolved. He however, served the church where he continued his ministerial labors until his death on February 4th, 1808.

The congregation remained vacant, with the exception of a few months in 1793, (when they were supplied by Mr. John Bowman, a Licentiate of Orange Presbytery) until 1795.

In September 1795, the church preferred their call to Mr. William G. Rosborough, a Licentiate of the Presbytery of S. C., (which was organized in 1785). He took their call under consideration and labored amongst them for two years under considerable infirmity of body, and at length was compelled to return their call.

In April 1798, this church gave an invitation to Mr. John B. Davies to labor amongst them, as a supply. He was a Licentiate of the Presbytery of South Carolina. His labors proved acceptable, this church in union with Richardsons presented their calls to Mr. Davies to become their pastor. Mr. Davies, having accepted their call, he was ordained and installed as the Pastor of the two churches May 14th, 1799. His labors were devoted to the two churches for the space of thirty-three years, when (1831), the pastoral charge of Richardson was resigned, but that of Fishing Creek retained and still continues (1839). When Mr. Davies became pastor of this church, its bench of Elders were: Samuel Neely, David Carr, David Neely, Thomas Neely, Thomas Latta, Hugh Gaston, Josiah Porter, Charles Brown, Wm. Walker, and D. Davis.

In 1808 T. Neely, H. Gaston, J. Porter, Ch. Boyd, J. Wallis, S. Lewis, Jas. E. McFadden, and John Boyd.

In 1820, H. Gaston, C. Boyd, S. Lewis, J. E. McFadden, J. Boyd, William Bradford, Edward Crawford, Dr. A. Rosborough, and John Neely.

In 1827, C. Boyd, S. Lewis, J. Boyd, J. Neely, E. Crawford, Wm. Stringfellow, Robert Miller, Alex Gaston, and Josiah H. Gill.

In 1835, C. Boyd, Superannuated, E. Crawford, W. Stringfellow, R. Miller, J. E. McFadden, Alex. Crawford, and Wm. Cowan.

In 1839, C. Boyd, Sup., E. Crawford, Robert Miller, J. E. McFadden,

A. Crawford, Wm. Cowan, John Poage, and George H. Neely.

Rev. J. R. Gilland became pastor in 1842.

In 1846, Elders were Robert Miller, Alex Crawford, John Poag, Geo. H. Neely, John L. Chambers, J. Hervey Crawford, Robert Stringfellow. Rev. A. W. Miller became Pastor in 1849.

In 1851, Elders were: Robert Miller, John Poag, Geo. H. Neely, John S. Chambers, J. Hervey Crawford, Robt. Stringfellow, Jas. F. Wherry, and Edwin Mills.

May 14th, 1799.

This day, Mr. Andrew Stinson, late of the Convenanting Church, and a resident in the bounds of this congregation for some time past, produced certificates and expressed his desire to be admitted a member of this Church. One of these papers represented him as being from Clogh, Ireland, in 1771, and stated that he, (A. Stinson) was then a single man and had from his infancy lived in that congregation - that he had always behaved himself soberly and inoffensively, free from public scandal, and that as his intention was to remove to America, he might be safely received into any Christian Congregation. Signed, Joseph Douglas V. D. M. & W. Edmondson S. Clk. The other was a paper given on his removal from Pennsylvania, which represented him as a sober young man, free from any incumbrances of any kind or debt.

Whereupon the Session, taking these papers under consideration, and inasmuch as to their knowledge, the said Andrew Stinson has lived in the bounds of this congregation, nearly seven years; and to the best of their knowledge supported a sober and inoffensive conduct, it was therefore the unanimous opinion of the Session, that he be received as a member of this Society - that he become subject to the rules of this church and be admitted; when convenient, to the privileges of this church. Mr. Davies, January 8th, 1801.

The Church of Fishing Creek met at the call of the Moderator. Present: Rev. J. B. Davies, Moderator, Elders, David Carr, David Neely, Thomas Neely, and Thomas Latta, together with the corresponding members from Richardson, viz.: Walter Brown, Jas. Crawford, James Gaston, Issac McFadden, Joseph Gaston, and Felix Davies - Constituted with prayer. The Session being met July 26th, 1801.

Mr. Andrew Kennedy, late of Ebenezer congregation, produced a certificate of his having received privileges and recommending him for admission elsewhere.

Signed June 21st, 1801.

Wm. Akins, Elder

The Session being convened October 21st, 1801.

Mr. John Barr wishing to be connected with this church produced a certificate from Rev. John Lewson in Ireland, dated Sept. 28th, 1792, of freedom from public scandal or church censure & as he has resided in the congregation, he was considered as prepared to be admitted, provided he gave evidence of piety.

Notes From the Journal of James Lawrence Ferguson Contributed by Walter W. Brewster

In 1980, James E. Ferguson transcribed the journal of his great-grandfather, James Lawrence Ferguson a native of Chester County, South Carolina, who migrated to Arkansas in 1856.

During the Civil War, James Lawrence was the Sergeant of Parker's Company which was assigned to Turner's Arkansas Cavalry Regiment. In this capacity, he entered in his journal a roster which includes the physical description and occupation of forty-four members of the company. It is probable these were the original recruits. The company was commanded by Captain V. H. Parker.

Since many of the surnames in JLF's list occur in the early records of Chester County, we felt that perhaps other members of the society might be interested in this information. According to James E. Ferguson's description, the journal was kept in a 4"x6" leather-bound note book. Each of the following items of the company list is written across two pages:

In addition to his roster, James Lawrence included what appears to be daily duty rosters which include these names that are not mentioned in the numbered list: N. E. Kemp, John Wardlaw, W. J. Hickman, W. H. Green, W. C. Barn, Eli Ayres, Stanmore Timble, J. J. Clyatt, P. Stewart, D. Jackson, N. Sloane (sp), Jas. Cranjoy (sp), J. Hall, W. C. McDonald, H. Berry, C. Gaster, W. H. Slocum, W. Y. Duckworth, W. P. Williamson, W. C. Weir, N. Donaldson, Jas. Agee, J. T. Duke, S. J. Twitty, Thomas Dingler, John Drummond, J. S. Dunn, S. Alexander, W. A. Craig, L. Cobb, Jas. Crumpley (sp), N. Donaldson, C. E. Morris, J. J. Dewberry, J. H. Means, L. L. Griffith, Arkansas Andrews, David McKinney, Thomas McKinney, W. B. Curry, Jas. Curry, J. J. Shoemaker, H. Y. Sims, John Evans, J. Hartsfield, Lt., J. L. Latham, B. Gains, W. B. Huchison Sr., L. D. Fisher, Wm Nichols, T. Lyle, M. Sweeney, M. Bernley (sp), and A. B. Hall.

These names appear in groups of five or six per day, the list beginning December 26, 1863, with the heading "Detail Service". The dates are continued with a group for each of the following days: Dec. 27, 28, 29,

Dec 29 (obviously meant to be 30), 31, and Jan 1 1864. There follows twelve additional groups to assign the duty through Jan 13, though no date was entered for each of them. We can only conjecture that the men who appear on the duty roster, but not on the original list are replacements. Many of the names on the company roster do not appear on the duty assignments.

It must have been soon after the last entry that James Lawrence Ferguson was captured by a Yankee raiding party while he was home on leave. One morning, while on that leave, he told his wife, Mary Ann (Polly) that he was going to ride through the fields to check the condition of his place. "If any enemy soldiers come by", he told her, "fire your pistol into the air and I won't come back to the house, but will ride back to my unit." When she saw the Union soldiers coming up the drive she went to the back porch, held her pistol up, and pulled the trigger - it misfired. A Negro woman, one of the kitchen help, ran out of the house and into the fields to warn her master. The soldiers followed her and captured James L. He died 10 December, 1864, in the Union Prison at Rock Island, Ill., Arsenal, of starvation according to his daughter, Mary A. J. Ferguson Brewster. I believe this accounts for there being no further entries in his journal.

Quote from will: "As a matter of historical interest, I add that the paper on which my will is inscribed was taken by Co. B of Lucas' Batalion of which I was a member, from the boat Isaac P. Smith of the U. S. Navy, which boat we captured in Stono river in 1864, and with the boat 100 prisoners."

MOORE

This prominent up-country family of South Carolina is identified with Camden in the person of one of its most estimable members.

ALBERTUS ADAIR MOORE, M. D., was born in York County in 1834. His father, James Moore, was a prominent planter of that section and had figured politically as a member of the State Legislature and of the Nullification Convention. His mother was Sophia Springs. There were ten sons and three daughters of this union.

Dr. Albertus Moore was educated at Ebenezer Academy and the University of Virginia, graduating in medicine at the University of New York in 1859. The next year he located in Camden to practice his profession, but the tocsin of war had sounded and in 1861 he enlisted as orderly sergeant, Co. C, 6th Regiment (the "Kershaw Troop"). In 1863 he became Assistant Surgeon of the 5th South Carolina Regiment and in this capacity served until the surrender at Appomattox.

Returning to Camden, he resumed his medical practice, which he continued until his death in 1910.

He was married, in 1865, to Sallie, daughter of James Dunlap; she died in 1867. In 1873, he married Carrie, daughter of Dr. Henry Clarke. Of the latter union there were two children, Dr. Albertus A. Moore, Jr. and Caleb C. Moore, both now residents of New York. The second Mrs. Moore died in 1914.

Their home in Camden was the old Bynum residence on Broad Street.

Will of John Smith - dated June 8, 1793, proven June 29, 1795, showing he died between those two dates. Sons - Caleb, Abner, Moses, and Joshua. Daughters - Catherine, Culbird, and Mary Ann Land. Grand-daughters, Patience and Mary Land, grandson Richard Smith. Witnessed by Charles Boyd and Daniel Green. Appraisers were: William Steenson, Richard Gather, Daniel Green.

The names indicate that he was residing in the southeastern section of Chester Co. Do not locate any land deeds for John Smith, but find that Moses Smith bought a tract of land (100 acres) from John McFadden and wife Mary, which had been granted to McFadden on Oct. 7, 1762. This land was located on Rocky Creek, on the south side of Wateree. McFadden sold the land to Smith on Sept. 4, 1789.

Another deed dated Oct. 27, 1790, of John Smith, State of Georgia, Richmond Co., to Newman Milcollum, 100 acres "on a small branch of Sandy River called Brushy Fork." This deed was signed by John Smith and wife Elizabeth.

There was a Moses Smith that married Mary Boyd, sister of Hannah Boyd who married John Hardin. Some of this family is buried on a farm in the Baton Rouge section of Chester Co.

A prominent family of Chester County years ago was the McCalla family. I find a deed from Richard C. McCalla and wife Margaret E. of Tuscaloosa, Ala. dated in the 1870's to Samuel Lewis as their "interest in a tract of 332 acres on the waters of Fishing Creek being undivided third part, bounded by lands of William Drennan, James McFadden, Mary Walker, Estate of John Johnson, and William H. Hardin." Reference was made to a plat dated Nov. 17, 1847, "it being the identical land conveyed by F. M. Chisholm, Wm. L. Robinson and wife, Wm. S. Chisholm and Susan Chisholm to Narcissa Lewis, whose heirs and distributors we are".

A deed of interest to people in East Chester County is that of David Hyatt, dated Jan. 23, 1878, to R. M. McFadden, Thomas Orr, and W. J. Dye, trustees to a "certain piece of land near Republic on Landsford road, bounded by lands of myself, Mrs. Jane Campbell, and said road containing one acre. The said school house to be open to all white children who now live or may hereafter live within reach of the same". This deed was witnessed by Henry Lee, W. P. Simpson, and attested to by R. S. Crook, Trial Justice.

Also the estate papers of Susannah Crook, dated Nov. 28, 1825, and that James Crook was the administrator and Alexander Crawford, Wylie Crook, and Elijah Hyatt were appraisers and the papers were probated by Peter Culp, J. P. This estate was divided into 7 shares, but those getting shares are not given.

On Oct. 17, 1843, John Montgomery made a will leaving $50 for repairing the Republican Meeting House and graveyard, according to the direction of James Lee. He had a grandchild, Margaret Elizabeth Montgomery. Witness to the will were Joseph Ferguson, Augustus Bridges, and James Daniel.

Presented at the 51st National Assembly of the Huguenot Society of the Founders of Manakin in the Colony of Virginia at Knoxville, Tenn. on June 11, 1982 by Mary BonDurant Epling.

On February 18th, 1982, our Society suffered the loss of one of our most loved and valuable members, Louis N. Agee.

He served our organization in many capacities. We will enjoy his beautiful penmanship on hundreds of lineage papers that he so meticulously checked for approval as the National Registrar from 1971 to 1975. His service on numerous National Committees was extensive. During these years of serving the National Society, he also gave of his talents to the Virginia Branch, serving as Vice-President, Registrar and Advisor.

A Certificate of Appreciation was presented to Louis at the 47th National Assembly in 1978 by the then National President, Miss Madge Flourney.

Louis declined the National Registrar office in 1975 to resume his research and the compilation of an Agee Register. His dream to complete an up to date History of the Agee family was realized and he was able to make arrangements for its publication before his death.

His beloved wife, Elizabeth Francis Agee, daughter, Mrs. Susan Riggs, and son, Louis Byron Agee are fulfilling his ambitious dream. The Agee Register is available

Our Huguenot heritage has been enriched by the service and dream of Louis N. Agee.

We say, "Well done, Louis, and farewell until we meet again, God willing."
