MEETINGS

January - No meeting
February 4 - Chester County Museum, Chester, SC - 2:30 PM
March 4 - Chester County Library, Chester, SC - 3 PM
John Bigham, Guest Speaker

Membership Renewal Time

Dues for 1990 will remain $12 for individuals and $15 for couples - the same as for the past three years. The membership/surname book will also remain at $4. We believe the membership/surname book is perhaps the most important tool we can offer you in your search for ancestors, and we encourage you to order it each year as there are always many new members whose surnames have never appeared before. It will help us greatly if (1) when you renew your membership to use the enclosed form and (2) order the membership/surname book which will save time and expense (it will be mailed in August). Remember 8 surnames for individuals and 16 surnames for couples. I want to thank our many members for their promptness in renewing their membership, making the task for our volunteers easier and less costly.

The February meeting will be held at the Chester County Museum at 2:30 p.m.

The March meeting will be a slide show at the Chester County Library. It will be given by Mr. John Bigham of the South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Museum. He is asking our members to bring any old ancestors photographs as he wishes to copy them for the museum. Please start looking now for the photographs as we will have more information closer to the March date.

I wish to thank the staff and members of the society for their help, time, and efforts to make this society a wonderful organization. I also want to thank you for electing me for another year as your president.

We want to wish each a very Merry Christmas and a very special Happy New Year.

George

"The Two Jeans"

We want to say how much we have enjoyed our visitors this year. There were some we couldn't meet with, but we tried to work it out to spend some time with each one. Some of our visitors were not members, but we enjoyed them, too. It is such a pleasure to know they found a missing link or some new info on their family tree by visiting our area. They are so nice to share their info with us, too. All we ask is to please let us know a little in advance, so we can open the office library for you.

Best Wishes,

Jean Agee and Jean Nichols

THE HENDERSONS OF NORTH & SOUTH CAROLINA

by Betty Lou Mefford

A brief word of thanks to Carol Wells of Natchitoches, Louisiana, a fellow Henderson researcher who has been so kind as to share with me much of her own research. Also, a great big vote of thanks to Mary D. Boulware of Blair, S. C., a member of our Society. Mary, who does research for a nominal fee, did all my leg work in S. C. and I highly recommend her to anyone who needs material from the S. C. Archives!

Also, a word of caution for any researcher using Worth S. Ray's two books...Colonial Granville and it's People and Tennessee Cousins. Use these books only as a beginning base for your studies. When it comes to the Hendersons, at least, both books are full of errors. As a historian, he did a good job but in his efforts to connect families he was highly misleading.

Richard Henderson of Goochland Co., Va. (part that became Cumberland Co., Va.) is my earliest proven ancestor. Much more research has to be done in this area but here are the known facts: Richard was born ca. 1700 (?where). Married ca. 1723 to Henrietta who may or may not have been a Hendley. Richard died by June 1748 leaving a will written in Febr. 1745, (Goochland Co., Va. Deed Bk. 5, pgs. 424-425...probated in 1748). This will named his wife and five children. Later, Henrietta, his wife, deeded the land to her three sons (Cumberland Co., Va. Deed Bk. I, pgs. 113-114...28 Aug. 1749).

THEIR CHILDREN:

1. Nathaniel, my ancestor (see below).
2. Sammuel, whom Worth S. Ray claimed to have been the Sammuel Henderson who married Elizabeth Williams, whom he states erroneously to have been the progenerator of all GRANVILLE CO., N. C. AND all South Carolina. Samuel & Elizabeth lived in the Nutbush (Henderson Dist.) of N. C. while Richard's lineage lived in the Island Creek Dist. of Granville Co., N. C. and was much younger. Sammuel, son of Richard, was born ca. 1726 in Goochland Co., Va. and in all probability married Mary Ann Waldrop. He died in 1820 in Rutherford Co., Tennessee.
3. James, born ca. 1728. It has not been proven but I strongly suspect he was the James who died in Lincoln Co., N. C. by 1788. This James was the father of James Henderson who married Violet Lawson, daughter of Hugh & Mary (Moore) Lawson of Mecklenberg Co., N. C. James, Jr. died by 9 Sep 1793 in Lincoln Co., N. C. Some of his descendants removed to the Duck River area in Tennessee.
4. Henrietta, born ca. 1730. Little is known of her but she may have married Stephen Ferguson.
5. Mary, born ca. 1732. Mary, may have married John Waldrop, a brother to Mary Ann, Sammuel's wife. Very little is known about her at the present time.

NATHANIEL HENDERSON (my ancestor)

Nathaniel was born ca. 1723 in Goochland Co., Virginia. He was probably married ca. 1742 to Patience (?Harris). I am currently trying to prove her parents. I believe her father was Tyre Harris, who was a collector in Fredericksville Parish (Va.) Vestry Book 1742-1787. The Harris and Henderson families were closely allied in both Virginia and in Granville Co., N. C. as many deeds prove. Nathaniel died by 10 Oct 1782 in Lancaster Co., S. C. Although his will is filed, Will Bk. A, pg. 258...Kershaw Co.,

S. C. he actually lived in Lancaster Co. Nathaniel, along with his wife and younger siblings removed to Granville Co., N. C. by 1754.

The first record in Granville Co., N. C. is: N. C. STATE RECORDS...Vol. 22, pgs. 370-380. List of inhabitants of Granville Co., N. C. MUSTER ROLL OF MILITIA UNDER THE COMMAND OF COL. WM. NATION...10 Oct 1754. William Person, Lt. Col. and James Payne, Major. CAPTAIN JOHN CLOVER'S COMPANY. #71 Nathaniel Henderson. The first recorded deed is found: Deed Bk. C...pgs. 334-335... dated 10 Nov 1757 (abstracted...Nathaniel & wife, Patience to James Byars of Hanover Co., Va. 400 acres on both sides of MICHAEL'S CREEK and on ISLAND CREEK. 40 pounds. Witness...Wm. Sims. In a later deed...Deed Bk. D, pgs. 127-128...dated 11 Feb 1761, Nathaniel Henderson to Thomas Doswell of Hanover Co., Va. for 300L 958 acres on both sides of GREAT ISLAND CREEK which was GRANTED TO HENDERSON BY EARL GRANVILLE (wife, Patience, relinquished her dower). I have not located the original Grant as yet. The last deed in Granville Co., N. C. was: Deed Bk. G, pgs. 259-260 and was dated 22 Feb 1764. Nathaniel Henderson to John Waldrop. 200 acres on TABB'S CREEK for 70 pounds. (wife, Patience, relinquished her dower). Witnesses: WILSON HENDERSON & TYRE HENDERSON. Wilson and Tyre Henderson were sons of Nathaniel.

By 1765 Nathaniel had removed to S. C.:

COLONIAL PLAT...Vol. 14, pg. 164 "Pursant to a receipt by John Frank Esq., Deputy Surveyor...dated 6 Aug 1765 and since by order of Counsel it was prolonged from the 5 Sep 1767. I have admeasured and laid out unto Nath'l Henderson, a tract of land containing 500 acres situated, lying and being on DRY CREEK in Craven Co. bounding on N.E. by Wm. Stewart's land and all other sides by vacant lands and hath such shape form and marks as appears by the above delineated Plat.

Certified by me this 2nd day of Sept 1767. Wm. Glascock.

Another Colonial Plat shows that Nathaniel also had lands on WHITE OAK CREEK and GRANNY'S QUARTER of SANDER'S CREEK. He may have also owned land which was actually Tyron Co., N.C. but Memorialized in S.C. MEMORIALS VOL. 12...pg. 518 But this has not been proved as yet" Nathaniel's wife, Patience died by 1802 as proven by: CAMDEN EQUITY JOURNAL" as published by S. C. Magazine of Ancestral Research...Vol. XIV #1, Winter 1986, pgs. 44, 45, and 46. This suit involved NATHANIEL Jr. VS. WILLIAM MARLOW (his brother-in-law, husband of Elizabeth). The suit was over cattle purchased by Nathaniel, Sr. for his daughter, Elizabeth, before her marriage. Nathaniel, Jr. believed that these cattle should be part of the mother's estate. On 24 Feb 1803 the complaint's bill was dismissed with cost.

NATHANIEL AND PATIENCE HAD 13 CHILDREN:

1. EDWARD, my ancestor (see below)
2. JAMES, born ca. 1745. He may be the James Henderson who married Ann Byars in Granville Co., N. C. and died ca. 1797 in Laurens Co., S. C.
3. ANNE, born ca. 1747. She may have married John Byars.
4. RICHARD, not located as yet.
5. TYRE, born ca. 1749. He was a "LOYALIST" and a member of the British Army. S. C. DEPT. OF ARCHIVES..."FORFEITED ESTATES" OFFICERS RETURNS OF PERSONS WHO HAVE "GONE OVER TO THE ENEMY" List of Captain Tilman...Tyree Henderson "enemy to their country. Tyre was killed on the Catawba River in action. HIS BROTHER'S, NATHANIEL and SHERROD, WERE ALSO ON THE LIST OF BRITISH SOLDIERS.

6. WILSON, born ca. 1755. He may have married Mary Atterberry. His will is filed in MAURY CO., TENNESSEE. Will Bk. B...1810-1825. William, Wilson (born 1775 in S. C. Married 1st... Martha P. (?), 2nd...Matilda Hill in 1840 and 3rd Matilda Thompson in 1857).., Susannah who married (_____) Mayfield, Elizabeth, James, John, Mary and Jessie Elias.
7. NATHANIEL, born ca. 1755. No data except he served in the British Army and sued his sister in 1802 for the cattle.
8. SHERWOOD/SHERROD, born ca. 1757. Married Elizabeth (____). He, also, served in the British Army. After or during the war he went to the southern part of Georgia. In 1802, at the death of his mother, one of his brothers went to Georgia to find him. From the Equality Suit, he seems to have come back to S. C., at least for a period of time.
9. JOHN
10. PATIENCE, who may have married William Ferguson.
11. ARCHABEL, could be the Archabel in Robeson, N. C. who later went to Monroe Co., Alabama. MUCH MORE RESEARCH HAS TO BE DONE TO DETERMINE IF THIS IS THE CORRECT ARCHABEL.
12. ELIZABETH, who married William Marlow/Marler (Camden Equality Suit).
13. WILLIAM, no data on him as yet.

EDWARD HENDERSON (My ancestor)

Edward had to be the eldest son of Nathaniel & Patience due to the his appearance in N. C. He was born ca. 1743 in Goochland Co., Va. Although there is no record of his marriage, he must have been married by 1761 in Granville Co., N. C. to Annah or Joannah (____). He died Chester Co., (Will Bk. A...pg. 60, Apt. 27, Pkg. 382, dated 3 Dec 1790.

I wish to insert a word of advise here. For many years, many people have searched for the father of Wilson Henderson, a Revolutionary soldier BUT NONE FOUND HIS FATHER SUCCESSFULLY!! The main reason was because no bothered to secure a copy of the wills in S. C. but relied on ABSTRACTS alone. On 20 June 1988 I received a photocopy of Edward's will. LO AND BEHOLD...THE FOLLOWING HAD BEEN OMITTED FROM THE WPA TRANSCRIPT (which everyone had been using):

"ITEM I give and bequeath to my son, WILSON HENDERSON, one shilling, if demanded"

When at lose...ALWAYS GO TO THE PRIMARY SOURCE, IF POSSIBLE and in this case it was. Primary sources are the only TRUE evidence that are available to us. Sometimes this is not possible and other evidence must be used.

Edward's first recorded records in Granville Co., N. C. were both deeds and both were selling land around the time he removed to Chester Co. S.C.

Deed Bk. D, pgs. 344-345...dated 27 June 1765.
Edward Henderson to Wm. Holly for 3L, 6S, 8P.
200 acres in Granville Co., N. C. Witnesses:
J. Williams & Nichos Shatterwhite.

Deed Bk. G, pgs. 318, 319 & 320...dated 5 Dec 1764
Edward Henderson to Hames or James Hunt for 60L.
200 acres on both sides of Michael's Creek which was granted to John Bird, 7 Nov 1760. Witnesses:
Lewis Collins & Absolon Davis

A COLONIAL LAND GRANT was given to Edward Henderson, 15 May 1772 bearing the survey date...23 Sept 1765, 200 acres in Craven

Co., S. C. on a small branch of Rocky Creek called Hunter's Branch.

No as we know, S. C. land grants were given as follows: 100 acres for the head of the household and 50 acres to each member of the household. According to the grant there was a wife and one other member WHICH HAD TO BE HIS FIRST SON "WILSON HENDERSON"

From the Revolutionary War Claims in South Carolina, I found that he gave supplies to the war effort and he, also, received 10 1/2 bushels of oats for his aid of three men who were ill with smallpox which was NO SMALL FEAT IN THOSE DAYS!!!!

THE CHILDREN OF EDWARD & (JO)ANNAH ( _____ ) HENDERSON:

1. WILSON HENDERSON (my ancestor)
NATHANIEL, BETSEY, PATIENCE, AGNES, JOANNAH, ESTER, ADAMS, WILLIAM, JAMES, MOURNING, MARY ANN.

There were 12 children in all but at present I only have information on my ancestor, Wilson Henderson.

WILSON HENDERSON (My ancestor)

Wilson was born 30 Oct 1762 in Granville Co., N. C. He was married by 1780 in Chester Co., S. C. to Sarah Frost, daughter of Robert and Ruth ( _____ ) Frost, who died 1842 in Harrisonburg, Saline Co., Illinois. Wilson died between Sept. & Nov. 1847 in Harrisonburg, Saline Co., Illinois, leaving a will probated November Term, 1847. In his will he named his children.

Wilson served in the Revolution. On 19 June 1838, he applied for a pension (R 4878). In his application he gave his birthday and tours of duty. While serving under Mayfield, they joined General Sumpter's Army and in this tour they drove about 400 Tories out of a Mill Pond where he was shot through the wrist by the Tories. In the application, he also stated his places of residence after the war. Shortly after 1800, he moved to Overton Co., Tennessee (his uncle, Wilson Henderson lived in Oveton Co., Tenn. at the time) where he stayed for about three years. Then he moved to Warren Co., Kentucky and then by 1816, he had moved to Muhlenburg Co., Kentucky where he was a co-executor of the will of Sarah Forester, proven December Term, 1816.

While in Muhlenburg County, Wilson was ordained a Baptist Minister and became the first pastor of Cypress Baptist Church. Wilson's final moved was to Gallatin Co. (Saline Co.), Illinois. In Saline Co. there are church records that establish that he was an active minister until he died in 1847.

Robert Frost, Wilson's father-in-law, was closely allied with his father, Edward Henderson, as various deeds in S. C. prove. Robert received a S. C. COLONIAL LAND GRANT...dated 9 Apr. 1767 for 150 acres situated on a branch of Sandy River called Sealey's Creek. In a deed dated 2 Jan. 1796, Robert sold his land WHILE LIVING IN LINCOLN Co. N. C. It is assumed that his wife, Ruth, had died by this time as she DID NOT release her dower for this deed.

1790 Census...Lincoln County, North Carolina

Robert Frost served in the Revolution:

"ROSTER OF S. C. PATRIOTS IN THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION"

He served as a Captain and lost a mare in the BATTLE OF FISHDAM.

In addition, he served 43 days under Col. Winn during 1781 and under Col. Hopkins at Bush River during Oct. & Nov. He, also, served at Orangeburg under Col. Winn in 1782. At this time it is not certain but I strongly suspect that Robert, his brothers, James and Jacob came from Fredericks Co., Virginia and may be the sons of JOHN FROST:

ENCYCLOPEDIA OF AMERICAN QUAKER GENEALOGY...Wm. Wade Henshaw (1936) Hopewell Monthly Meeting...Fredericks Co., VA. (1730+)

C. and died between 1850/60 in Newton Co., Jackson Twp., Arkansas. Davis died by March 1866, also in Newton Co., Ark. (Probate Court...March Term 1866, pg. 17). No will has been found, only the probate records WHICH DOES NOT GIVE HIS CHILDREN EXCEPT THE YOUNGEST DAUGHTER, NANCY, WHOSE HUSBAND ADMINISTERED THE ESTATE. (Probate Court...June Term, 1867---Isham J. Dunn, appointed administrator of Davis' estate.

Earliest census record found for Davis and his family was:

Shortly after 1830 many citizens of Overton County, Tennessee began to remove to Illinois, then Missouri and finally to Arkansas. Among these were HARPS from N. C., DUNNS, BILYEUS and BOHANNONS. All of these families were interconnected in Newton County, Arkansas History. Davis was found in the 1840 census...Miller County, Richwood Twp., Missouri. The descendants of Caldwell and McJunkin lines number many people in the United States, including those of us who were born in a Southern state but who got transplanted "way out west." Today, many of us are "finding" additional cousins quite often during a year's time, and we are staying in touch by letter, phone calls, and personal visits here and there. The "find" of old handwritten notes on family background in both Georgia and California at about the same time has given us all more hope for documentation and proof of some kind, and it has made us more aware of what our ancestors experienced back in the 1500's and 1600's in the "old country," particularly in Ulster of old.

We have for many years had information from DAR records that Margaret Caldwell and Robert McJunkin were husband and wife, and that they came to the American Colonies in 1741 with two sons, William b. ca. 1718, and Samuel, b. 1725. The finding by Mrs. Angie Kenney of Lake City, Georgia, in LaGrange court house, Troup County, Georgia, of the records there, handwritten some time in the 1800's, perhaps, by possibly an ancestor of hers in the McJunkin line, and those on the Caldwell line found by Miss Katherine L. McJunkin, also a descendant of this couple, in the San Diego Genealogical Society library has given us more impetus for research and also for advising others who are descended from these two people of the 1600's. By our contacts with each other, and by putting our materials together, we can get a more complete story.

Son Samuel (1725-1808) married Ann, or Mary Ann, Bogan (ca. 1737-1781) on September 9, 1754. Their first child was Joseph McJunkin (1755-1846) who became a Captain and then a Major in the Spartan Regiment, Spartanburg Dist., S.C., during the Revolutionary War. He and wife Ann Jane Thomas (1757-1826) had eleven children. Each of their descendants knows her or his own lineage line, so no specific lineages are outlined in this article. I, myself, have had contact with the descendants of five of these eleven, totalling twelve people. I welcome others.

Following is Katherine McJunkin's "find," and it confirms a number of the statements in the Troup County, Georgia, records:

"CALDWELL BOOK:"

"Joseph Caldwell, son of John and Mary (Holmes) Caldwell, baptised Jan. 9, 1657; buried on his farm in Lifford, Parrish of Ballybogan, County Donegal, Ireland, Sept. 3, 1730; served in Defense of Derry. Married April 8, 1682, Jane McGhie, daughter of Alexander and Jane (Milliken) McGhie.

"Issue - Family Record:

- "1. John Caldwell, b. 1683; d. Cub Creek, Va., Oct. 6, 1750; marr. June 4, 1705, Margaret Phillips.
2. Elizabeth Caldwell, b. 1684; d. Virginia(?); marr. James Moore.
3. Margaret Caldwell, b. 1686; died in Ireland.

4. Jane Caldwell, b. 1688; d. in Virginia; marr. Alexander Ritchie.
5. George Caldwell, b. 1690; d. (?) ; marr. Jane Phillips.
6. Catherine Caldwell, b. 1692; d. in Virginia; marr. John Dudgen.
7. Andrus Caldwell, b. 1693; d. Lancaster, Pa. Immigrated to America 1718, settled in Lancaster Co. where he marr. Ann Stuart."

In addition to Katherine's research, I had on loan from the National Genealogical Society in 1981 two books by Landon C. Bell, copyright by author 1927, pub. by The William Byrd Press, Inc., Richmond, Virginia, 1929, as follows: Two volumes of "The Old Free State, Lunenburg County, Virginia," and "Sunlight on the Southside," (meaning southside of Virginia, which appears to mean present-day counties of Brunswick, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nottoway, and Dinwiddie Counties; any correction to this will be welcomed).

In these books, Bell outlined the Caldwell families beginning with John (1683-1750) having come to the Colonies, landing at New Castle, Delaware, on December 10, 1727. With him and his family (the first five children; numbers 6 and 7 were born in Pennsylvania), and three brothers-in-law with surnames Moore, Richey, and Dudgeon (please note different spellings). All of these people remained in Lancaster Co., Pa., until they received permission in 1738 or 1739 from Virginia's Governor Gooch to establish a Presbyterian Church and settlement at Cub Creek, Virginia, in present-day Brunswick Co.

This John was a brother to Margaret Caldwell McJunkin, No. 3 on this page, the ancestor of Katherine McJunkin and Lillian Forster. Since author Bell does not mention Margaret as being in the Colonies, it is possible, then, that she died about 1740 in County Tyrone, as indicated in the Troup Co., Georgia, records. If this is true, then the information given to the DAR in the 1930's by Mrs. Childs of Columbia, South Carolina, was not quite true, but surely was her own genuine belief, which was that Margaret Caldwell came to the Colonies with her husband Robert McJunkin and their two sons. These things do happen in recording family data. One of the Caldwell-McJunkin descendants living in South Carolina has tried to locate descendants of Mrs. Childs or of her relatives, but the address in Columbia, given for her in the DAR Magazine at the time, no longer exists; a freeway has taken over in the area.

Author Bell has dealt primarily with the 1683-1750 John Caldwell's family; in fact, author Worth S. Ray in his The Mecklenburg Signers and Their Neighbors (publisher and year not available at this time) says that this John "appears to have hogged all the history of the family (or else his historians did it).

Both Bell and Ray list in their books John and Margaret (Phillips) Caldwell's children and their spouses; the grandchildren and their spouses, which takes us well into the mid-1800's, much being written about the South Carolina and United States statesman John Caldwell Calhoun, a great grandson of 1683-1750 John. However, these two authors disagree on some of the family units including given names, dates, and spouses; individual research must be entered into for any proof as to the correct data. Bell stated that surnames growing out of this Caldwell line, as far as about 1850, were Gilham, Calhoun, Rodgers (also Rogers), Mitchell, Canfield, Smith, Duncan (the Illinois group), Finley (Findley also), Vredenburgh (of New York), Robertson, McCoun (McCown?), Watson (Tennessee family), Adams, Walker, Patterson, Trabue, Winston, Helm, Rochester, Penick, Edwards (Kentucky family), and of course, Caldwells married Caldwells.

Bell has written of three distinct Caldwell lines that came from Ulster of old, but this doesn't mean that these were the only lines who came; here is what he said: "First, John Caldwell, who with his family landed at New Castle, Delaware, Dec. 10, 1727 (the John above); second, James Caldwell of County Tyrone, Ireland, with his family who came in 1769; with him also came two younger brothers, John who settled in Virginia, and David who settled in one of the Carolinas. Third, John Caldwell of Harmony Hill, near Ballymony, County Antrim, Ireland (Ulster) who with his family some time between 1798 and 1800, settled on the present site of Salisbury Mills, Orange County, New York, except the youngest son, who settled in Charleston, S. C. Two brothers later came to America and they were James who settled in Pennsylvania, and the last Richard who settled in Baltimore." In a 200-year period (from the first recorded landing in 1727, to the year 1927 in which Bell wrote), Caldwell descendants had spread into all Southern states, into the mid-west states, and perhaps some even in the western states; certainly by April 1930 when my mother and I came to California, there were descendants out here. The telephone directories are full of people named Caldwell, and quite often someone showing up on the evening television news is named Caldwell. Many people I know, who don't seem to be related to me, have a Caldwell line. One gentleman remarked "will it ever end!" We must all be cousins. Author Ray has included much about the connections between Caldwell, Thomson, Thompson, Elliott, Ewing, Daniel, Cunningham, Davidson, Lawson, Henderson, Porter, Gillespie, and too many more to list.

The 1683-1750 John Caldwell's will was entered for probate in Lunenburg Co., Virginia, April 3, 1751, says Bell; he also wrote that John's will is dated November 26, 1748, but does not mention his wife Margaret; therefore, she no doubt died earlier. Since he died in the area then known as Lunenburg County, he didn't mention whether the will can be located there or in present-day Brunswick Co., Virginia.

Some descendants of Caldwell think that John's wife Margaret Phillips could have been a sister to Jane Phillips, wife of George Caldwell, No. 5.

Other people wonder if the date of immigration, 1718, for No. 7., Andrus Caldwell, is correct, for he was only 15 years old; probably came with a group of adults, but he got the jump on his older brothers.

I have on hand three different accounts, in different words, of the Caldwells of the 1300's and 1400's in Italy and France. One is from Bell's books and is the only one for which I have a source, which is given by him as Journal of American History, this account furnished by Elsie Chapline Pheby Cross (probably a "Mrs."). This group is said to have come from the Albigenses, Waldenses, and Catharts of those centuries, which were "sects" in both Italy and France who opposed vigorously the edicts of the Roman Catholic persecutions; these "sects" gave the Catholics and their churches a bad time, time after time, and once they set upon the coach of king of France, Francis I, and "earned his enmity," which caused them to be banished to Scotland. Before that, they were seamen with the Barbary Pirates of the Mediterranean Sea. From their pirating days, they had enough funds to purchase an estate of a bishop named Douglas near Solway Firth. Their name had been DeCoville or DeColville in the Latin part of Europe; now it was Cauldwell, and the purchased estate was called such, Alexander Cauldwell of that era apparently being the "head man." They became obligated to the king of Scotland, James I, and had to promise that whenever the king needed fighting men, the Cauldwell families each would provide one son plus twenty men for any battle that came along. Each account gives different first names, but Elsie Cross uses John, Alexander, and Oliver as being residents at Mount Arid in France, who went to Scotland and got the estate from the bishop. This was probably in the very late 1400's or early 1500's, but Cross gives no time frame specifically. Later on, in the early 1600's, the first names Joseph, John, Alexander, Daniel, David, and Andrew, among the Cauldwell men, are said to have "gone with Cromwell to Ireland, and in various capacities served his interests there, after his accession to the Protectorate." Bell continued, "Upon the restoration of Charles II, a number of the family emigrated to America." Also, Oliver Cromwell is said to have had a grandmother known as "Ann of Cauldwell." I do hope I am not related to Oliver Cromwell! I have many good reasons for this. In August 1649 he and his forces invaded Ireland at Dublin, surged north to Drogheda and destroyed Catholic installations there; drove the Irish of this eastern area over into the western shores of Ireland; surged up into Ulster, attacking the Church of Ireland; by Sept. 1650 he was in Scotland doing the same to the Church of Scotland, but it took him six months to capture Edinburgh Castle, since the Scots were ready for him and were fierce fighters. He had taken advantage of the British Civil War of 1642, becoming a valuable military strategist; built up the army, particularly the cavalry; hung Charles I Jan. 30, 1649; and in Dec. 1653 was named Lord Protector, but he died in Sept. 1658 from malaria contracted in his Irish campaign; then Charles II, son of Charles I, became king, the monarchy being restored. She is buried in the cemetery known as Jordan Old Field Cemetery in the Landsford section of Chester County. Married about 1779 to Henry Jordan, of Brunswick County, Virginia, and later of Chester County, S.C. He was born in Virginia about 1760 and came to South Carolina about 1780. His wife, in her later years, was always called "Granny Jordan." There were seven children.(41)

Another Rives descendant in Chester County, South Carolina, before the American Revolution was Nathaniel Rives, son of Robert Rives and Elizabeth Hicks of Prince George County, Virginia. Nathaniel Rives was a nephew of George Rives and Sarah Cook, whose descendants were set forth above.(42)

J. Rives Childs, in his Reliques of the Rives, mentions one Nathaniel Rives who was sworn as deputy sheriff of Greensville County, Virginia, on June 26, 1783. Nathaniel's wife was Lucy, daughter of Littlebury Robinson. Childs states that Nathaniel then removed to Chester County, South Carolina.(43) It is this writer's view that Mr. Childs is in error in this regard. There was indeed a Nathaniel Rives in Chester County before the Revolution, but this is not the same Nathaniel Rives.

There were two men named Nathaniel Rives: one lived in Greensville County, Virginia, and was married to Lucy Robinson and served as deputy sheriff; the other Nathaniel Rives was related to the first Nathaniel, but was a Loyalist during the American Revolution and was so mentioned in Mrs. Ellett's Women of the Revolution.(44) This Nathaniel Rives was persona non grata in South Carolina and would hardly have been permitted to serve in public office. In addition, the Nathaniel Rives of South Carolina was married to Sarah _____?, not Lucy Robinson.

Nathaniel Rives of South Carolina signed his last will and testament on October 18, 1789, and died before December 31, 1789, on which day his will was proved in open court in Chester County, South Carolina.(45) Issue of Nathaniel Rives and his wife, Sarah _____?

- A. Susanna Robinson Rives. Born about 1784. Married William Randall.
- B. Irwin (or Irvin) Rives. Born about 1786. Living in South Carolina in 1816.
- C. Nathaniel Rives. Born 1789-90, a posthumous child. Benjamin Rives (see above) is shown in the Chester County records as guardian of Irwin and Nathaniel Rives and possibly also of Susanna Robinson Rives.(46)

Sarah, widow of Nathaniel Rives, married second Mark Eaves, father of Braxton R. Eaves; and third _____? _____ Neal.(47)

It should be noted that this family was related by blood to that of the renowned Virginia Indian trader Nathaniel Irvin.(48) Further, there is an additional connection with the family of one Robert Hicks.(49) J. Rives Childs comments that he was never able to ascertain the exact relationship between this Robert Hicks and Capt. Robert Hicks, who accompanied William Byrd when the latter established the boundary line between Virginia and North Carolina in 1728.(50) Here is a possible connection that offers the future investigator an interesting challenge.

8. In the absence of family Bible records and of a last will and testament for Benjamin Rives, wife Mary Rives, or wife Catherine Rives, the writer has put together a list of children of Benjamin Rives based on information found in the Chester County (S.C.) deeds. CCDB W, page 316, makes it obvious that Benjamin Rives and Catherine, his wife, signed over their worldly possessions in 1826 to their son-in-law Joseph Carter, in return for his maintaining Benjamin and Catherine in their final years.

9. CCDB D, p. 208. There are four instances in which Benjamin Rives, in 1790 and 1791, deeds land to four men, in each case the consideration being L5. He is obviously settling land on four of his sons-in-law, or at least on four prospective sons-in-law. The writer has not been able to learn the Christian name of Wilson Henderson's wife, who was, of course, Benjamin Rives's daughter.

A MOST UNUSUAL EPITAPH

In response to my query in the March 1st column concerning a branch of the Pickett family, John P. Frazier of Pittsburg sent me the most unusual epitaph I've ever seen. It was written with such love, devotion, and heartache, that all sides of the monument had to be utilized in order to inscribe it fully. Sally (Pickett) Cummings died of cholera, one month before her eighteenth birthday, at the residence of her widowed mother on Red River. Her father, James Belton Pickett, was one of the founders of Shreveport. Both parents were born in Chester, South Carolina.

SALLIE A. CUMMINGS

Wife of R. C. CUMMINGS, only daughter of
JAMES B. PICKETT and PAULINA DeGRAFFENREID.

Born July 19, 1837      Died June 7, 1855

Weep not dear husband, and sweet mother, we will meet again.

A few short weeks ago, the above named lady was in the enjoyment of all earth's gifts: beauty, health, friends and the whole world smiling on her; when suddenly the wing of the "Destroying Angel", in his search for victims, scathed the fair brow of her who now sleeps on the bosom of her God. She was too good and fair for earth: her young feet had but commenced to tread the many labyrinths of this world, when She was snatched from our midst, to adorn celestial courts, But we will not mourn for thee, Sallie, for we know thy delicate fingers are now sweeping the golden chords of heavenly harps, and thy sweet voice is now, and will be eternally, chanting praises before the Almighty's throne. Many are they in this vale of sorrow to regret thee: many are they who will miss thy kind smile and loving glance. It was as the dew on the flower when parched by the heat of day it unfolds its petals to catch the nectar which is distilled from the flowers in heaven; such was thy smile. As the dew revives the perishing plant, so did thy smiles cheer the hearts of thy friends. Thou wert too fair for earth; thy guileless heart rivaled the lily in purity. Like the rose, thou wert beautiful, and as the violet, modest. Farewell! When the green grass grows over thee, and the Marble monument is raised o'er thy peaceful breast, and as the birds sing a requiem and the winds sigh in the branches of the willow which waves o'er thy frail form beneath the sculptured marble, draw aside the silvery veil of heaven and cast a pitying glance on her who wanders to a grave at even to plant there a little flower to the memory of one whom she loved with affection as undying as the amaranth which blooms in Paradise, and strike thy harp gently and breath forth these words to the disconsolate one: "Weep not, sweet mother, we will meet again."

Requiescat in pace

The unexpected demise of this amiable and accomplished lady had cast a gloom over her numerous friends, and brought mourning and lamentation into the dwellings of a large circle of relatives. Death, ever inexorable, has delivered his stern mandate to one in the morning of life, in the bloom of health, whilst surrounded by all that render life charming and agreeable. But six months married, the bridal wreath was yet fresh around her brow, and the gilded barge, freighted with her youthful hopes, glided happily, tranquilly along. But the dark hour came while it was yet early, and under the shadowy wing of the veiled messenger, she passed from time into eternity. It were a difficult task, indeed, to attempt a delineation of the virtues which characterized her life, and endeared her to all who had the happiness to know her, and to call her friend. The writer of this humble tribute to her memory feels his utter inability even to do them common justice. She united to a cultivated and refined mind, a loveliness of character, and a Christian meekness, all the graces and accomplishments, which combine to make a true woman and finished lady. Modest and unassuming in her intercourse with the world, sincere in her friendship and devoted in her attachment - she was universally beloved and is universally lamented.

None knew her but to love her, none named her but to praise.

A young bride, surrounded by gaiety and cheerfulness and the pleasures of a gay city so calculated to fascinate the young and attach them to the world - yet in the midst of all she did not forget to look to the Giver of all Good. She chose the better part. She preferred that wisdom which looketh beyond this "vale of tears", and fixing her eyes on Calvary, united herself to the Church. We mourn for her, cut off in the midst of youth and usefulness - but we mourn not as those that have no hope - She had placed her strength in that Arm that can burst the cerements of the grave. She had hearkened to that voice that can wake the slumbers of the dead.

Bright be the place of the soul! No lovelier spirit than thine E'er burst from its mortal control, In the orbs of the blessed to shine. On earth thou wert all but divine. As thy soul shall immortally be: When we know that thy God is with Thee.

Her death has been a source of grief to all but herself. Full of faith in her Redeemer she counted it gain to die, But what was gain to her, is loss to many. Loss to a mother of an affectionate daughter - Loss to a husband of a dutiful and loving wife, and loss to all who came within the range of her acquaintance, of an example of true Christian demeanor in all the relationships of life.

There is a reaper whose name is Death. He gazed at this flower with tearful eyes, He killed its drooping leaves; It was for the Lord of Paradise, He bound it in his sheaves. It shall bloom in fields of light, Transplanted by my care; And Saints upon their garments white, This sacred blossom wear. The mother gave in tears of pain, The flower she most did love; She knew she would find the dear token again, In the fields of light above. O, not in cruelty, not in wrath, the reaper came that day; T'was an angel visited the green earth, And took this flower away.

Mr. Frazier is well-known to researchers for the many cemetery survey books he has published. This cemetery, located near the Cottage Grove Presbyterian Church in Bossier Parish, Louisiana, will be included in his next book. The Pickett family plot, about 25 feet square, is enclosed within a majestic wrought iron fence and is in excellent condition. Of the eight beautiful monuments, the one to Sallie A. (Pickett) Cummings is by far the most elaborate.

LATHAN HISTORY

From the crowning of James I, 1605, until the enthronement of William, Prince of Orange, 1688, a great many people from the north of Scotland took refuge in north Ireland. Among these were the Lathans, then spelled Leathan.

The eldest known authentically was James Lathan, who married Peggy Waugh. To these were born 5 sons and 2 daughters. Of these sons, three of them: David, William and Robert, emigrated to the United States prior to 1790. William settled in Lancaster, then Craven District. David settled in Genesee County, New York, and Robert, who married Nancy Martin while in Ireland, settled first in Williamsburg County and afterward moved to Fairfield County and settled in the Wateree Section near what is now known as White Oak. On their passage, which occupied nine weeks, they lost one daughter, Jane, who was buried at sea. They had a family of seven children, only 5 attained to the age of maturity, two of whom died without issue, viz: William and Nancy. Sarah married James McLerkin and moved with her husband to Tipton County, Tenn. where they reared a family of four children - whose descendants are mostly living in Tennessee. John Lathan married Mary Glenn, they had seven children - their descendants are scattered from South Carolina to Texas. In the year 1840, his wife died and he went to Tipton County, Tenn. to make his home with his sister, Sarah McLerkin, where he died in 1842 and is buried in Salem Cemetery.

Samuel M. Lathan married Martha Patterson on 10th of March 1829 and settled on a plantation given him by his father, near Blackstock, S. C. They reared a family of eleven children: Robert married Fannie E. Barron and reared a family of three boys and four girls. Nancy married John Simpson and died without issue. Sarah K. never married. Mary Isabella married her cousin Robert Lathan, moved to Arkansas and died leaving one daughter. Jane married A. P. Moffat of Troy, Tenn., died leaving one son Charles L. William married Amelia Beam, reared a family of eight children. Samuel Boston married Susan A. Meek, daughter of Jas. B. Meek and Cornelia Rainey Meek, had four children. Martha married John B. Wylie and reared a family of three boys and four girls. John B. married Lizzie Wise and they had one boy and six girls. Margaret Ann married J. Garvin, had one son who died young. David Warren married Lizzy Kirby of Tennessee, reared a family of three girls and two boys. No record of Sally. Samuel Lathan and his wife both died in 1890, the former at the age of 93 and the latter 82.

Samuel had enlisted in the Confederate Army in 1861 in Co. "D" 17th Regt. S.C.V. and served during the entire war in said company. He was in the battles of Malvern Hill, 2nd Manassas, Rappahanock, and the first Maryland Campaign of 1862, was wounded at Boonsboro and taken prisoner, released Jan. 1863, was in the campaign to relieve Vicksburg July 1863, and the fighting around Jackson, Miss. In 1864, he was assigned to light duty on account of wound incapacitating him for active duty. Served with Johnson's Army at battles of Averysboro and Bentonsville, N. C., surrendered April 29, 1865 at Greensboro, N. C. with Gen. J. E. Johnson's army.

Robert Kilpatrick married Isabella Dunn, who was born in 1730. They came to America about 1760 and settled in Fairfield County. Afterwards they moved to the lower edge of Chester County. They had three sons: John, Robert, and Thomas and two daughters: Sarah and Hannah. Sarah married Robert Patterson, the son of James Patterson. Robert, the only child, was ten years of age when James Patterson, a first mate on board a trading vessel between England and the East Indies sailed from Belfast bound for India, leaving behind in County Down, his young wife and small son, Robert Jr. Neither the ship or anyone on board were ever heard from again. Whether the ship was caught in a storm and went to the bottom or was captured by the Pirates, who then infested the South Seas, and all on board made to walk the plank, will never be known. His widow afterwards married John Tennant and during the year 1786 immigrated to the United States and settled in Chester County. His son, Robert Jr., married Sarah Kilpatrick and to them were born the following children: John, Robert, Martha, Nancy, Isabella, Hannah, and Sarah. Martha married Samuel M. Lathan. She died 1890 and is buried at Hopewell A.R.P. Church Cemetery in Chester County, S. C. Robert Kilpatrick served in the Revolutionary War and died at the age of 105 and was buried about ten miles from Chester, at Hopewell A.R.P. Church Cemetery.

STEPHENSON RECORD-FROM STEPHENSON FAMILY BIBLE

John Campbell Stephenson, born August 28, 1797, in Tennessee, was the son of Hugh W. Stephenson, who was born in Ireland, probably Ballymoney, County Antrim, January 25, 1765. Hugh came to America with his parents when he was seven years old. Hugh's parents were William Stephenson (commonly called Stinson) and his first wife, R. Green Beattie. William Stinson was the oldest son of Robert Stephenson, I, a Scotchman, who reared his family in Ballymoney, County Antrim, Ireland. Robert and his brother James Stephenson and their sisters and their husbands, Elizabeth and Alexander Brady and Nancy and William Anderson, sailed in 1772 to America with a colony raised by Rev. William Martin, the pastor for the Presbyterian Church at Ballymoney. They settled on Rocky Creek, near the falls of the Catawba River, in Chester County. (William Stinson, by a second marriage to Elizabeth Wylie, was also the father of Danial Green Stinson, mentioned from time to time in The Bulletin)

Hugh W. Stephenson, oldest son of William Stinson and R. Green Beattie Stinson, married his cousin, Margaret Stephenson, daughter of Capt. James Stephenson, mentioned above. Margaret was born in Ireland on November 28, 1770. Hugh and Margaret were married in York Co., S.C., on October 16, 1787.

In 1794, Hugh and Margaret Stephenson moved to Smith Co., Tenn., and in 1806 to Maury Co., Tenn. In 1819 all the family moved to Mount Hope, Lawrence County, Alabama.

John Campbell Stephenson, fifth child and second son of Hugh W. and Margaret Stephenson, married Agnes Sherrell Simpson in Tennessee. Agnes was the daughter of William Simpson and his wife, Elizabeth B. _____. They reared a large family of sons and daughters near Mt. Hope, Alabama. John was a Cumberland Presbyterian Minister.

PRO 30/11/80

Sir,

Received yours of the 7th it will _____ his right to keep on _____ hundred militia _____ to prevent _____ from coming down from the mountains in that I have given the fullest directions to Lt. Col. Belfour relation to the affairs of this Province as he will have the management of all the Posts. When I move into North Carolina, you will please to keep up a constant correspondence with him that he may be able to save every Post or Part of the Frontier. In regard to regular pay I think it should be avoided if possible unless the militia should be called out to a distant march whilst they are only defending their own District. I should think that provisions, some salt, which might be bought for that purpose from Charlestown, and _____ given occasionally when they are diligent and behave well would answer the purpose. You _____ have made concert this with Lt. Col. Belfour, so it must depend on the Practise which he finds himself under the Ninety six of pursuing the other Districts. _____ to my opinion of him but I hardly think it can be right to _____ them. I would have them painted in the manner by which their _____ be forfeited if they ever joined us now defected in carrying on correspondence with the Enemy. I would oblige them to furnish some contribution either in Clothing, Provisions or Sugar to the militia whilst _____ but with most moderation as not to make them desperate, after some of the best of them showed signs of sincere Repentance. They should be armed and restored to the Rights of Citizens, but this should be done with good caution. I have enclosed Lt. Brown's Letter and the papers contained in them with my opinion on the subject to Lt. Col. Belfour, as I should be too _____ employed and at too great a distance to carry on a correspondence with the Governor and Council of Georgia on the subject.

I have found this settlement pretty well supplied with wheat, but we find it difficult to supply Camden, and as it is essential to the sick and wounded to have wheat flour instead of Indian meal, I should be glad if you would take every possible means to send even a small quantity.

I am
Your most obedient and most humble Serv.
Cornwallis

Foresters Plantation,
Waxhaw
Sept. 11, 1780

PRO 30/11/80

Sir,

I prepose marching tomorrow to Capt. Crawford's Plantation in Waxhaw Creek which will entirely cover all the settlement. I have found a considerable quantity of wheat in the different plantations, the threshing, cleaning, and collecting it at the mills is a work of some trouble in the day of march, in five days easily to Crawford's holding one day at Berkly's. I do not think we can manage to send any flour to those on the road, therefore they must provide themselves for four days. When they are at Crawfords the Road on both sides will be equally secure. Should you have any dispatches of great consequence to forward it may be right to send one or three mounted men with them.

Regiment marched from Ninety six Friday last so that it will arrive in Camden in two or three days. The amount of the 63rd gives me the greatest concern. I hope that care and being kept dry and taking a great deal of Bark will soon reestablish the Regiment and order it fit for service. I am not without my apprehension for the 7th. Everything is perfectly quiet in this part of the world, the inhabitants are mostly fled.

I am
Your most obedient and faithful Servant
Cornwallis

Announcing The Publication Of

DESCENDANTS OF MARY REMER AND REV. JOHN SIMPSON AND THE REMER AND STRAIT FAMILIES, Compiled By: Max Perry. This is a genealogical history of the descendants of George and Elizabeth Remer, that arrived in America in 1710 during the Palatine emigration from Germany, and also the descendants of Christian Strait that arrived at the same time. It includes several generations of ancestors of Christian Strait that lived in Germany before 1710.

It contains an update from my book, Simpson-Roach Families, published in 1973 of the descendants of Mary Remer and Rev. John Simpson that settled in Fishing Creek, Chester Co., S. C. in 1772 and the descendants of Christopher Strait that came with them at that time. The relationship of the Remer and the Strait families is that Mary Remer Simpson's father died when she was five years old and her mother married Johann Leonard Strait in 1748 and had a family of five other children. It includes data on the children of Johann Leonard Strait.

Many thanks to all of you who offered to share your copy of The Old Covenanter Cemetery in Marion County, Illinois with us. Mrs. Irena A. Bauder of Peoria, Illinois made a copy of her book and mailed it to us at no cost to the society. I want to share a portion of her letter with you.

"I was born and grew up on "the next hill" north of the cemetery and played in the cemetery and on the bluff that went down to the small creek that ran through the small valley between our house and the old church and cemetery. (It still does, but our house is gone.) Those hills seemed SO high to me. They have shrunk considerably since then -- especially since I have seen both the Appalachian and Rocky mountains, or portions of them.

The occupants of the old cemetery seem almost like old friends. Many of them I knew, and many more I have heard talked about so much that it seems to me that I knew them, too. When I was a little girl, I used to be in the line when Mr. Boggs of Centralia or Mr. Osborn of Dix, undertakers, handed flowers from the horse-drawn hearse to little girls to carry into the Old Church in the funeral processions. And many times, as I grew older, I played the old tinny piano for singing hymns. When it finally completely gave out, Mr. Boggs would bring along a folding organ to play with the hymns. That was much more interesting to play. Finally the old church went to rack and ruin. I don't remember when it was built, but it was held together with wooden pegs - no metal nails in those days. I do remember that it was 40' x 60', a rather large building for those times, I imagine. A small chapel was built to replace it. The high, enclosed pulpit from the old church was salvaged and installed in the chapel. There are two steps from floor level to enter the pulpit through a door. No one can see the minister if he sits on the chairs provided in the pulpit. There is a depression carved in the railing on the pulpit for the minister to put his watch in. Judging by what I have heard and read about the length of sermons then, I wonder if that was a subtle hint to the minister. If so, it seems not to have to have been very effective."

Thank you, Mrs. Bauder, for your generosity in copying the cemetery for us since so many from this area are buried there. We do appreciate your sharing the above info in your letter with us also, for these little personal notes are what makes it so interesting.
