Message From The President

Hello everyone,

Hope your spring has been a good one for you all. We have been extremely busy this spring and have gotten very much behind, so please be patient with us/me. I could quote you statistics again this quarter, but I will not bore you with them. We have had some great monthly programs and continue to digitize the genealogy library collection and make it available to members on the web site. As stated on the web site, let me know if there is information you would like to see made available ahead of the present schedule. Thank you, for the input and feedback for our newsletters and website. Sorry, for the interest of time in getting the next two quarter newsletters out to you, the hyperlinks from the table of contents and the index will be left off. You can still do 'ctrl' 'f' to find words in the newsletter.

Thank you, for library books which we continue to receive and research material from member's estates, libraries and members; all these help enhance the research library and help provide expedited assistance for our members and other researchers.

Please continue your support with your membership, donations and volunteer support!

I will close for now; hope you all have a great summer and happy genealogy hunting!

Yours in service,

Eddie Killian

GONE WITH $2,000, R. C. BROCKINGTON OF A COLUMBIA BANK SKIPS

He Disappeared With Consignment of Cash Which Was Given Him Early Yesterday to Ship by Express

Robert C. Brockington, aged nineteen, who has been for about two years collecting clerk for the State Bank, has disappeared with $2,000 belonging to the bank.

Shortly after the bank was opened for business yesterday morning, young Brockington was given a sealed package containing $2,000, with instructions to ship it by express to one of the bank's customers.

Since the moment that he put on his hat and left the bank with the package in his pocket, he has not been seen by any of the bank people, nor have the officers who were informed of the matter after an interval been able to ascertain what became of him. Young Brockington has made a good clerk and has gained the confidence of his superiors to such an extent that they did not allow the fact of his disappearance with the money entrusted to him to become known until today, hoping against hope that he would turn up almost any moment with the express receipt for the package and a good excuse for his absence.

His disappearance, from the time he left the bank, seems as completely a mystery as if the earth had opened then and there and swallowed him up. So far as the bank officials have been able to learn, none of his many friends about town have seen him, nor has he visited his room. His employers are still unwilling to believe that he has absconded with the package, and are convinced that if he has, ---some of his friends reject with scorn the idea that he has stolen the money. They fear that he has been the victim of foul play, though it is hard to imagine how anything could have happened to him during the five minutes required to traverse the three blocks of busy Main Street between the bank and the express office.

Brockington came here about two years ago from Winnsboro. He belongs to an excellent family, and has prominent connections in this city.—Columbia Record, September 20.

YOUNG BROCKINGTON ARRESTED

Jacksonville, Florida, September 21—Robert C. Brockington, collection clerk of the State Bank of Columbia, S. C., who disappeared from there yesterday with $2,000 of the bank funds, was captured by the police at a late hour tonight and made a full confession. The police authorities of Columbia were notified by long distance telephone of the arrest. Brockington is a mere lad, and seems thoroughly ashamed of his escapade. He had all the money with him except $90.

Robert C. Brockington, the young Columbia defaulter, who was caught by the Jacksonville police in that city early Saturday morning, was brought back to Columbia on the train reaching there at daylight. Director Dunning had him in custody and cashier Melton, of the State Bank, was with them to identify the clerk and look after the bank's money. He is now lodged in jail.

DAVID D. GAILLARD - DUG CULEBRA CUT AND CONQUERED PANAMA CANAL SLIDES

Engineer's Death Culmination of Breakdown Following Hard Work on Canal

Baltimore, Maryland, December 5—Lieut. Col. David Dubose Gaillard, Unites States Army, who directed the engineering work in the Culebra Cut, a division of the Panama Canal, died at John Hopkins Hospital here today.

Lieut. Col. Gaillard had been a patient at the hospital since August 17 last, suffering from a growth in the head, the result of seven years arduous labor in the tropical climate of the Canal Zone. He failed gradually but steadily, and for the last two months had been in a state of coma, due to the pressure of the cranial growth upon the brain cells. The physicians decided some time ago that an operation was useless and might hasten his death.

He is survived by his widow and a son, Lieut. David P. Gaillard Unites States Army. Both were at his bedside when the end came.

Lieut. Col. Gaillard was born at Winnsboro, S. C., in 1854. He graduated from West Point Military Academy in 1884 and since that time had won many honors in the engineering service. A bill was introduced in congress last month promoting him to the rank of colonel in recognition of his distinguished services which culminated in the great engineering feat in the Culebra section of the Panama Canal.

When Culebra Cut was flooded by the blasting of Gamboa dike on October 10 last, Col. Gaillard lay unconscious in his bed at the hospital here.

Col. Gaillard's death is the culmination of a breakdown incurred by long hours of work and exposure in the Canal Zone, where he pitted his skill as an engineer against the shifting soil of the Culebra Cut. To him had been given the most difficult task in connection with the canal's construction, to master the landslides and quicksands which extended for eight miles along the lines of the Culebra Cut.

During the early years of his contest with the landslides, Col. Gaillard never knew what a morning was to bring forth. Overnight the mountains moved and covered with their deposit the tracks, and even the cars which were used to remove material. The Culebra Cut runs through the backbone of the American Continent. Gaillard dug indomitably until hill after hill found its angle of repose and he checked the landslides save at Cucuracha and points nearby. There the sliding was persistent, but had visibly weakened, when the engineer was compelled to stop his work and seek rest.

For the greater period of his work on the Isthmus, Col. Gaillard was without a chief assistant. He wanted to save money. He gave his attention not only to the great engineering problems, but to all the details of shovel work, train work and drainage. He checked up on the small things and once it was computed that by his careful oversight he had saved the government $17,000.

Men who worked with him said that he gave twelve hours of each day to the Culebra Cut. In addition he had a voice in all matters pertaining to engineering work in the zone, to civil administration and to the general conduct of affairs. The hard work, the nervous strain, the worry and the tropical climate combined broke his health at the hour of his final triumph. There was little left there to be done but to remove the soft earth of the slide at Cucuracha.

Final arrangements for the funeral have not been made, but the interment will take place in the National Cemetery at Arlington on Monday afternoon. It is expected that the body will be removed to Washington tonight or tomorrow.

Fairfield Granite Wins

The World's Fair committee on awards has decided that the stone from the Winnsboro Granite Company's quarries is entitled to first premium for building and ornamental purposes. This news has afforded us intense gratification, and it should be hailed with joy by every citizen of Fairfield who is interested in the success and prosperity of local enterprises. The Winnsboro Granite Company is by no means an infant organization, and during its life has met with many trying difficulties, but the gentlemen who compose it have exhibited unusual perseverance and business pluck. Their energy has been amply rewarded, and an already successful business will be inestimably increased by the favorable decision rendered by the World's Fair committee.

The men who some years ago invested their capital in the quarries had unflinching faith in the superiority of the granite, and that faith has been justified beyond all expectation.

Their exhibit at the fair was insignificant and unimposing, but quality will tell in the end.—News and Herald

Harrisburg, Pa., December 11—Contractor Payne, who will build the new capitol took out a building permit fixing the value at $4,000,000.

A committee from Winnsboro, S. C., where the granite for the new capitol is to be quarried, called on Gov. Stone today to protest against the action of the Pennsylvania Granite Cutters in demanding that the granite be dressed in the north because of poor labor and low wages in Winnsboro.

They said that labor at Winnsboro quarries, is skilled and commands good wages. The governor referred the matter to the contractor.

Interesting Insurance Case

Winnsboro, September 28—One of the most important and decidedly the most interesting cases heard on the civil side during the September term of court was that of Mrs. Addie Williford against the Aetna Life Insurance Company. The plaintiff's husband carried a policy of insurance in the company. A little more than a year previous to his death when he presented his premium the same was refused on the ground that the insured was drinking to such a degree as to impair his health. His next premium was also offered and refused on the same ground.

The company offered to pay the insured the cash value of his policy at the time of the refusal to accept further premiums, but this he refused.

The suit was for the full amount of the policy, $2,000, and interest on the same. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff for the full amount. Judge Gary reserved his decision as to a motion for a new trial.

Winnsboro, S. C., Feb. 2, 1866

Dear Phoenix: I reached this place at 10 o'clock last evening. By-the-way, this place reminds me of a little episode in my college days. One day, in the town of Spartanburg, S. C., I was walking down street, and was attracted by an old gentleman making shoes. On inquiring after his past history, I learned that he had ranked as captain in the late war with Great Britain, and that he was a son of General Wynn, of revolutionary celebrity. The latter distinguished himself in the war for American independence, and was, subsequently, sent to the United States Congress by his grateful countrymen. At on time he owned a large tract of land, embracing what is now Winnsboro. His son, the shoe cobbler, had always been a temperate high-toned gentleman, but, by some strange freaks of fortune, had been reduced to deep poverty. With tears in his eyes, he said that he had two sons in the Confederate Army, and that one had been killed.

Winnsboro has 24 stores, 5 churches, 5 schools, with a corresponding number of intelligent citizens. The Winnsboro Female Institute is flourishing under the care of Rev. A. G. Stacy, A. M. Mr. Stacy is an enthusiastic and competent educator, and is assisted by proper teachers. During my trip here, I was in conversation with an intelligent gentleman directly from Marshall, Texas, who says that all things are quiet and orderly; that they have plenty of specie, and unusual prosperity is hopefully anticipated.

I am stopping with Mr. Brown, who knows how to entertain his guests hospitably and elegantly. Mr. Phoenix, if you wish to fare well in this town, stop with Mr. Brown.

Pickpockets – Yesterday a Mr. Feaster, from Fairfield, who has been blind from his birth, went on board the boat in charge of what he supposed to be a gentleman, for the purpose of going over to Sullivan's Island. During the short passage this gentleman was very assiduous in his attention to Mr. Feaster, but when the boat landed, Mr. Feaster suddenly missed his friend, and a fine gold watch, which he had in his fob pocket when he went on board. – Charleston Mercury

February 13, 1857 Issue of the Memphis Daily Appeal

Mr. John Cathcart, a merchant from Winnsboro, South Carolina, was stabbed in Charleston on the 5th inst., and it is feared the wound will prove fatal.

From the January 5, 1876 Issue of the Fairfield Herald

.....He then asked if he could not stay at the hotel, but the officers informed him that their orders were to carry him to the City Hall. He then went with the officers to that place. Judge Snead required him to give bond for one thousand dollars. This could not be done just at that time, so he was kept in custody. The officers who went to the Augusta Hotel in quest of Mr. Woodward found that that gentleman had disappeared. He had evidently heard what was intended and therefore kept out of the way. The officers remained about the hotel until the morning.

In the meantime the differences between the two gentlemen had been submitted to a board of honor, consisting of Gen. M. C. Butler, Gen. M. W. Gary, Major J. B. Cumming and Major Jos. B. Ganahl. These succeeded in effecting a settlement entirely satisfactory and honorable to both parties. This having been done, Mr. Clowney was released from arrest. Both Mr. Woodward and Mr. Clowney will return to Winnsboro, this morning.

As we are informed, the origin of the difficulty was as follows: Mr. Clowney, who owns a place near Winnsboro, had given directions to a negro man employed by him, to shoot every dog annoying his sheep. Sometime after the order was given, Mr. Woodward was out hunting, having with him a dog which he prized very highly. He passed near Mr. Clowney's sheep, and the dog running up to them commenced to bark. He was immediately shot by the negro man in charge of the sheep. Mr. Woodward indignant at this asked the negro man what he meant. The latter told him that he was acting under instructions from Mr. Clowney. A few days afterward, Mr. Woodward went to the National Bank of Winnsboro, of which Mr. Clowney is Cahier, and spoke to him in regard to the affair. Some angry words passed. The parties finally separated. That night, Mr. Woodward went to Columbia to attend the meeting of the tax union. When he returned, Mr. Clowney sent him a note demanding an apology for what he termed his "abusive language". Mr. Woodward declined and a meeting was to take place on the river.....

Q. Susan Herring. Do you have any information showing that the parents of Catherine and Harriett Amanda Price are Thomas and Catherine Drennan Price. If my hunch is right that Jane (Price) is part of the Price family that moved from Winnsboro to Macon, Georgia in 1840s, I may find more information in records there. I can't imagine there isn't a family connection for Jane Price Upson, who was born in Winnsboro SC in 1828 and had a son, Albert Griffin Upson and Harriet Price Griffin, who, I just found out from coming across her obituary, was born in Winnsboro also, in 1823 and had a daughter, Alice Upson Griffin. AND there was a carriage maker apprentice named Griffin on the Upson's 1850 census records. AND a mother named Catherine Price with the Griffin family on the 1860 census records. I want information about my great-great grandparents, Thomas Sumpter Price and Catherine Drennan Ritchey (as it is spelled in The Upson Family in America.) The only information I have about them is gleaned from other families' information in Ancestry.com. Those families name Thomas and Catherine as parents → Harriette Amanda, b. 1823, Winnsboro, SC; John Thomas, b. 1826, SC; Jane Catherine, b. 1828 Winnsboro, SC; and Robert Cathcart, b. 1831 SC. I would like to know if my great-great grandmother was Irish. Are Jane Catherine Price, born 25 Sept. 1828, Winnsboro, S.C. and Harriette Amanda Price, born 13 Jan. 1823, Winnsboro, S.C. sisters? I'm not sure whether I've mentioned I found a passenger and immigration list that named a Catherine Ritchey, age 16, arriving in Baltimore in 1803 (Brian Mitchell, "Irish Passenger Lists 1803-1806). Her age would compare with the (about) ages listed in the 1850 (60 years) and 1860 (73 years) censuses and listed her birthplace as Ireland. Are they the same woman, my g-great grandmother? It would be interesting if the immigration list named her final destination in America and any sponsor since she, evidently, arrived alone.

A. I researched your request much of the last two days and it appears this family either lived in Chester County close to the Fairfield County line or elsewhere in the state. There are several early Price graves in the Crosby cemetery right at the Chester County line.

Also, I have attached the Price Burying Ground records from the Chester County Tombstone book.

William Price's headstone has been broken into about 25 pieces. Some of the pieces cannot be found. His will, on file in Chester is dated 25 March 1833. It was proven 6 May, 1833.

Dorcias Price, wife of William, is probably buried in this cemetery but her grave is not marked except by a field stone. She died January, 1845.

No other deed/land records, plats, probate or wills for Price's could be found in Fairfield County.

Checking online at Ancestry, etc. and your tree, I can offer no additional records except what has been attached. You can also search www.geni.com for Price, www.genealogy.com for Price, www.langsyneshop.co.uk/price-family-book-welsh. All of these above sites have a great deal of Price information. Chester County Public Library has a reference room that may contain much more on the Price family. Attached is a paid-researcher list. I mainly looked for Thomas and Catherine Price in my research. There are probably Upson and Griffin information in our collection. We also have some Georgia books in our collection. We do not have any for Macon, Georgia and there is Price's listed in Wiregrass, Georgia books, but not Thomas or Catherine. SC law requiring the filing of marriage records became effective 1 of January 1910. SC law requiring birth and death certificates became effective 1 of January 1915. Occasionally, one finds a delayed birth record from late 1890's and 1900's up to 1915. Some states are earlier. Most birth, marriage and/or death records prior to 1900 are found in newspapers, church records, family bibles or family history passed down and wills (however they usually only mention names of children) Added to this newsletter, we do have some John Richey, James Richey and Zachariah Price deed information that I will list for you that can be found at this link

Q. Warren Perry: My Name is Warren Perry (Monument, CO), and I have been a past member and should be in your database. Since my initial contact with you a few years ago regarding researching my Perry line (paternal), I have made significant progress (both due to research, as well as both yDNA and Autosomal DNA testing). The Perry Family Tree that you developed (based on my initial information) and posted on Ancestry.com is in error, so I would like to refer you to the more accurate Perry-Nielsen Family Tree (public) - also on Ancestry.com. Please review it and then correct/remove the Perry Family Tree that you initially posted. As a result of my yDNA and Autosomal DNA testing I was able to determine my relationships, as indicated below (and this is what allowed me to discover why there was no information on my grandfather, Ernest Perry (1893-1945) prior to his enlistment in the US Army in 1911). The Perry's named below were from the Fishdam, Union, SC area in the early 1800s', and the Cameron's were in the Blackstock, Chester, SC area. As a result of my (Ernest Perry's grandson) Autosomal DNA testing that matches the testing of other direct descendants of Mary Perry Shirley, it is highly likely that Ernest Perry and Ernest Shirley are one in the same person. Ernest Perry was born in Jan 1893 and Mary Perry (1857- 1914) (his mother) married Richard Shirley in 1895. Our family records indicate that Ernest Perry's mother's name was Mary Perry. The 1900 Census records show Ernest Shirley being born in 1894 - still a year prior to Mary Perry's marriage to Richard Shirley. In addition, my yDNA testing (at the 67 marker level) matches some Cameron's (at 1 genetic distance) and autosomal DNA matches to several direct descendants of James C. Cameron (1823 - 1901) indicates that Ernest Perry's real father was almost certainly one of the sons or younger brothers of James C. Cameron of Blackstock, Chester, SC. So, based on DNA testing it would appear that Ernest Perry is most likely the result of an NPE between Mary Perry and one of the Cameron's, and this took place about 18 months before Mary Perry married Richard Shirley. I believe that Ernest took his mother's name when he left home and entered the army at the age of 18 (perhaps, he always used the Perry name, and it was only recorded as Shirley in the 1900 census (maybe the census taker assumed him to be a Shirley as he was a 'son' in the Shirley household). Additionally, I have no YDNA or autosomal DNA matches to any Shirley's at this time. For reference, my autosomal DNA (all indicating a common ancestor within 3-4 generations) matches with descendants of Mary Perry and James C. Cameron are as follows:

descendants of Nettie Mae Perry Shirley (1897-1982) - sister of Ernest Shirley (Perry?)

and daughter of Mary Perry and Richard Shirley descendants of Lillie Cameron (1987 -) - daughter of James C. Cameron descendants of Lottie Cameron - daughter of Curtis Greene Cameron, granddaughter of James C. Cameron.

descendants of Nancy C. Cameron (1843-1929) - daughter of James C. Cameron descendants of Margaret Cameron (1845-1922) - daughter of James C. Cameron descendants of Mary Cameron (1899-1971) - daughter of Joseph A. Cameron (1868-1947) (grandson of James C. Cameron) and Ida Mae Perry (sister of Mary Perry - Ernest Shirley's (Perry?) mother).

Cameron's grandsons) married Ida Mae Perry (another one of Mary Perry's sisters). So, the two families were obviously closely involved. Finally, I find it very strange that Mary Perry's mother, Mary Ann Perry

(born about 1825 - husband was Stewart Perry b. 1825), was still bearing children in her early-mid 50's as indicated by the births of Mary Perry's siblings: Ida Mae Perry, b. 1875, Hattie Perry b. 1876, Hampton

Perry b. 1878, and Scott Perry b. 1885. Numerous records show these siblings as children of Mary and

Stewart Perry. I suspect that they may have been the product of an incestuous relationship between their older sister Mary Perry (1857-1914) and Stewart Perry. I am sure that we will never know for certain, but one has to wonder. I wanted to share this information with you so that you can update your records, and, perhaps, let me know if you have any additional information that might help be confirm any of the above. Meanwhile, all of updated my family line info is on my Ancestry.com tree 'Perry-

Nielsen Family Tree'. It is a 'Public Tree' and it is very extensive - too extensive to type out in this email.

Hopefully, that will give you the reference point that you need.

A. After extensive research in our collection, I have not been able to prove that Ernest Perry and Ernest Shirley is the same person. If I do I will let you know. If you ever do, please share with us so we can update our Perry and/or Shirley Family Files.

Q. Adam Caldwell: If you would like a copy of the Andrew Caldwell letter, I am happy to send it too. I also have a Methodist obituary of Andrew Caldwell that states he is closely related to John Caldwell Calhoun if you would like to see that. Andrew Caldwell was admittedly old when he wrote the letter and some of the details are incorrect, but it is the best thing I have had so far. If I can verify the inhabitants at Caldwell's Place that might give me additional precious information on the family. As far as I know, the family consisted of George Caldwell (Father), Jane Winn (Mother), Garland Caldwell (Son), Starling Caldwell (Son), and Agnes Caldwell (Daughter).

A. Yes please send me a copy of the letter and obituary of Andrew Caldwell. Please find attached the early Fairfield Caldwell family information.

During the latter part of 14th and early part of the 15th centuries, many French Huguenots were expelled from their native land by the revocation of the Edict of the Nantes. Some went to England, and Ireland, then to America. There were three brothers named John, Alexander and Oliver Caldwell, who first went to England, then settled in Scotland. They purchased an old bishopric estate and the name "Caldwell" was given it by the English King.

Some descendants of these brothers went to Ireland with Oliver Cromwell (whose grandmother was a Caldwell), their names being Daniel, Joseph, John, Andrew and David. They settled in counties Antrim and Kent. When Cromwell was called to the protectship of England and the crown restored to Charles II, three of these brothers fled to America. Joseph died in Ireland, while Daniel continued there though some of his children later went to America and settled in Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Virginia.

William Caldwell and his wife Rebecca Walkup, came from County Antrim, Ireland to Pennsylvania and settled near his cousins who were living in that State in 1740. In 1749, he and his family moved to Charlotte County, Va., where William died, leaving his widow and ten children. The children were : John, William, David, James, Margaret, Martha, Eleanor, Elizabeth, Rebecca and Sarah. Later about 1760-65, the widow moved with her children to South Carolina, and settled in Ninety-Six District, through the influence of her son John, an eminent surveyor, who had been doing work in that part of South Carolina.

John Caldwell located much land in the district for the early settlers at a time when the country was not much more than wild brush.

He settled near Mudlic Creek, above Little River. He married Margaret Davidson; later was killed by Tories, near the end of the Revolutionary War, in his own yard. He left no children. During the war, he was a Captain of militia, the first company of Rangers in the district. He was a member of the Provincial Congress, which met in Charleston in 1776. During the war, he was promoted to major.

William Thomas Caldwell, brother of Major John (above), first settled in Abbeville District, where his sister Martha was living as the wife of Patrick Calhoun (these were parents of the famous South Carolina statesman, John C. Calhoun). Later, he went to Newberry District and settled near his brothers on Little River. He, too, became a surveyor. He was a patriot in the Revolutionary War; joined his brother John's regiment of Rangers, served until he was captured and sent to St. Augustine, Florida prison for several months. After his release he came back home and joined the company of his brother James who was Captain of Infantry. He married Elizabeth Williams and had children: John (married Elizabeth _____ and then Abigail C'Neall), William, Williams, James (some of his children were Sarah, Cataline, Ferdinand), Patrick C. (he married Fannie Hance, daughter of Major Frederick Hance), Elizabeth Ann (she married Francis B. Higgins and had John C. and Elizabeth), Joseph (married Nancy _____).

Patrick Caldwell was a graduate of South Carolina College, studied law and practiced in Newberry. He served two terms as U. S. Congressman from this district.

James Caldwell, brother of Major John and William Thomas, as a Captain of Infantry in the Revolutionary War, was in the battle of Cowpens under General Pickens. During the battle, he was severely wounded and left for dead on the battle field. After the battle, his brother, William Thomas, sought his body, and when he was found alive, the brother brought him into camp, dressed his wounds. He was incapacitated for further service in the war. After the war, he became one of the first members of the State Legislature; then he served one term as Sheriff of Newberry County, refusing to offer for re-election. He married Elizabeth Forrest and had children; James, William Thomas, (he married (1) Matilda Creswell and (2) Harriet McDowell) - - children by his first wife being James C. and William E.; George F. (married Edna _____ and had James, Charlotte, George R., Rebecca, and Amy), John H. left no family, David Robert, Samuel (married first to _____ and second to Rosannah Waters Cothran) and had children (by first wife) - - Samuel, Hugh, Leonard, Hamilton, Lenny, Nancy and (by second wife) - - Francis D., Anthony G., and Elizabeth A); Frances E. (she married Hugh Dixon); Rebecca W. (she married James Sprowles and had children; Frances, who became the wife of Wade S. Cothran, James C., Mary Ann who married J. L. Pearson, Charles W.); Polly (she married James Young). The son, James, became a lawyer and moved to Sumter, S. C. He married Elizabeth Miller and subsequently moved to Alabama, where he died, leaving five children. One of the children, James Miller Caldwell, became a prominent merchant at Charleston, S.C., where he married Annie Frazell, and they left many descendants.

One Robert Caldwell, probably a son of David or of Robert Caldwell, Sr., married Elizabeth Spence and had children: William, James, and Robin. William married Catherine Davenport and had William W., Elizabeth, Mattie, Nancy and Fannie. James married Jane Davenport, and had Robert, Wilson, John A.; Robin married Miss Sloan and had William and Calvin.

John Caldwell, a descendant of Daniel who remained in Ireland, came to South Carolina about 1765-68. He first settled in the North section of Dutch Fork (in Newberry section) then in Ninety-Six District. He married Janet Helen Peden in Ireland and brought his wife and one or two infant children. His oldest son, Joseph, (died 1808) married Margaret Wilson and had James, Dan and Samuel and a minor son Joseph at time of his death and a daughter Rebecca, who afterwards married Robert Redd. His wife was the daughter of Francis and Sarah Wilson. A son, John married Rose Ann _____ and had children: William, Mary P., Margaret, James, Janett, Samuel, Archibald. A son, Daniel, married Janette McMaster and had children: James J. (he married Nancy McMorries, daughter of James McMorries); Eleanor (she married Archibald Fair and had James, Jane and Calphemia); Mary Ann; Margaret; Rosannah (she married James Brown). A son, James married Mary Wilson, daughter of "elder" James Wilson, and had children: Joseph, James P., Jane (she married William W. McMorries). There were two other sons, William and Robert and probably a son Samuel. Mary Ann probably married Andrew Russell.

The second son of the pioneer, John, was James who died about 1848. He married Eliza Wilson who died in 1842. She was a daughter of "Elder" James Wilson. Their children were James (he married Sarah B. Chapman); Joseph (he married first Margaret Wilson, and second Angelina Turnipseed). There were two children by Joseph's first wife, Thomas Wilson Caldwell and George Caldwell. There was a daughter by the second wife who married Joseph Hunter. Other children were: Thomas, John, Eliza and Jane.

There was another pioneer, named John Caldwell, who settled in Spartanburg District before the Revolutionary War. He came from Ireland with his wife Mary Young. He had a son William who married Margaret Crawford, and another son John. William and Margaret Crawford had children: John C., James, Patrick, William, Polly (she married John Miller), Jean, Kate, Elizabeth, Ann (she married _____ Anderson), Margaret (she married _____ Gaston), Eleanor (she married _____ Wright). John C. married California Ocan and had children: Mary C. Andrew J., Sarah Ann, Amanda, Adolphus Leland. Jean married Robert McCrley.

Those who died in Abbeville County were: John Caldwell who died about 1795, leaving widow Elizabeth and children: William, James, David, Anne Rolfe, Isabel Pickens, Mary Black, Andrew and Jean. The last two named were 21 years old in 1795. The widow died in 1815.

Another John died about 1798, leaving widow Nancy and brothers and sisters, Charles, Henry, James and Joseph.

James Caldwell Sr., died in 1804 leaving a widow and children: John, David, Rebecca, Elizabeth Wilson, Mary Davis, James, William, Ezekiel, Thomas. (James was son of John - another James the son of David). Other legatees: James Caldwell Pickens, William Leslie and Elizabeth Harris Kerr.

The History of
 JOSEPH and CATHERINE ELDER CALDWELL of Fairfield County, South Carolina and their Descendents

July 27, 1981

Compiled by J. Philo Caldwell

Is at the Printers and should be ready for distribution in September, 1981

Joseph and Catherine Elder Caldwell came to the hill country of northeast Fairfield from Northern Ireland in 1804 with two children. They had twelve children in all. Eight had families; six of these large families.

This book is their story and the story of their descendents, over 1400 of them. Possibly 95% of all the descendents are listed. Where available, information is given on dates of births, marriages, and deaths; on places where lived or living; and on occupations, military service, special honors, etc.

The story of the family covers a span from a time when sea travel was by slow sailing ship (Joseph's Father was a sea captain) to a time when oceans are crossed in a few hours by jet planes. It covers a span from a time when land travel was all by horseback or horse drawn vehicles over muddy roads to our system of interstate highways. From a time when "a large red cow" sold for $4.00 to a time when one pound of beef costs as much or more.

Our cousin families stretch from New England to California, from Florida to Alberta, Canada; with some overseas; but most of them live in the Southern States, from Virginia to Texas.

It is not practical to list them all here, but some of the main family names, in addition to the present day Caldwells, are: Kinloch, Doty, Withers, Johnston, Cardwell, Cheatham.

Hicklin, Hall, Stroud, Anderson

Gibson, Montgomery, Pepper

Lore, Murray, McMullen, Dean, Farrior

Abernethy, Schrum

Brice Mayson, Baker, Renwick, Harden, Tucker

Meares, Sibley, Wyche, Doles, Adger

Fenet, Drew, Logan

Carothers, Montgomery, Hall

The Genealogical portion of the book is arranged for clarity and for ease in following lines of descent from the children of Joseph and Catherine Elder Caldwell, and is arranged carefully to keep generations in order.

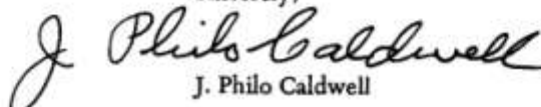

In addition to the descendents of Joseph and Catherine Elder, a number of charts are included to show the ancestry of spouses of early family members, for instance, that of Margaret Cockrell, wife of Thomas Jefferson Caldwell.

An effort was made to trace the family in Northern Ireland and the results are recorded in the book.

We are privileged to include a superlative article on "The Origins Of The Caldwell Family" by Roberta M. Grahame, a friend and possible cousin, who is one of the leading authorities on Caldwell families, past and present.

This history is printed (Similar to this sheet), indexed, and bound in soft cover. We hope you will want a copy. The cost is $18.00 including postage. Hard cover binding is available for a limited number for $5.00 additional. It should be ready to mail in September, 1981. If interested please reply promptly so that we'll know how many books to print.

Sincerely,

 J. Philo Caldwell

NOTE: I, Marion Caldwell Thompson, copied these letters from a carbon copy that was given to me by James Caldwell's wife, Paula. She evidently copied it from the originals. I never saw the originals nor do I know where they are. My grandmother told me that A. W. Caldwell was an uncle of my grandfather, Charles Mason Caldwell.

His second wife, with whom he lived thirty years, was Mrs. J. H. Harrison. She was a true helpmeet. Their's was a delightful Christian home. Our brother was a charming conversationalist. His capacious and very retentive memory, wide experience and large sympathy made him always interesting. The unbounded hospitality of that home will long be remembered by many an itinerant and by others. During the past seventeen years he has been much confined to his home. His last years were shrouded by poverty but in the midst of it all he had a bright, happy, joyous experience. He appreciated the little his conference and outside friends did for him. The end was peaceful. For sixty years he was a worthy Mason and his funeral service was in their charge. He leaves two sons and a daughter. His last words were to his old family physician "Prepare to meet thy God."

L. D. ELLINGTON.

Gainesville, Ga.

Jan. 5, 1897

Dear Mollie:

Your letter received a week ago and should have been answered before now. I was truly glad to hear from you, but sorry to hear of your dear father's illness. After saying that we are all as well as could be expected of people in our condition, I will try to comply with your request. I should have asked you to excuse my writing in pencil for I can't use the pen to any advantage. I am very feeble and don't know that I can make myself understood.

Some time during the early part of the last century, my great-grandfather emigrated from Ireland to America and while in voyage upon the deep blue sea and three days before landing at Baltimore, Md., my Grandfather, George Caldwell, was born.

The family settled in Virginia and after grandfather was grown, he left Virginia and went to South Carolina where he married a young lady by the name of Wynn, Winn, of the family of that name after whom Winnsboro was named.

Grandfather settled near Camden, Fairfield District, S. C. and it was here that my father, Garland Caldwell, was born on the 5th day of January, 1770, and one other son, Starling, and one daughter, Agnes.

Grandmother died about the beginning of the Revolutionary War. Grandfather was an officer in General Marion's command, but I do not remember the grade. When grandfather went into the army, he got his sister, Jane, to take charge of the family, no other white person being on the place except the three children. (My only sister was named for these two women, Jane Agnes).

It was here that Aunt Jane was the heroine of the following scene that occurred during the war. There were a number of Tories living in grandfather's neighborhood and one of them knew every nook and corner of the entire premises.

He knew that grandfather kept wine and brandy in his cellar, as well as many other things of value. This man with several of his Tory friends accompanied by a British officer concluded to raid the place. When some hundred yards away, Aunt Jane saw them approaching the house and, calling the Negro woman from the kitchen, she placed in her hands a loaded musket and ordered her to take the children into the cellar, she herself following with a heavily loaded musket in each hand.

After ransacking the house for awhile, the man who knew the place so well and the British Officer, made their way toward the cellar, and while they were descending the steps, Aunt Jane opened fire on them.

At the crack of the gun, one of them fell, then another shot and two men lay dead at the foot of the cellar steps. So sudden and unexpected was all this that the men who were still in the house fled the premises never to return. The neighbors got together and buried the two dead men the next day and thus ended the war on that place.

My father, Garland Caldwell, married a lady named Land in the neighborhood of Camden, and sometime after, I don't know how long, moved to Barrow County, Kentucky.

Some time after this, father was so unfortunate as to go to a men's security for a large amount which he was compelled to pay. I have seen a statement of the whole affair--how his homestead and several Negroes were sold by the Sheriff to pay this security debt. Father at that time was a member of the Baptist Church, and it has been said by some who thought they knew that this misfortune had much to do in shaping his afterlife. The fruits of his marriage with Miss Land were two children, neither of whom I ever saw. Father's first wife died in 1808--he broke up housekeeping, put the two children with an aunt, then living in Barrow County, who kindly cared for them and educated them, after which Benjamin, the half brother became a merchant in Nashville, and my half sister, Mary, married a lawyer by the name of Clark.

This is all I ever knew of my half brother and half sister. My father then engaged in running a flat boat on the Cumberland, Tennessee and Mississippi Rivers, until 1812, when he returned to South Carolina and married my mother, Elizabeth Mathews, in Spartanburg District. She was the daughter of Reuben Matthews, born in Surry County, North Carolina, from whence he moved to Augusta, Ga., where he remained for a few years, and then moved to Spartanburg, S. C. where he lived until his death, which occurred in the year 1820, aged 86 years. Grandmother died in 1821, age 85.

Father was engaged in farming and at work at Nesbit's Iron Works until 1824 when he moved to Columbia County, Georgia, where he spent four years as over-Gainesville (sic), Hall County, Georgia.

Father was one of the best farmers I ever knew. Many have I known to come to him for advice, and he would tell them what to do, and sometimes go and show them how to do it.

During the year 1847, father was, through the mercy of the Lord, reclaimed, converted and joined the Methodist Church, and lived and suffered for ten years the most excruciating agony from bladder and kidney diseases, until the 3rd of February, 1857, when he died. I stood over him for hours during this last struggle, and from what I saw, I have not the least doubt, but that he went from this world of sin, sorrow, and sickness and death to the brighter and better world where there is no sin, sickness, sorrow, nor death.

Mother was one of the most active, industrious, persevering, self-sacrificing women I ever knew. She toiled, labored, and suffered for the comfort and happiness of her children and endeavored to rear them up in the fear of God, and in favor with man. She suffered sorely for many years, often confined to her bed for many weeks, bearing her affliction with patience and Christian resignation. She was converted and joined the Methodist Church when quite a young girl in which she lived a worthy, acceptable member until the day when her worn and emaciated body entered upon that sleep which knows no awakening and her liberated spirit took its flight to the blessed happy world above to enter truly upon that rest that remaineth to the people of God, on the day of September, 1855.

I write this, now in my eighty-third year to the memory of my dear father and precious mother. Father was quite a small boy at the close of the Revolutionary War as he grew up into manhood, he learned the facts I have given from his father, and then as I grew up, I learned them from him.

Father was an eyewitness to the affair in the cellar and could remember what occurred very well, as he must have been some six or seven years old at the time. I never knew the company regiment or Grandfather's grade of office.

You see how long it has been since I began to write this letter. My condition is such that I have to take it up a little at a time.

I would like so much to see you all once more in this life, but have no hope of ever being able to do so. You must write again and often as you can. All join in much love to you, your dear father and mother, and all the loved ones.

The Lord bless you all is the prayer of

Your old uncle,

A. W. Caldwell

Q. Sonya R. Hodges-Grantham: I have researched the ancestry of Robert Franklin Andrews. He was a native of Fairfield County. Do you have any photos? He was the owner and operator of Bob Andrews Motors, founded in 1923.

A. We do not have any pictures in our collection. However, Google "Bob Andrews Motors" and then go to the Home FACEBOOK page. <https://www.facebook.com/BOB-ANDREWS-MOTORS-324628135515/> There is an old picture of six men around a car; one of them may be Robert Andrews.

Andrews Brothers Opens Auto Repair Plant Tomorrow

E. C. ANDREWS, Owner of New Auto Plant.

Cost of operation Monday will be the handsome new Andrews Brothers Auto Service plant at 1313 Sumter street. This building, occupying a space of 11 by 32 feet, is constructed of brick, steel and concrete. The building contains about 12,000 square feet and about 12,000 face brick.

William P. Croiland of Columbia was retained as general contractor while the construction also featured the supervision of the Housing Guild division of the Capital Coal and Supply Co., also of Columbia, K. S. Kephart architect.

E. C. Andrews representing the Housing Guild, in commenting on the construction declared: "There are nearly 120,000 cubic feet of space in this structure. Both front and rear clearances of 12 foot width and 12 foot height combined with a ceiling clearance of 14 foot enables this plant to service the largest of commercial units.

"A driveway of 20 feet width at the curb is designed for easy entrance into the building for traffic traveling in any direction on Sumter street."

Continuing, he explained that saw-strung type roof of fabricated steel truss containing six major members while the windows are Temesta Security glass used. He explained that the 27 windows afford a high percentage of light.

The floor of the building is of 4 inch reinforced steel concrete containing more than 200 bags of weight cement. The roofing is composed of three layers of Johns-Manville asbestos felt completely supported between each layer with Rock Hot applied and finished with hot asphalt.

"The mortar used in laying brick is a mixture composed of a blend of shalunite and silica prepared by Lepid Lime and Stone company," he explained, adding that the material possesses a special property in that it becomes progressively hard, lasting through many years.

Individual contractors and supply companies engaged in the construction are: William P. Croiland, general contractor; concrete brick, Ryland Brick Products company; face brick, Gulgard Brick company; structural steel and miscellaneous steel, Owen Steel company of Columbia; plate glass and glazing, Hildebrandt company; plumbing, Casperson Plumbing company; electrical contractor, J. G. Young of Columbia; painting contractor, C. E. Carter; roofing, Delay and Hedgcock; excavating and concrete, A. M. Brown of Columbia; cement and rock lath, Capital Coal and Supply company.

Q. Jeff Morton: Seeking information Jim Raines (Reins) b. abt. 1820 d. civil war, daughter Martha Jane Raines b. 4/10/1845 d. 1/1/1944.

A. We have searched our records and here is what we were able to find on the parents of Martha Jane Raines who married Andrew Preston Dominey. We found Martha's North Carolina Death Certificate that stated that her father was Jim Reins. We were unable to find any additional information that linked Martha and Jim. We searched for Jim and James; also for last names of Reins, Rains, Raines and Raynes. We found several family trees on line that have Martha's parents being Joseph Jason Raines and Ellen Broom. They say that Ellen died in South Carolina and Joseph died around 1865 in Marion County, Florida. We searched records for Joseph Jason and Ellen and found the following.

In the 1850 Census taken in Fairfield County

Jason Raines	30
Ellen	26
Nancy	6
John	4
Mary E.	3
Martha	1

In the 1860 Census, Ellen was living with her children in the John Martin Household in Lexington County. Ellen husband is not listed, he may have moved to Florida before 1860. Martha is also not listed, she may have died or moved to Florida with her father.

Ellen	36
Nancy E.	16
John W.	14
Mary E.	12
Geo. W.	8
Joseph	5

In the 1880 Census, Ellen was living with her son, Joseph in Columbia.

In the 1860 Census, there is a Jason Raynes, 45, who was living with M. Raynes, 20 in Marion County, Florida. They state that they were both born in South Carolina. The M. could be Martha, but her age does not match the Martha in the 1850 Census or the dates on her grave.

I hope that this info is of some help and does not just add to your confusion.
