

DEATH NOTICES

LISTED IN THE

FAIRFIELD HERALD

AND

THE NEWS AND HERALD

DEATH:—Mr. Geo. Brown, an old and respected citizen of the Rock City neighborhood, died on Saturday night after a long and painful sickness, with cancer of the face. His remains were buried on Sunday in the old Alston and McKinstry grave yard. He leaves a family all of whom are grown.

October 17, 1888 Edition of The News and Herald

These death notices are from the Fairfield Herald, July 4, 1866 to September 6, 1876, and The News and Herald, October 19, 1876 to February 24, 1916. Both newspapers were published in Winnsboro, South Carolina. These papers had a tri-weekly edition and a weekly edition. The majority of the death notices are from the weekly edition, which was published on Wednesday. Because of the missing issues there are large gaps in the death notices. This is especially true from 1907 to 1915, as there are no issues for the years 1907 through 1910 and a very few for the remaining years.

The notices in this book have names, dates, place of birth, place of burial, cause of death, etc. The entire notice may be seen on microfilm in the Fairfield County Library in Winnsboro, South Carolina.

The majority of the notices are for deaths in Fairfield County, although there are many for the surrounding counties as well as Fairfield County Natives who died in other states.

Death notices in other South Carolina County Newspapers prior to 1866 and from 1907 to 1916 start on page 437.

Death notices in North Carolina Newspapers prior to 1866 start on page 449.

Every effort was made to copy the names exactly as they were printed in the newspaper. As a result be sure to check any spelling that is close to the name you are researching.

Captain T. W. Radcliffe died in this city in the fifty-ninth year of his age.

The Distinguished Dead – We copy the following from the Daily Herald, published in Columbia, Tennessee, for the benefit of those of our citizens, who are not aware of where rest the remains of our former citizen, Major General Richard Winn, of the Revolutionary Army. He was a native of our State, as will be seen by the annexed paragraphs: “There reposes in a secluded spot in the vicinity of Williamsport, in Maury County, the remains of Major General Richard Winn of the Revolutionary Army – a native of South Carolina. For thirty years in continuous succession, he represented the people of his District in the Congress of the United States, and was a member during the memorable session of 1812, and voted for the declaration of war against Great Britain. A few years thereafter he removed with his family to Maury County and died about the year 1817 or 1818. Since that time, most of the persons living in that neighborhood have died or removed, leaving but few who are familiar with the character of the venerated dead. The writer of this article remembers him well and can truly say that but few men possessed higher virtues and nobler qualities than did General Winn. Being the only revolutionary General ever buried in the county, ought not the citizens to manifest some suitable regard by placing over his grave a suitable monument to his memory to indicate the place where rest the remains of the neglected dead.”
