

A Coming Marriage.

Cards have been received announcing the approaching marriage of Rev. Jas. G. Glass, of Summerville, to Miss Eva L. Fairbanks, of Sewanee, Tenn. The wedding will take place in St. Augustine's Chapel, Sewanee, on Thursday, September 28th, at 11 a.m.... (The groom) was for two years the rector of St. John's Church in this place, and it was entirely due to his zeal and energy that the Episcopalians here were enabled to erect the present church building... 1899

Hartin-Crumpton.

Miss Olga Crumpton and Mr. Samuel Hartin were married in the Methodist Church at Ridgeway on the evening of Thursday, the 24th inst. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A.R. Phillips. The church was handsomely decorated for the occasion. 1899

Bristow-Curlee.

Special to The State.
Winnsboro, June 11.—A wedding, beautiful in every detail, and of wide spread interest was celebrated in Winnsboro on Wednesday afternoon, at half past six o'clock. The groom was Marion C. Bristow of Lamar, and the bride Miss Lucile Curlee of Winnsboro.

Misses Rebecca Jennings and Meta Lee Scruggs in white dresses and Misses Mary Francis Williford and Jettie May Bristow in pink, carried white ribbons which formed the aisle through which the bridal party passed. The ushers were: J. M. Jennings and G. H. Burch. The attendants were: Miss Marie Blair in white messaline, with David Easterling, Miss Ethel Ragsdale in pink messaline with Clyde McCallam, Miss Elizabeth Roberts in white messaline, with Andrew McKenzie, Miss Eliza Belle Curlee in pink messaline with Charlie Cox. The dame-of-honor, Mrs. E. N. Morow, wore a beautiful gown of white satin. The maid-of-honor, Miss Leonora Curlee, was dressed in yellow messaline. The flower girl, Miss Leonora Gordon, wore spangled lace over pink satin. Master James Curlee bore the wedding ring in the petals of a white calla lily.

The bride wore an exquisite robe of lace, pearls and satin and entered with her grand father, Capt. R. H. Jennings; the groom with his best man, French Bristow.

The bride's flowers were exquisite brides roses with lillies of the valley. The bride's maids carried pink and white carnations with showers of sweet peas.

Rev. D. A. Phillips, the bride's pastor, performed the ceremony.

A beautiful midday luncheon was given by the bride's mother to the bridal party on Wednesday.
