Mrs. Lewis Edwards, organist, and Miss Sarah Watson, soloist, both from Easley, presented the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of pure white silk organza. The bodice was highlighted with accents of heavy clung lace and French pearls. The sleeves were long and termina-ted in Bishop fullness and deep cuffs. The full sweep skirt had a detachable formal chapel train featuring embroidery and clung lace. The veil was of mantilla styling trimmed in clung lace. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, roses, and orchid.

Mrs. Dennis Childs of Easley, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Marshall Crooksey, cousin of the bride, and Miss Cathey Guyton of Spartanburg, Miss Patricia Haynes and Mrs. Donald Hurlburt of Central, Miss Alta Lesley of Liberty, and Miss Jennifer Fortune of Belton. Each carried an orchid, with different colored throats, on fan shaped pillows.

Mr. Robert DuBose Arndt, senior, the bridegroom's father, of Ridgeway, served as best man. Groomsmen were Mr. Charles Arndt, brother of the bride, and Mr. James Coleman, cousin of the groom, Kirtland Air Force Base, East Albuquerque, New Mexico, Mr. David Tillotson, Jr. and Mr. Samuel Tillotson, brothers of the bride, of Spartanburg.

The flower girl was Miss Renee Quarles of Whitmire, and the ring bearer was Master Dean Hoyle of Columbia.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Hamilton House, Frank Street in Easley.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip to the mountains.

Their new residence will be Willow Lakes Apartments, 5313 Fairfield Rd. Columbia

Granddaughter of Fairfield Natives

Miss Jacqueline Grace Arnette Is the Bride of Mr. Leonard A. Smith Jr.

MRS. LEONARD ALVIN SMITH, JR.
1960

Wedding vows were pledged by Miss Jacqueline Grace Arnette and Leonard Alvin Smith, Jr., in a formal candlelight ceremony on Sunday afternoon, June 26, at 4 o'clock in First Presbyterian Church in Kings Mountain, N. C. Dr. Paul Ausley heard the ritual, assisted by the Rev. Harry Smith, minister to students at the Presbyterian Church of Chapel Hill, in a beautiful double ring ceremony.

John Coleman Arnette gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding gown was a formal design by Murray Hamburger of silk mist taffeta and Point de Venise lace. The empire bodice was styled with bateau neckline outlined with matching lace motifs and underscored with bias folds that caught to the back to looped bows and streamers extending to the hemline. Miniature self-covered buttons closed the back and long sleeves were tapered and finished with lace points. The voluminous skirt was caught to the waistline in double pleats which spread to the back to a Chapel train. Her illusion mantilla veil was finished with matching Point de Venise lace and she carried a purple-throated white orchid on a lace covered Bible accented by roses, stephanotis, and satin streamers tied in lovers' knots.

The bridegroom had as his best man, his father, Leonard Alvin Smith, Sr.

The bride's parents entertained at a reception immediately following the ceremony in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

She was two years and graduated this year from the University of North Carolina where she received her A. B. degree in sociology. At UNC she was an active member of the Westminster Fellowship, the Cardboard student party, and won the sociology award given to the outstanding senior in the sociology department.

Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Alvin Smith of Kings Mountain, N. C. He also graduated in class of '56 from Kings Mountain High School, served two years in the U. S. Navy and has completed two years of study at Belmont Abbey. He will study textile engineering at North Carolina State College in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith will be with the bride's parents on Shelby Road in Kings Mountain for the present.
