

Baggott-Boulware Vows Told In Lovely Church Ceremony

1950

Centering wide social interest was the lovely wedding of Miss Eleanor Glenn Baggott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Baggott of Columbia and Winnsboro, and Thomas Osborne Boulware, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Boulware of Winnsboro, which took place at eight o'clock Friday evening, June 16, in the Stephen Greene Memorial Baptist church in Winnsboro. The Rev. Ollin J. Owens performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Palms, gladioli and white lighted candles in candelabra, decorated the church. The pews reserved for the two families were marked with white satin ribbons.

Harry Gene Sandifer of Winnsboro, soloist, and Miss Lucy Sims, also of Winnsboro, pianist, furnished the wedding music.

Ushers were William Porter of Columbia and Shaw Field; Daniel Mann of Columbia, brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Ernest Turner of Florence, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and John Carrol Pope of Winnsboro, cousin of the bridegroom.

Miss Patricia Coleman of Winnsboro was the maid of honor. She wore a light blue ankle length organdy dress made with fitted bodice, full skirt, and butterfly sleeves. Her Dutch cap and mitts, gauntlet style, were of the same material as the dress, and she carried a bouquet of cultured daisies tied with pale yellow ribbons.

The bridesmaids were Misses Evon Gartman and Annie Laura

Stevenson, both of Winnsboro. They wore pale green and pale yellow organdy dresses, respectively, made similar to the honor attendant's, and carried daisies tied with matching ribbons. The flower girl was little Miss Donna Mann, niece of the bridegroom. She wore a dress of pink organdy, and carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, C. P. Baggott of Columbia, was lovely in her wedding dress of white organdy, designed with puff sleeves, Peter Pan collar, fitted bodice and full skirt. Her finger tip veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore white organdy mitts and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

Leroy Muller, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, of Columbia was the best man.

Mrs. Baggott, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue crepe dress with matching accessories, and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Boulware, mother of the bridegroom, was gowning in a dress of aqua crepe with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents entertained with an informal reception in the Social Hall of the church.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Boulware left for their wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a suit of aqua rayon gaberdine and white accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Boulware-Jordan

Lovely in all the details was the wedding of Miss Lil Elliott Boulware and Leonard Robinson Jordan of Columbia which was solemnized on Saturday evening, December 11, at eight o'clock, in the Associate Reformed Presbyterian church in Winnsboro. The Rev. Russell M. Kerr, pastor of the bride, officiated, using the double ring ceremony. 1948

Palms, magnolia leaves and smilax formed the background for the effective decorations, with encircling baskets of mammoth white chrysanthemums. Lighted tapers from branched brass candelabra added a soft radiance to the scene.

Prior to the ceremony a musical program was given by Mrs. W. T. Sprott, organist, and Mrs. G. McMaster Ketchin, pianist. Included on the list were "Liebestraum" (Liszt), "Ave Maria" (Bach-Gounod) and "Chanson" (Groton). The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional.

The bride entered with her uncle, Thomas K. McDonald of Winnsboro, who gave her in marriage. Her stately blond loveliness was enhanced by her wedding gown of ivory satin, made with a yoke of marquisette bordered with Battenberg lace. The long sleeves were buttoned at the wrists and pointed over the hands. The double tiered full-length veil was fashioned with a lace Juliet cap and adorned with a bandeau of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. A cascade bouquet of white roses completed the bridal ensemble.

Frank E. Jordan, Jr., of Newberry, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Mrs. Boulware, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Raphael blue crepe, trimmed with crystal beads, full length gloves and a gardenia corsage.

Mrs. Jordan, the bridegroom's mother, was gowning in an aquamarine crepe dress with crystal trimmings, long gloves, and her corsage was pink camellias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given at the Fairfield Inn.

Of cordial interest to a wide circle of friends throughout the state was the marriage of Miss Mildred Boulware and Robert Brown, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wertz, in Winnsboro, Feb. 1st, at 7:30 o'clock.

Ferns, white carnations, pink rosebuds, and white lighted candles effectively decorated the living room for the occasion. Candles were lighted by Mr. Curtis Boulware, brother of the bride, and Mr. A. T. Garet, of Wagen-

Grant-Boulware Vows Are Spoken 1950

The Orrs Baptist church was a beautiful setting Saturday evening, September 23rd, for the marriage at 8 o'clock of Miss Betty Jean Grant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ben Grant, and Frank Leslie Boulware, son of Mrs. Marion Boulware and the late William Thomas Boulware of the Cool Branch section of Fairfield county.

Rev. Willard L. Mays, pastor of the bride, performed the impressive double ring ceremony before an altar of tall white cathedral candles in candelabra which burned against embankments of ferns and other fall greenery interspersed with floor baskets of white gladioli and ferns.

Forming a musical setting for the pledging of the nuptial vows were selection rendered by Mrs. Hindman of Knox Station, with Miss Ruth Grant of Chester, who sang "I Love You Truly" (Carrie Jacobs-Bond) and "O Promise Me" (Scott). "Traumerei" (Schubert) was played and the traditional wedding marches, "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) and "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn) were used. Following the ceremony "Perfect Prayer" was sung as the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a two-piece velvet trimmed dress with navy accessories, and carried a white prayer book with white orchids showered with tube roses. Her only ornament was a cameo lavalier which was given her mother by her father before her wedding day.

Miss Dorothy Grant attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a cinnamon brown dress with beige accessories and her fan-shaped bouquet was fashioned with pink asters.

Mr. William Thomas Boulware of West End, Chester, served his brother as best man. Alvin Grant and Clarence Boulware, brothers of the bride and bridegroom, served as ushers and lighted the candles.

Mrs. Grant, mother of the bride, wore a gray crepe dress and black accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.
