

MISS EULA LEE BOYD

The betrothal of Eula Lee Boyd and Johnny E. DuBose, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Y. DuBose of Frostproof, Florida, is announced by her mother, Mrs. J. R. Boyd of Winnsboro.

The wedding will take place in the Stephen Greene Memorial Baptist Church in Winnsboro at a time to be announced later.

Miss Boyd is the daughter of Mrs. J. R. Boyd of Winnsboro and the late Mr. Boyd. She attended Mt. Zion Institute and is presently employed by Noland Company, Inc., of Columbia as a secretary.

Mr. DuBose attended Frostproof High School, Frostproof, Fla., and Florida Christian College, Tampa, Fla. He is employed by the State of Florida, Division of Corrections.

Mc Montgomery-Boyd

A wedding of wide social interest and characterized with beautiful dignity was that of Miss Louise Montgomery and Jack DesPortes Boyd of Ridgeway, which was solemnized Wednesday evening, December 27, at 6:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Maso Montgomery of Elloree. The ceremony of the Presbyterian church was used with the Rev. Raymond Ratchford of Gastonia, N. C., officiating.

A program of nuptial music was rendered by Mr. Barbie of Orangeburg violinist, accompanied by Mrs. McMichael of Orangeburg.

The usher-groomsman were James Edmunds of Ridgeway and Fred Auld of Columbia, who lighted the candles prior to the ceremony.

The first to descend the stairs and enter the room together were the bridesmaids, Mrs. Bud Alexander of Seneca and Mrs. J. Ford of Elloree, twin sisters of the bride, whose striking resemblance to each other was more pronounced than upon the occasion. They wore dresses exactly alike of pink net with tight fitting bodices and bouffant skirt.

Miss Isabel Boyd of Columbia, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She was gowned in a marquisette of mist blue sprigged with silver sequins over a short puffed sleeves, and bouffant skirt.

Gene Boyd, Jr., of Columbia was the ringbearer.

The bride, a lovely brunette of unusual beauty, was met at the bottom of the stairs by her first cousin, Chalmers Mason Montgomery, who proceeded with her to the altar and gave her in marriage.

Her wedding gown of brilliant satin was fashioned Empire style with a graceful skirt that extended into a long train. The high rolled collar formed a V-shape in front. The leg of mule sleeves, embroidered with pearls at the shoulders ended points at the wrists. Her five veils which was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms fell in graceful lines into a long train. Her only ornament was a diamond platinum brooch.

Gene Boyd of Columbia, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held.

Mr. Boyd is the son of Mrs. Blanton and the late Mr. Boyd of Ridgeway. He received his education at the University of South Carolina. He is the postmaster of Ridgeway.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randall, of Winnsboro, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Morene Randall and Mr. Bill Branham ("Footsie") on Sunday, Dec. 20. They will make their home in Winnsboro for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randall, of Winnsboro, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Morene Randall and Mr. Bill Branham ("Footsie") on Sunday, Dec. 20. They will make their home in Winnsboro for the present.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Randall, of Winnsboro, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Morene Randall and Mr. Bill Branham ("Footsie") on Sunday, Dec. 20. They will make their home in Winnsboro for the present.

WEDDING JOINS MISS BOYD AND W. S. ADAMS JR. 1931

Charlotte, Feb. 13.—A wedding of unusual beauty and charm and one of much social prominence in the Carolinas was that of Miss Lucy Bryant Boyd and William Speight Adams, Jr., which was solemnized last evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Clarence Boyd, of 1224 Myrtle avenue.

Dr. Luther Little, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated and was assisted by Dr. F. O. Lamoreux of Newberry, S. C., kinsman of the bride.

The vows were spoken in the living room in front of a towering screen of palms and southern smilax and cathedral candlesticks holding white tapers.

Mrs. F. A. DesPortes of Winnsboro, S. C., aunt of the bride, rendered the wedding music and was accompanied by Jack O'Neal, of Rock Hill, S. C., violinist. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played for the processional and Mendelssohn's march at the conclusion of the service.

Mrs. Lillian Homesley Bott, cousin of the bride, sang "All For You" and "At Dawning" before the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, William Clarence Boyd. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Fletcher Ruff Adams.

Miss Ray Sawyer of Georgetown, S. C., cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Little Ida Catherine Constable, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Constable, was flower girl.

Miss Josephine Houston, Miss Elizabeth Boyd, of Columbia, Miss Mary Groome McNinch, and Miss Elizabeth Coker, of Rock Hill, S. C., held the ribbons that formed the aisle for the bridal party.

The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory satin made on princess lines. The yoke of maline was outlined with seed pearls, and the long sleeves had a brand of pearls at the wrist. The illusion veil was worn cap fashion and was caught on either side of the head with sprays of orange blossoms. Her shower was orchids, lilies of the valley, and bride roses.

The maid of honor was attired in orchid satin. She carried an arm-bouquet of pink roses and lavender sweet peas.

The little flower girl wore pink tulle and carried an old-fashioned nosegay. Miss Houston was attired in white tulle. Miss Boyd in velvet.

Mrs. Lillian Homesley Bott.

Miss Emma Cothran was in charge of the bride's register. Others recently connected in South Carolina, her ancestors being among the earliest settlers. She was graduated from Ashley Hall school in Charleston, S. C., last June and is a clever and charming young girl and a much admired.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Lyles and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Lyles of Spartanburg, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. DesPortes, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Lyles, of Winnsboro, S. C.; Miss Elizabeth Boyd, of Columbia, S. C.; Miss Elizabeth Coker of Rock Hill, S. C.; Miss Ray Sawyer, of Georgetown, S. C.; Mrs. Edith L. Hill of Chester, S. C.; Mrs. M. S. McKinnon of Hartsville, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cauthen, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ruff, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Ruff, Clarence Kuykendal, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Jones, Miss Margaret Jones, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Kimball and son, Jack Kimball, Mrs. H. H. White, Mrs. J. L. Adams, Miss Fannie Wilson, of Rock Hill, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. A. Robinson, Jr., of Winnsboro.

Miss Ann Mildred Brabham Weds Dr. John R. Blake

The wedding of Miss Ann Mildred Brabham of Winnsboro, S. C., and Dr. John Ronald Blake of Washington, D. C., was solemnized on Monday, June 5, at 2:30 o'clock in the Duke University Chapel, Durham, N. C. The Rev. James D. Cleland, D.D., minister at the university officiated using the double ring ceremony.

The chapel lent itself to the beauty of the occasion. Palms, baskets of white gladioli and feverfew, and lighted seven-branched candelabra decorated the altar.

Mrs. Mildred Hendrix, organist, presented a program of wedding music. Prior to the ceremony she played "Traumerei" (Schumann); "Libestraum" (Liszt) and "O Perfect Love" (Barnby). During the ceremony "Claire de Lune" was softly played. Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" (Wagner) was used for the processional and the for the recessional "The Wedding March" from Midsummer Night's Dream (Mendelssohn).

The usher-groomsman were Fritz Dietz and Frederick Mueller, schoolmates of the bridegroom. The men wore striped trousers and cutaway coats.

Mrs. Lew Wendell Butler of Columbia, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and only attendant. Her dress of peach organza over taffeta was made on princess lines with voluminous hooped skirt. With this she wore a matching bonnet type hat and stole, sprinkled with blue forget-me-nots, and short nylon gloves. She carried a fan-shaped bouquet of Talisman roses and snapdragons, tied with vari-colored satin ribbons.

The short veil of bridal illusion was attached to a braided satin bandeau trimmed with rhinestones and seed pearls from her mother's wedding gown. She carried her great-grandmother's handkerchief, used by brides in her family for four generations. Her flowers were a fan-shaped bouquet made of brides' roses, snapdragons and maline puffs, showered with satin ribbons and fern.

John R. Blake of Washington, D. C., was his son's best man.

Mrs. Brabham, mother of the bride, wore a light blue crepe dress with rhinestone trim, pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Blake, mother of the bridegroom wore a white piculet dress with rhinestone and velvet trim, navy and white accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

The couple had the distinction of having their four grandmothers present. They each wore a corsage of white gardenias. The maternal grandmothers were Mrs. Paul Cook of Olar and Mrs. O. F. Kearsse of Ehrhardt, and the paternal grandmothers were Mrs. Sherman and Mrs. Harry Blake of Virginia.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the University Apartments, University Drive. Those assisting in serving were Misses Miriam Blake, Elizabeth Clegg, Mrs. L. W. Butler and little Misses Daisy Kirkland Brabham and Marta Blake.

During the afternoon, Dr. and Mrs. Blake left for their wedding trip to the mountains of Virginia, Washington, D. C., and Atlantic City, N. J. The bride wore for traveling a dressmaker suit of green linen, white blouse, toast hat, with Brown and white accessories, and a white rose corsage lifted from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Blake is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Cornelius Brabham (Mildred Cook). She received her education at Mount Zion, Winthrop College, and was graduated from the Duke University School of Nursing, Durham, N. C. She served on the nursing staff of Duke Hospital in Durham, and at Highland Hospital, Asheville, N. C. She is descended on her maternal side from the Cooks, Matthews, and Willis, and on her paternal side from the Brabhams, Kirklands and Turners of the lower section of South Carolina.

ice, and a ship officer in the Merchant Marine Corps. Recently he has written a paper based on his research that will be read before the American Neurological Association. He will begin his internship at Western Reserve, Cleveland, Ohio, early in the summer. He is descended from the Blakes and Shermans of Virginia. The young couple will reside in Cleveland, Ohio, after June 15.

Out of Town Guests:

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Blake, Misses Miriam and Marta Blake, Catherine E. Shear, Mrs. W. A. Sherman, Mrs. Judson Cobb and Alvin E. Craig, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. D. J. Shear, Misses Patricia and Catherine Shear, Falls Church, Va.; Mrs. Harry Blake, Fairfax, Va.; Mrs. Roy M. Carter, Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Sale, High Point, N. C.; Wendell B. Thrower and Jimmie Thrower, Charleston, S. C.; Mrs. Paul Cook, Olar; Mrs. O. E. Kearsse, Ehrhardt; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brabham, Dickie and Daisy Brabham, Winnsboro; Mrs. L. W. Butler, Columbia; L. C. Brabham, Jr., San Diego, Calif.