Caddell-Jacobs

1949

On Saturday evening, May 14, Mary Dixon Caddell became the bride of Staff Sgt. Elton L. Jacobs. The double ring ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock in the Greenlawn Memorial Baptist church, Columbia, S. C. The Rev. Jennings, pastor of the church, officiated in the presence of the immediate families.

The church was simply but effectively decorated with green palms and a large basket featuring an all-white arrangement of gladioli, carnations and tuberose. The young couple entered together. The bride was lovely in her white gaberdine suit with green accessories, and a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses.

Mrs. William O. Wissner, Jr., was her sister's only attendant. She wore navy blue with blue and white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

The groom had as his best man Staff Sgt. Virgil Denny of Shaw Field.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dixon, Jr., brother and sister-in-law of the bride, entertained with a lovely reception at their home at 1329 Senate street, Columbia.

Mrs. Jacobs is the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Dixon of Winnsboro. She received her education at Mt. Zion Institute, Winnsboro, and the Carolette School of Beauty Culture, Columbia. She is co-owner of the Winnsboro Beauty Shoppe where she will continue in business.

Staff Sgt. Jacobs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Jacobs of Pontiac. He received his education at Dentsville High school, and at present is stationed with the Air Corps at Shaw Field, Sumter.

OSBORNE-CALDWELL

A wedding of much social prominence in the Carolinas was that of Miss Marie Trenholm Osborne and James Philo Caldwell, which was solemnized at Saint Peter's Episcopal church, Charlotte, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 3rd. The betrothal vows were spoken before the Rev. Thomas Simons Clarkson of Raleigh, a cousin of the bride and the Rev. John Moore Walker, rector of the church, performed the marriage ceremony. Miss Helen Fails rendered the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Brevard Osborne. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, Henry Elliott Caldwell of Winnsboro. Miss Harriett Osborne, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Ushers were Francis O. Clarkson, Richard Isley and Dr. C. D. McGregor, all of Charlotte and W. R. Elliott, Jr., of Winnsboro.

The bride was attired in a handsome ensemble of brown satin with eggshell blouse and brown hat trimmed in an eggshell plume and wore brown accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of Talisman roses.

The young couple left immediately for a motor trip to the mountains after which they will be at home to their friends at Charlotte.

The bride is the elder daughter of Mrs. Adlai Osborne and the late Mr. Osborne. She was graduated from the Charlotte high school and afterwards attended St. Mary's school at Raleigh.

The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mrs. Marion Elliott Caldwell and the late James Philo Caldwell of Winnsboro, prominent families in South Carolina. He was educated at Davidson college and the University of South Carolina and is a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary societies. Mr. Caldwell is a successful young business engineer and is local representative of W. F. Jackson of Washington.

Miss Shelby Jean Branham Becomes Bride of James Leslie Cadell, Jr.

In a simple but impressive ceremony in the First Baptist Church in Winnsboro Miss Shelby Jean Branham became the bride of James Leslie Caddell, Jr., on Saturday evening, May 30, at seven o'clock. Dr. Ralph E. Lattimore, pastor of the couple, performed the double ring service in the presence of relatives and a few close friends.

There was a lovely altar arrangement of white gladioli and ivy with two seven-branched candelabra holding lighted tapers flanked by palms.

Mrs. W. P. Bennett, organist, presented a program of pre-nuptial music, and used the traditional marches for the processional and the recessional.

The candles were lighted by Tommy L. Jacobs, brother of the bridegroom, Hubert Brice was an usher, and the best man was William O. Wissner, uncle of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William Weir, sister of the bride. She wore a baby-blue dress with white lace accessories and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride wore a two-piece suit of powder blue with blue gloves and patent accessories and carried a prayer book covered with white carnations.

Following the ceremony the young couple received in the vestibule of the church before leaving for a wedding trip. Upon their return they will be at their apartment on North Zion Street in Winnsboro.

Mrs. Caddell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack A. Branham. She received her education at Mt. Zion Institute and graduated from Palmer College, Columbia. She is currently employed as secretary at Fairfield County Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Caddell, son of Mrs. E. L. Jacobs of Sumter, and grandson of Mrs. C. E. Dixon, of Winnsboro, was graduated from Mount Zion, attended Clemson College, and is a rising senior at the University of South Carolina.

Caldwell-Wallace

Of interest to their many friends was the wedding of Miss Catherine Mobley Caldwell and Captain Rufus Monroe Wallace of York and Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, which was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Zion Presbyterian Church at Winnsboro. Dr. George G. Mayes officiated, using the ring ceremony.

White gladioli, with fern, palms and white lighted candles in candelabra were used effectively in decorating the church.

Mrs. G. M. Ketchin, organist, and Mrs. Robert Y. Turner, Jr., vocalist, furnished the wedding music. Before the ceremony Mrs. Ketchin played "The Swan" by Saint-Saens and "On Wings of Song" by Mendelssohn and Mrs. Turner sang "All for You" by Brown and "Oh Promise Me" by de Koren. "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) was used for the processional and "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn) for the recessional. During the ceremony "At Evening" by Wright was softly played.

Ushers were Rick Inman of Clover, Monroe Inman of York, cousins of the groom, Lieutenant Joseph E. Hart, Jr., of York and Mark H. Doty of Winnsboro.

The bride's only attendant, her sister, Miss Avery Caldwell of Columbia wore a mist green taffeta, having a sweetheart neckline, long fitted bodice and full gathered skirt and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of asters and roses tied with pink ribbon.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, Henry Elliott Caldwell, was lovely in her wedding gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a V-neckline with lace medallions each side, long sleeves ending in points over the wrists and a full skirt ending in a long train. A full length veil of bridal illusion fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses of the valley and white chids. A necklace of seed pearls, a family heirloom, and a pearl pin belonging to the bride's grandmother, Mrs. James M. Holladay, completed the bride's costume.

Captain James H. Riddle of York and Camp Croft was the bridegroom's best man.

Mrs. Henry Elliott Caldwell, mother of the bride, wore a dress of pink lace with a corsage of roses and delphinium.

Mrs. James Minor Holladay, grandmother of the bride, wore purple velvet and a corsage of white roses.

lege where she was prominent in the student government of the college. Since graduation she has taught in the York High School.
