A lovely wedding of much interest was that of Miss Doris Christie and David Barr, which took place at 8:30 P. M., April 14, in Stephen Greene Memorial Baptist Church. The Rev. J. I. McGill, pastor of the bride, performed the double ring ceremony before a large assembly of relatives and friends.

Palms, arrangements of white gladioli and white lighted candles in candelabra decorated the church.

Miss Adelaide Brooks, organist, and Mrs. Bobby Hall, vocalist, furnished the wedding music.

Usher - groomsmen included Wesley Barr, brother of the bride-groom, Glen McCants of Winnsboro, S. C., and Clemson College, Ed Jordan of Winnsboro and the University of S. C., Thomas Gladden of Greensboro, N. C., and Alvin Taylor and Joe Lemmon of Winnsboro, S. C.

James Oscar Barr, of Columbia, S. C., brother of the bride-groom, was the best man.

Miss Mary Helen Christie, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a dress of pink net over taffeta with a jacket of pink lace buttoned up the front to a Peter Pan collar. She carried a nosegay of mixed spring flowers.

Mrs. Thomas Gladden of Greensboro was matron of honor. Her gown was identical to the maid of honor.

The Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Jerome Sykes, Mrs. Bobby Haygood, Mrs. Alvin Taylor, Miss Patricia Mauldin, Miss Barbara Christie, and Miss Merlyn Cooper, all of Winnsboro. They wore dresses of green, lavender, and yellow lace and net which were designed identically to those of the maid and matron of honor. They also carried nosegays of mixed spring flowers.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, George H. Christie, was lovely in her wedding gown of bridal satin, with princess lines enhanced with frosting of imported chantilly lace. The neck line was softened with a yoke of sheer illusion and the lace sleeves and lace gores in the front of the skirt with a wide lace panel in the full sweeping train gave it a truly bridal softness. The fingertip veil of illusion was edged with chantilly lace and topped with a crown of seed pearls. She carried white roses centered with a white orchid.

The bride's step-mother was gowned in green nylon chiffon over taffeta and a shoulder bouquet of pink carnations completed the costume. Mrs. Barr, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of blue nylon chiffon over taffeta with inserted lace in the bodice and she also wore a shoulder bouquet of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents entertained at a reception at the Social Hall of the church.

For traveling the bride wore a powder blue suit with pink and black accessories and the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

They left immediately for a honeymoon to Florida.

The couple will make their home in Winnsboro where both are employed by the Phillips Granite Company.
