& Cloud-Kittles 1938 CIOUC—Kittles /938 Donalds, May 11— One of the most interesting social events of the season took place here on Sunday evening, May 8th, at 5:30 o'clock when two of Greenville's popular young people were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The bride was Miss Mary Louise Cloud, and the groom Victor Hugh Kittles. The wedding took place at "Rokhame." the home of the offi-ciating minister, the Rev. James Dallas; the living room was beau-tifully decorated with roses and other flowers, in honor of the hap-py occasion. The charming and beautiful bride went to the altar unattended, in the presence of a number of interested relatives and friends. She was a stractively roomed in a dress of now home.

unattended, in the presence of a number of interested relatives and friends. She was attractively gowned in a dress of navy blue chiffon lace, with hat to match. trimmed with apple blossoms. Her corsage was of white rosebuds and snowdrops. After the nuptial blessing had been said, and the register signed, the newly wedded couple received hearty congratula-tion for a long and happy married life. Amid showers of rice and good wishes, Mr. and Mrs. Kittles left in their car for Atlanta and other points to spend the honey-moon. Mrs. Kittles is a young lady well known to a large circle of friends in Greenville, her home left in their car for Atlanta and city. She is a graduate of the city schools and for some time has held an important position in a mer-cantile establishment there. Mr. Kittles is a young man of excellent character, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Kittles of Donalds. He is a graduate of Monticello high school, and for some time has held a position in the office of E. W. Montgomery Company, cotton merchants (Greenville. He is well liked and Company, cotton merchants (Greenville. He is well liked and popular with a large number of friends, both in his home town and in Greenville. Mr. and Mrs. Kittles will make their future home in Greenville.

dasses and white gladion adorned the altar and chancel. A program of nuptial music was played by Mrs. Eda H. Carr, organist. The processional was the "Bridal Chorus" from Lo-hengrin, and the recessional was the "Wedding March" from Mid-summer Night's Dream (Mendels-sohn). "O Perfect Love" was played during the ceremony. Wil-liam Hicks of Gastonia, N. C., a classmate of the bride's, sang "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte)) before the ceremony. The bride was given in mar-riage by her father, Percy M. Dees. She was attired in a long-sleeved gown of white satin and lace, which was fashioned with fitted basque, full skirt with round train. An illusion veil with flared, pearl-trimmed head-dress completed her costume and en-banced ber blord loveliness. Her round train. An illusion veil with flared, pearl-trimmed head-dress completed her costume and en-hanced her blond loveliness. Her bridal bouquet was of white rose-buds and orchids. Attendants for the bride were The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Dees (the former Metta Gulley of Raleigh) was educated at Mt. Zion Insti-tute and Columbia College. Re-cently she was Fairfield county's representative at the Azalea fes-tival in Charleston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Clowney (Elizabeth M. Martin) of Winns-boro. He attended Mt. Zion Insti-tute, and has served in the Unit-ed States Navy for the past three years. He is now serving on the aircraft carrier, "The Philippine Sea." which is based at Quonset Point. Massachusetts

A late summer wedding of wide spread interest was that of Miss Emma Gene Clowney and Malcer Carl Johnson of Belvedere, Ill. which was solemnized at 7:30 o'-clock Wednesday evening at Sion Presbyterian church, Winnsboro. The Rev. F. Ray Riddle of Shan-don Presbyterian church, Colum-bia, officiated, using the impres-sive ring ceremony before a large group of relatives and friends of the couple. Against a background of white, Southern pines and smilax, lighted cathedral tapers in tall arched candelabra formed a lovely setting for the ceremony. Ropes of satin marked the pews reserved for close relatives. A heautiful prenuntial music (LUWNEI-JURNSUN relatives.

relatives. A beautiful prenuptial music program was rendered by Mrs. O. C. Scarborough, Miss Ernestine Sanders and George Rion. Mr. Rion sang "I love your truly" and Miss Sanders sang "Because." Rion sang "I love your truly" and Miss Sanders sang "Because." "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" was presented as a duet by Miss Sand-ers and Mr. Rion. Following this Mrs. Scarborough, organist, play-ed "Ave Maria." The bridal party entered to the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin. The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." Liebestraum" was softly played during the cere-mony. mony.

mony. The usher groomsmen were: W. G. Yarobrough, of Edgefield, Tom Sprott of Winnsboro, M. P. Tur-ner, of Columbia, David Martin and Pete Green of Winnsboro and Johnny Campbell of Columbia. George M. Clowney, Jr., small brother of the bride was junior usher. The bridegroom was at-tended as best man by his brother, Walter Johnson of Elmhurst, III. All the men of the bridal party wore full dress suits with white rose boutonnieres.

wore full dress suits with white rose boutonnieres. The brides maids were: Miss Mary Wright of Shelton, Miss Em-mie Sam Hall of Rion, Miss Callie Crowder of Strother, Miss Louise Calhoun of Georgetown and Miss Mary Hazel Aiken of Winnsboro. Their dresses were of blue faille their future home in Greenville. Dees-Clowney Miss Jaqueline Dees and George M. Clowney, Jr., were united in marriage on Monday evening, June thirteenth, at eight-thirty o'clock in St. John's Episcopal church in Winnsboro. The Rev. Charles C. Fishburne of Martinsville, Virginia, a for-mer rector of St. John's and a close friend of the bride, who performed the rite of baptism for the occasion with palms, smilax and magnolias. Lighted tapers in brass candelabra and vases of daisies and white gladioli adorned the altar and chancel. A program of nuptial music

CLOWNEY-WEATHERS

Mrs. John Spratt Clowney announces the marriage of her daughter, Alice Brice (" Pat"), to Paul Weathers of Walterboro. The ceremony took place December 25. 1943

Miss Jane Clowney Becomes Bride of Mr. William K. Lee on August 24th

ter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mead or Clowney of Winnsboro, became the bride of William Kenneth Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ernest Lee of Winnsboro, in a double ring ceremony at 8 p.m., August 24, in the Lebanon Presbyterian Church, Winnsboro. Rev. Joseph Beale performed the ceremony. Pines and lighted candles decorated the church. On the pulpit was an open Bible with a lighted candle on the side. White streamers with rubrum lilies attached, fell from the Bible.

The wedding music was furnished by Miss Nancy Blair of Blair, organist, and Mrs. Thomas Gladden of Winnsboro, soloist. The traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and the recessional. Mrs. Gladden sang 'Because'' and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of Chantilly lace and satin. The princess lines of the dress featured a bodice of Chantilly lace with a high neck, and a round collar trimmed with pearls and sequins, satin buttons down the back, and long sleeves ending in calla lily points over the hands. The full satin skirt ended in a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a crown of pearls and sequins. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds and tuberoses centered with a purple-throated orchid.

Miss Frances Long of Strother was maid-of-honor. Mrs. Jerry Hinson of Cheraw was matron-of-hon-Dr.

in Beaufort.

Miss Clowney Will Marry Mr. Miller

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Mr. and Mrs. George Mr. Clowney announce the engagement of their daughter, Phyllis, to Mr. Lawrence S. Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arza Worstell of Vincent, Ohio and the late Mr. Lawrence S. Miller of Parkersburg, West

Miss Clowney is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Moses Clowney and the late Mr. Clowney and the late Mr. and Mrs. Percy Monroe Dees of Winnsboro. Mr. Miller is the grandson of Mrs. Vergil Miller and the late Mr. Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer McFarland of Parkersburg, West Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Worstell of Pennsboro, West Va. The wedding is planned for June 8, in St. Johns Episcopal Church Winnsboro.

Miss Phyllis Clowney

Driggers-Coleman A wedding which is of inter-est to friends in Winnsboro is that of Mr. Vernie Coleman and Miss Frankie Driggers of Lyons, Ga. The couple were married in Lyons on Saturday, Dec. 26th. They are making their home with the groom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman.

Betty Aubrey Cogdill Marries James Wilbur Collins Saturday

Miss Betty Cogdill and James Wilbur Collins were united in marriage on Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents. The ring ceremony was perform-ed by the Rev. Ludon Hutto, un-cle of the bride, in the presence of the immediate families and a number of intimate friends. Before an improvised altar formed of magnolia branches, ivy and white gladioli, the vows were snoken. The candles were lighted

Before an improvised altar formed of magnolia branches, ivy and white gladioli, the vows were spoken. The candles were lighted by Charles Cogdill, brother of the bride.

navy accessories. The bride entered the ceremo-ny room with her father by whom she was given in marriage. She wore a suit of light blue and used navy accessories, and her only ornament was -a single strand of pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a purple-throated orchid. turn they will make their home with the bridegroom's parents for the present. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cogdill, and Mr. Collins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Collins. Both are graduates of Mt. Zion High School and are employed by the U. S. Rubber Company.

tions.

spoken. The candles were lighted by Charles Cogdill, brother of the bride. Miss Wanda Price of Winnsboro was the bride's only attendant. She wore a pink ensemble with navy accessories. The bride entered the ceremo-the present.