Miss Marguerite Miley Webb of Chappells and Ridgeway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Augustus Webb of Chappells, became the bride of Henry Logan Crumpton, son of Mrs. Norwood Z. Crumpton and the late Mr. Crumpton of Ridgeway, in a lovely ceremony taking place at seven o'clock Saturday evening, October 11, in the Chestnut Hill Baptist Church of Chappells. The Rev. George R. Pettigrew officiated, using the double ring ceremony.

bray Atkinson, Thomas Weir of Ridgeway, Samuel Taylor, David L. West and William Scott of Columbia.

Mrs. David West of Columbia, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore a dress of gold velveteen and net and carried a cascade of bronze mums.

The bridesmaids were Misses Dora Bradley of Ridgeway, Anna Roof of Columbia and Duke University, Mrs. Hugh Robinson of St. Matthews, Mrs. Buren Lown of Joanna, Mrs. Ben Herlong of Saluda, all cousins of the bride, and Mrs. William B. Scott of Columbia, sister of the bridegroom. They wore dresses of Arcadia blue with velveteen bodices and three-tiered nylon net skirts over taffeta with matching velveteen mitts and carried cascades of yellow mums and tuberoses dyed to match the dresses, and tied with satin ribbons.

The ringbearer was Tommy Crumpton of Jenkinsville, nephew of the bridegroom. The senior ushers were John S. Webb of Chappells and James Brown of Columbia.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her wedding gown of Duchess satin and Chantilly lace fashioned with lace bodice with yoke of illusion and bouffant skirt of satin ending in a cathedral train. The long fitted sleeves came to calla points over her hands and fastened with tiny covered buttons. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a prayer book covered in satin and topped with a white orchid.

The mother of the bride was attired in a dress of pink crepe with a lovely corsage of white glammelias.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace dress over taffeta and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting in receiving were Mrs. J. M. Keith, Mrs. P. G. Coleman, Miss Frances Webb, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Sharp, Miss Catherine Starnes, Mrs. W. G. Whitlock, Mrs. Lily Folk, Mrs. John Miley and Mrs. J. J. Miley, grandmother of the bride.

After a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina, the couple will be at home in Ridgeway. For traveling the bride changed to a navy blue dress suit of gabardine wool with navy accessories, white blouse, and the orchid from her prayerbook.

Mrs. Crumpton was graduated from Columbia High school and received her A.B. degree from the University of South Carolina where she was a member of Delta Zeta social sorority, and on the staff of The Gamecock, school paper, and the Garnet and Black, the annual, and a member of the Y.W.C.A. She is now teaching in Ridgeway.

Mr. Crumpton was graduated from Ridgeway High school and attended the University of South Carolina. He is now associated with the New York Life Insurance Company in Columbia.

MISS VICKI DARK AND MR. GLADDEN ARE WED

Miss Vicki Susan Dark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dark of Winnsboro, and Bobby Eugene Gladden, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gladden, also of Winnsboro, were united in marriage on Wednesday, April 5, 1961.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. R. Archie Ellis at 6 o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Columbia.

Only members of the families were present. Out of town guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. A. M. Long, and her aunt Mrs. Sam Oliver, both of Roxboro, N. C.

Of much interest in the Carolinas was the lovely wedding of Miss Annie Elizabeth Williams, daughter of Mrs. Aubrey Grady Williams of Ridgeway and the late Aubrey Grady Williams of Norway and Thomas Oscar Curlee, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oscar Curlee, Sr., of Charlotte, N. C., which took place at 8 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles Dickerson Tidwell, in Ridgeway. The Rev. B. H. Franklin, pastor of Airmwell Presbyterian church, officiated in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The lower floor of the spacious colonial home was thrown en suite. The reception hall was decorated with Southern smilax and floor baskets of white gladioli. The stairway entwined in smilax, was lighted with many tapers. The improvised altar was arranged before a group of windows banked with pines and palms. The vows were spoken under a candle-lighted arch. White gladioli and ferns completed the decorations arranged by Mrs. R. M. Bolick.

Charles Tidwell, uncle of the bride, and Mrs. J. F. Dobson furnished the wedding music. Before the ceremony Mr. Tidwell played "Serenade" (Schubert) and Mrs. J. F. Dobson sang "O Promise Me" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life." "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used for the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. During the ceremony "Liebestraum" was played softly.

The usher-groomsman were W. M. (Buster) Walker of Columbia, Mark T. Boatwright of Johnston, George D. Lott, Jr., of Columbia and Walter Brown of Winnsboro.

Miss Gretchen Howell of Columbia, Miss Louise Curlee of Charlotte, N. C., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Virginia Harby of Aiken and Miss Grace Williams of Ridgeway, sister of the bride, bridesmaids, wore exotic-rose taffeta dresses, featuring long sleeves, square necks, basque waists and full skirts. They carried bouquets of mixed asters and fern.

The maid of honor, Miss Marion Starnes of Ridgeway, wore a dress of blue taffeta, fashioned like those of the maids. Her bouquet was also of mixed asters and fern.

The matron of honor, Mrs. F. L. Green of Winnsboro, wore a dress of pink taffeta, and also carried a bouquet of asters and fern.

Little Jane and Marion Ed-

Mrs. A. B. Heins, and Mrs. Junius Bowen. The chandelier was showered with tuberoses entwined in tulle and satin ribbon. The candle-lighted table held a centerpiece of white snapdragons, tuberoses and lace fern. Mrs. R. M. Bolick and Miss Jean Starnes presided at the punch bowl. The wedding cake was served by Misses Ruth DesPortes, Rebecca Parker, Sarah Harley, Marion Heins, Sara Kennedy and Lillian Burnside and Mrs. A. B. Heins, Jr.

Mrs. S. S. Tidwell, great-aunt of the bride, invited the guests from the dining room into the gift room, where Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Watkins, Mrs. S. A. Taylor and Miss Rebecca Belle Kennedy received. Mrs. Jack Boyd and Miss Marjorie Frampton kept the bride's register.

During the evening, the bride and bridegroom left for their wedding trip and when they return to Columbia will occupy an apartment on Blossom street. For traveling the bride wore a costume suit of lightweight black wool, trimmed with black braid, and a silk jersey blouse. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of white roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Curlee, a charming and popular girl of Ridgeway and Columbia, was educated at Winthrop college, where she majored in commercial work.

Mr. Curlee was graduated from the Citadel, class of 1937. He has been connected for three years with the testing laboratory of the South Carolina highway department.
