

MRS. ROBERT BARTHOLOMEW

Dixon-Bartholomew

A wedding marked by dignity and simplicity was that of Miss Mabel Dixon of Blackstock and Robert Glenn Bartholomew of Ithaca, New York, and Groton, Connecticut, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dixon Saturday afternoon, December 28th in the presence of a group of relatives and friends. 1941

The Rev. A. M. MacLauchlin, former pastor of the bride, officiated, using the impressive double ring ceremony.

The wedding music was furnished by Larry Sharkey, pianist and vocalist, of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The program was opened by the playing of Schubert's "Ave Maria" and was followed by Tchaikowsky's "Tonight We Love" and Carrie Jacobs-Bond's "I Love You Truly." Wagner's Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin was used for the processional.

The candles were lighted by the groomsmen, Franklin Cannon of Concord, N. C., and B. B. Breedin, Jr., of Hill School, Pottstown, Pennsylvania, cousins of the bride.

Miss Helen Dixon of Winthrop College, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a dress of golden moire taffeta. The fitted bodice had three-quarter length sleeves and a flared skirt. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and colored daisies with golden ribbon streamers.

The bridesmaids were Misses Wilma Dixon, sister of the bride, and Katherine Mobley, cousin of the bride, both of Blackstock. Their dresses were of blue moire taffeta, styled like that of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of pink roses and colored daisies with rose ribbon streamers. The maids wore strings of pearls, gifts of the bride.

The ring bearers were Little Joan Horton and Little Dickie Felder of Manning, cousins of the bride. They carried the rings in white lilies.

Ernest Cammer of Charleston, S. C., friend of the bridegroom, was the best man.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, William Brown Dixon. Her wedding gown was a period model of ivory satin brocade, made with basque waist, long fitted sleeves, and full skirt ending in a train. Her full length veil of bridal illusion bordered in chantilly lace, fell from a coronet of lilies of the valley. She carried a white satin-covered prayer book topped with white orchids, which she used on her going-away dress.

Mrs. W. B. Dixon, mother of the bride, wore soldier blue crepe with a corsage of Talisman roses.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon entertained at a reception. The entire first floor of their home was thrown en suite being decorated with white gladioli, ivy, cedar and white bells.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. McDonald greeted the guests. Miss Roxie Dixon directed them to the dining room, where Mrs. B. B. Breedin and Mrs. Espy Cannon received. Serving the guests were Mrs. David M. Dixon and Mrs. Robert B. Dixon, assisted by Misses Tillie Brice, Emmie Stewart, Mary Caldwell, Ruth Ewart, and Frances Mobley.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Dixon and Mrs. S. M. Patrick received in the gift room.

Assisting the guests in registering in the bride's book were Misses Louise Breedin and Margaret Cannon.

For traveling, the bride wore a costume of black, with matching accessories. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Bartholomew will be at home at 22 Bill Avenue, Groton, Connecticut.

Mrs. Bartholomew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dixon. She was graduated from Blackstock High School.

Mr. Bartholomew is the son of Mr. F. C. Bartholomew and the late Mrs. Bartholomew of Ithaca, N. Y. He graduated from Cornell Hotel Administration School, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. At present he is employed with the Canteen Food Service, located at the Electric Boat Company, Groton, Connecticut.

Dixon-Culler 1942

At 8:30 Thursday evening, December 31, in the Three Hundred and Fifth Infantry chapel at Fort Jackson, Miss Mary Rives Dixon became the bride of Lieut. John Calhoun Culler, Jr. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain Nathaniel B. Saucier, using the double ring ceremony.

The chapel was beautifully decorated with white lighted candles in seven-branch candelabra, masses of palms and white gladioli.

Preceding the ceremony, a beautiful musical program was rendered by Cpl. Robert Loaz, vocalist. "Serenade," (Franz Schubert, "Because" and "Ave Maria," (Schubert), were played. Corporal Johnson sang "I Love You Truly," "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) was used for the processional and the "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn) for the recessional. During the ceremony "I Love You Truly" was softly played.

The matron of honor, Mrs. D. C. Nelson, sister of the bride wore a beige costume with brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride was a picture of dainty loveliness in her bridal costume of ice-blue with brown accessories. Her flowers were a lovely corsage of Talisman roses.

The bridegroom was attended by Lieut. Walter Bennett of Fort Jackson as best man.

Mrs. Culler is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Dixon, Sr., of Ridgeway. She is a graduate of the Ridgeway high school and of Draughon's Business college, and is at present secretary to the state farm ownership specialist in Columbia. She is a young woman of refinement, beauty and charm and her many friends in Columbia are delighted that she will continue to live here.

Lieutenant Culler is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Culler, Sr., of Wolfton. He is a graduate of the Orangeburg high school and Clemson College. He is now a first lieutenant in the United States army and is stationed at Fort Jackson.

After their short wedding trip, the young couple will be at home at 21 Hollywood Court, Columbia.

IN GREAT FALLS CHURCH

Miss Virginia Ann Dixon Is Married To Mr. Hansel L. Carter on Feb. 11 1961

Miss Virginia Ann Dixon of Great Falls and Columbia and Hansel L. Carter, also of Great Falls and Columbia, were married Saturday, February 11, at 8:00 p.m., in a double ring ceremony at the Great Falls Presbyterian Church.

Vows were heard by the Rev. George Alexander, the bride's pastor, assisted by the Rev. Ellis Oakes, pastor of the Great Falls Presbyterian Church. Gladioli, chrysanthemums, fern and giant candelabra with white cathedral tapers formed the background for the ceremony.

A program of wedding music was rendered by Miss Susan Kimbrell, organist, and Miss Judy Smith, vocalist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of bridal satin fashioned with a modified torso bodice, ending in a point in front and fastened down the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The bateau neckline was outlined with motifs of silk illusion finished with seed pearls. The long, fitted sleeves ended in appliqued points over the hands. The bell shaped, skirt, worn over hoops, was enhanced by large unpressed pleats at the back and cascaded into a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of imported bridal illusion was hand rolled and fell from a Swedish crown of crystals and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and lily of the valley centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Don Morris, a classmate of the bride, was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Dianne Azouri, Kay Short and Patsy Gregory, classmates of the bride, and Miss Marchita Williams of Clemson, cousin of the bride.

All bridal attendants wore street length dresses of turquoise silk organza over taffeta. The basque bodices were designed with short sleeves and a portrait neckline. The sheath skirts were fashioned with large irregular puffs extending around the tops of the hemlines. They also wore small matching crowns of silk braid with matching stones and circular face veils, matching shoes and short white gloves. They carried wedding ring bouquets of yellow roses and glads. The flower girl was Helen Fennell of Columbia and the ringbearer was David Coleman of Blair.

The groom's best man was Phil Hicks of Charlotte, N. C. Ushers were H. D. Carter and Kenneth Carter of Columbia, brothers of the groom, Don Morris and Billy Dixon, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a dress of champagne brocade with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

The groom's mother was attired in rose lace over taffeta with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Great Falls Community Center. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams of Clemson greeted the guests and presented them to the receiving line. They were then shown into the dining room by Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Coleman of Blair. Attractive arrangements of glads and fern decorated the dining room. Punch was dispensed from a silver punch bowl and an elaborate three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the groom's father, centered the table. Mrs. Victor Yount, Misses Patsy Franklin and Sylvia Wilson, honorary bridesmaids, served refreshments. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Huss Fennell of Columbia.

For their wedding trip the bride changed to a suit of blue velveteen with silver mink collar, matching accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Carter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Grayson Dixon of Great Falls (formerly of Winnsboro). She is a graduate of Great Falls High School and attended Lander College, Greenwood. Presently she is employed by the South Carolina Insurance Commission in Columbia.

Mr. Carter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Humphries Carter of Great Falls. He is a graduate of Great Falls High School, served in the armed forces and is now employed by Claussen's Bakeries in Columbia.

The couple will make their home at 1005 Woodlawn Avenue in Columbia.
