DOUGLAS—VASSEY 1938
 A wedding of much interest throughout the state was that of Miss Charlotte Rebecca Douglas of Winnsboro and Mr. Herbert W. Vassey of Spartanburg which was solemnized in the First Methodist church of Winnsboro Saturday, June 11 at 5:30. The Rev. Larkin A. Carter, pastor of the bride, officiated.
 For the occasion, the church was simply but effectively decorated. Graceful pines and floor baskets of white gladioli and Queen Anne's lace formed a background before which the ceremony was performed. Seven branched candelabra holding Cathedral tapers cast a soft glow over the chancel which was entwined with ivy. A large vase of white gladioli and two five branched silver candelabra were used behind the chancel. Marking the pews for the two families were bows of white tulle.
 Prior to the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was rendered by Miss Nelle McMaster of Winnsboro, organist, Miss Emmie Lee Hair of Blackville, violinist, and Mrs. Carlyle Smoak of Columbia, soloist. The selections were, "Shuberts Serenade," "Oh Promise Me," and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life." The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" for the recessional. During the ceremony, "Liebestraum" was softly given.
 The usher-groomsmen were: Norwood Thomas, brother in law of the bride, of Winnsboro, Taft Williams and Bill Hall of Chesnee, and Frank Lawson of Greenville.
 The bridesmaids were Miss Miriam Pettit of Spartanburg, who wore pink chiffon with orchid accessories, and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and lavender sweet peas tied with pink tulle; Miss Doris Vassey, sister of the groom, of Chenee wore lavender chiffon with pink accessories and carried a Colonial bouquet of pink roses and lavender sweet peas tied with pink tulle; Miss Rebecca Stevenson of Winnsboro, wore green chiffon with yellow accessories and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow snapdragons and roses; Miss Annie Lou Petty of Landrum wore yellow chiffon with green accessories and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow roses and snapdragons.

 Little Misses Jo Ann and Jane Douglas, neices of the bride were flower girls, and wore dresses of pink and blue organdie made on the same styles as the bridesmaids.
 The maid of honor, Miss Nelle Douglas, sister of the bride, wore a dress of blue chiffon fashioned like the bridesmaids' dresses, also carried a Colonial bouquet of roses and snapdragons.
 The lovely brunette bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Charles Harrison Douglas, was exquisite in her wedding gown of ivory satin fashioned on princess lines. She wore a double veil of bridal illusion gathered to a tiara of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. The bride's only ornament was a pin worn by her mother.
 The bride groom's best man was Jake Jenkins of Chesnee, S. C. Mrs. Douglas, mother of the bride, wore a dress of black lace and a corsage of white rose buds and lilies of the valley.
 Mrs. Vassey, mother of the groom wore black, her corsage was of white roses and lilies of the valley.
 Immediately after the ceremony a small reception for the wedding party and out of town guests was given by the bride's mother at her home.
 During the evening, the bride and groom left for their wedding trip and when they return they will be at home in Chesnee, S. C. For traveling the bride wore a becoming dress, Carolyn model, of sheer black crepe trimmed in white, with Eton jacket to match. Her accessories were black and white. She wore a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses.
 Mrs. Vassey is the daughter of the late Charles H. Douglas and Mrs. Mae Chappell Douglas. She is a graduate of Winthrop college. Since her graduation she has taught in Chesnee High School.
 The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Vassey of Chesnee. He is a responsible business man of Spartanburg.

Douglas-Traylor 1948
 Of much social interest throughout the state was the lovely wedding of Miss Dorothy Douglas of Winnsboro and William Ruff Traylor, which was solemnized at eight o'clock Wednesday evening, June 9th, in the First Methodist church in Winnsboro. The Rev. T. Carlisle Cannon, pastor of the bride, officiated using the impressive ring ceremony.
 Bamboo, Southern smilax, ferns and floor baskets of white gladioli and white lighted candles in seven-branched candelabra decorated the church. The vows were spoken before a chancel trimmed with smilax and lighted with single cathedral candles. The family pews were marked with large maline bows and ferns.
 Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. G. M. Ketchin, organist, and Mrs. Clarence Edmunds, vocalist, of Ridgeway. Mrs. Edmunds sang "Because" (deHardelet) and "O Perfect Love, My Jesus" (Grove).
 Hartwell Traylor, Jr., of Clemson, was his brother's best man.
 The bridesmaids were Misses Wilhelmina Douglas and Elizabeth Stevenson of Winnsboro, cousins of the bride; Miss Pauline Douglas of Lancaster, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Hartwell Traylor, Jr., of Clemson, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Helen Lemmon of Latta and Miss Florence Scott of Ridgeway; the junior bridesmaid was Miss Susan Palmer of Ridgeway. The maids wore gowns of petal pink marquisette with fitted bodices, draped shoulders and full skirts with bustle effects. They carried arm bouquets of pink carnations, blue delphinium and painted daisies, tied with heavenly blue ribbons.
 The matrons of honor were Mrs. Wesley Melvin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Ralph Boys, of Gastonia, N. C. They were gowned alike in heavenly blue marquisette fashioned like those of the bridesmaids, and they carried similar bouquets tied with petal pink satin ribbons. All wore matching flowers in their hair.
 Lovely little Travis Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Palmer Matthews of Winnsboro, and cousin of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. She wore a dress of heavenly blue, fashioned like those of the honor attendants, and carried a basket of rose petals which she scattered in the pathway of the bride.
 The radiant bride entered with her father by whom she was given in marriage. Her brunette loveliness was enhanced by her gown of white marquisette de soie, made with fitted bodice of lace, and covered with seed
