

Miss Sharon Dianne Taylor Is Bride of Mr. Frick in Blythewood

MRS. GLENN RUFUS FRICK

Miss Sharon Dianne Taylor and Glenn Rufus Frick were united in marriage at 5:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 9, in the Oak Grove United Methodist Church. The Rev. W. H. Abercrombie, Jr., officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

1973

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Levi Taylor of Blythewood. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lever of Blythewood and of Mrs. J. A. Taylor of Winnsboro and the late Mr. Taylor.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hugh Frick of Blythewood. He is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brown and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Rufus Frick.

Nuptial music was furnished by Mrs. Ralph Hill, organist, and Harold Ray Brooks, soloist. Serving as acolytes were Danny Taylor and Bobby Taylor, brothers of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original wedding gown of white silk organza over white peau-de-soie, designed and made by her mother. The bodice featured a lace yoke with ruffle and high neckline with ruffle. The long bishop sleeves were cuffed in lace with covered buttons. The full skirt fell softly from the waistline, with a straight front and chapel train, enhanced with a deep hemline ruffle. The veil, cathedral length of English silk illusion, fell from a hairstyle intertwined with daisies and baby's breath. She carried a basket of daisies with white roses.

Mrs. Thomas Levi Taylor, Jr., sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. Her gown was a formal length sheer voile with floral print over green peau-de-soie, designed with high ruffled neckline and a full skirt with deep hemline ruffle.

The other attendants were Miss Susie Lowder, cousin of the bride and Miss Donna Seaber, bridesmaids. Misses Cynthia Lever, Gladys Lever, Robin Lever and Kay Frick, cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Their formal length gowns were fashioned like that of the honor attendant, but in rainbow colors. All attendants carried baskets of daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Joyce Frick and Miss Judy Frick were flower girls. Their gowns were like those of the other attendants and they carried small white baskets of rose petals.

Thomas Hugh Frick attended his son as best man.

Ushergroomsmen were Thomas Hugh Frick, Jr., brother of the bridegroom; Thomas Levi Taylor, Jr., brother of the bride; Thomas Lever, Johnny Frick and Steve Miller of Blythewood and Eddie Lever of Winnsboro.

The bride's parents entertained with a reception at their home following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip the couple will reside at Route 1, Blythewood.

Mrs. Frick is a graduate of Harbor Christian School and will attend Midland Tec in the fall.

Mr. Frick is a graduate of Blythewood High School and is presently associated with Lafayette-Tarrant Construction Company, Inc., in Columbia.

McCright-Freeman

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Albert McCright of Winnsboro announce the engagement of their daughter, Margie Carolyn to Mr. Charles Foster Freeman, also of Winnsboro.

The wedding will take place on August 14.

MRS. CHARLES FOSTER FREEMAN, JR.

Freeman-Bagwell Vows Exchanged

Miss Tondra Kaye Bagwell and Mr. Charles Foster Freeman, Jr., were united in marriage on Saturday evening, September 20, at seven o'clock in Evangel Temple, Greenville. The Rev. John H. Bragg officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Ruff of Greenville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foster Freeman of Winnsboro. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. McCright and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Freeman, also of Winnsboro.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Harold Moody, organist, of Travelers Rest, and Mr. Michael Blackburn, soloist of Greenville.

The church was beautifully decorated with an archway intertwined with smilax centering the church chancel, flanked by floral arrangements of snapdragons, gladioli, chrysanthemums, and carnations and seven-branched candelabra also entwined with smilax.

The bride, escorted by her brother, Mr. Gregory S. Bagwell of Taylors, wore a graceful gown of white silk organza and Venice lace. The pearl embroidered bodice was fashioned with a Gibson neckline and full sleeves. The softly gathered skirt ended in a train which was bordered by a deep ruffle edged in lace.

The finger-tip veil, which was trimmed with Alencon lace and highlighted with pearls, was attached to a modified Camelot cap. She carried a colonial bouquet of white silk flowers and baby's breath.

Mrs. Karen Duncan of Greenville was matron of honor. She wore a formal length gown of mauve Qiana featuring an accordion pleated skirt which fell from an empire waist. Bolero jackets trimmed chiffon over taffeta. Her corsage was of pink rosebuds. The mother of the groom wore a Swiss pink chiffon formal gown and a white orchid corsage.

The bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Broadwater of Greenville, wore a formal length gown of blue Qiana and the groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Leonard A. McCright, wore a formal gown of blue lace and Qiana. Both had corsages of pink rosebuds.

A reception was held in the social hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. Floral arrangements of yellow and white decorated the party room, and the three tiered wedding cake and other refreshments were served by members of the staff of K-Mart Corporation's Berea Store. Mrs. Benjamin R. Foster kept the bride's register.

After a wedding trip to Jekyll Island, the couple are at home at Foxfire Apartments in Greenville.

The bride is a graduate
