

Miss Lucy Brown Haslett Is Wed to Lt. Evans on Saturday, August 19th

MRS. VIRGIL VERNON EVANS, III
1972

Miss Lucy Brown Haslett and Virgil Vernon Evans, III, were united in holy matrimony Saturday night, August 19th, at seven-thirty o'clock in St. John's Episcopal Church, Winnsboro.

The Rev. William Harrison Rose officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eben Haslett of Winnsboro, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vernon Evans, Jr., of Charleston.

The bride's maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Elnathan Davis of Winnsboro. She is the granddaughter of Marion Lee Arnett and Dr. Edwin Dwain Vinson, all of Charleston; Lt. Dwight Emory Sisk and Lt. George A. Martin, both of Fayetteville, N. C.; Lt. Robert E. Shields, New York; and Lt. Hugh H. Hill, California.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Roses, mixed summer flowers and evergreens were arranged throughout the house.

The bride's book was kept by Mrs. James Erwin Renwick of Rock Hill.

Greeting the guest as they entered the house were Mr. and Mrs. John A. McLeod and Dr. and Mrs. John C. Buchanan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. George F. Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. Moultrie D. Douglas introduced the guests to the receiving line.

After passing through the receiving line, guests were welcomed into the dining room by Mrs. Wade Hampton Macfie, Mrs. William L. Coleman and Mrs. William Y. Buchanan. The dining room table was covered with an imported linen cutwork cloth inserted with Irish lace, and was centered with the four-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with live roses in shades of white, pink and red.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Davis Coleman, Winnsboro, cousin of the bride; Miss Emily Elizabeth Evans, sister of the groom; Miss buttons. The A-line skirt was floor length, and from the bodice fell a detachable cathedral length train with repeating appliques of lace motifs and a band of Alencon lace encircling it. Her mantilla of cathedral length illusion was attached to a juliet cap covered with Alencon lace. The sides were edged with a band of lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley, baby's breath and ivy, centered with an orchid and tied with white satin streamers.

Miss Martha Davis Haslett, sister of the bride, from Winnsboro, was maid of honor. Mrs. William Eben Haslett, Jr., Charleston, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. Each wore a full length gown of imported cotton in a floral design of blues, greens and red. The denise bodices featured v-necklines outlined with ruffles of the same fabric. The long, full sleeves ended with ruffles. Encircling each midriff was a royal blue satin sash. Matching satin bows were their headpieces. They carried natural baskets cascading with red roses and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Davis Coleman, Winnsboro, cousin of the bride; Miss Emily Elizabeth Evans, sister of the groom; Miss

Mrs. William James Ladd

Miss Martha Davis Haslett Becomes Bride of Mr Ladd

Miss Martha Davis Haslett and William James Ladd were united in holy matrimony Saturday night, July first, at seven-thirty o'clock in St. John's Episcopal Church, Winnsboro. 1978

The Reverend William Harrison Rose of Church of the Good Shepherd, Columbia, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eben Haslett of Winnsboro, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Albert Ladd of Blair.

The bride's maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Amos Elnathan Davis of Winnsboro. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Eben Carpenter Haslett of Delray Beach, Florida, and the late Mr. Haslett.

The groom's paternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Albert Ladd of Blair. He is the grandson of Mrs. William Gregory of Blair, and the late Mr. Gregory.

The organist was Mrs. John V. Nicholson, Jr., who presented a background of classical selections. "Trumpet Voluntary" (Purcell) was used for the processional.

reembroidered Alencon lace and pearls. Enclosing the back and cuffs were matching covered buttons. The A-line skirt was floor length, and from the bodice fell a detachable cathedral length train with repeating appliques of lace motifs and a band of alencon lace encircling it. Her mantilla of cathedral length illusion was attached to a juliet cap covered with alencon lace. The sides were edged with a band of lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, daisies, baby's breath, and natural ivy.

Mrs. Virgil V. Evans, III, sister of the bride, from Summerville, was matron of honor. She wore a simple full length gown of yellow Qiana, featuring an accordion pleated skirt, and a removable matching chiffon cape. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies, yellow miniature carnations, and baby's breath with eggshell streamers and a cascade of ivy. She wore a headpiece of silk daisies in her hair.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. William E. Haslett, Jr., Summerville, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs.

Mr. Thomas Albert Ladd served as his son's best man.

Acolytes were Johnny Gregory Ladd, brother of the groom, and Ernest P. Ferguson, Jr.

Usher-groomsmen were William Eben Haslett, Jr., Summerville, brother of the bride; Thomas Albert Ladd, Jr., brother of the groom, and Carl Sherrod Smith, brother-in-law of the groom, both of Houston, Texas; Gregory Bryan Mayer, Columbia, cousin of the groom; David Towne Morris, Atlanta, Georgia; William Keistler Coleman, Mark Erskine Mills, and Michael Ralph Mills, all of Blair.

bodice and sleeves were appliqued with motifs of