

Miss Lillian Ruth Rexrode and Mr. DeBruhl Exchange Vows

On Sunday afternoon, April 21, Miss Lillian Ruth Rexrode and Stephen Kay DeBruhl were united in marriage at Union Memorial Presbyterian Church, Winnsboro. The double-ring ceremony was performed at four o'clock by the Reverend Iain Inglis of North Augusta and the Reverend Marion B. Anderson, pastor.

Lovely floral arrangements, lighted candles and greenery formed a background for the impressive ceremony.

Mrs. Thomas W. Gladden presented an appropriate prenuptial musical program at the organ. The traditional wedding marches were used for both the processional and the recessional.

Mr. and Mrs. Hennis Pope, vocalists, sang "O Lord Most Holy" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of Venise lace featuring empire waist, high neckline, cage sleeves, and scalloped hemline. Her long veil, edged in lace, was held in place with a half-cap made of matching lace and pearls. She wore an heirloom cameo necklace that was worn by her grandmother and mother in their weddings. She carried a lace-covered Bible overlaid with bridal flowers and centered with white roses.

Miss Carolyn McDill Rexrode was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. John H. DeBruhl and Mrs. Kenneth Lominac of Camden, Miss Martha Virginia Timms of Rockingham, N. C., Misses Jane Elizabeth and Lucy Diane Timms, Mrs. Herbert Rexrode Jr., all of Winnsboro. Also, Mrs. Kennerly Hooker of West Columbia and Miss Hellen Grey Rexrode sisters of the bride. The groom's cousin, Miss Pamela DeBruhl of Camden was junior bridesmaid. Ray DeBruhl nephew of the groom, was junior groomsman. The bridal attendants wore identical gowns of light blue chiffon and taffeta. The high necklines and empire waists were out-lined by white lace laced with matching blue ribbon. The long, full chiffon sleeves were buttoned at the cuff with pearl buttons. Headpieces of light blue bows and matching net completed their dress. They carried white mums with greenery and white ribbon streamers.

Craig Alexander Inglis of North Augusta was ring bearer. He carried the rings tied with blue ribbons on a white lace-edged pillow.

Mr. Curtis DeBruhl was his son's best man. Usher-groomsmen were John H. DeBruhl, Camden, brother of the groom. John Todd, Charles Tim, and William Herbert Rexrode Jr., Winnsboro, brothers of the bride, and R. Kennerly Hooker, West Columbia, brother-in-law of the bride. Mrs. Rexrode, mother of the bride, wore a street-length dress of pink lace and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. DeBruhl, mother of the groom, chose a two-piece lavender ensemble of crepe. Her corsage was an orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The Reverend and Mrs. Marion Anderson greeted the guests and introduced them to the receiving line composed of the bridal couple, their parents and the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Grover B. Timms and Mrs. Henry DeBruhl presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. John Elliott and Mrs. Julian Ballentine cut and served the beautiful four-tired wedding cake, after the traditional first slice was cut by the bride and groom. Others assisting in serving the delicious party foods were Misses Deborah Timms, Margaret Robertson, Peggy and Jennie Robertson. Also, Mrs. Preston Timms, Miss Catherine Timms, Mrs. Jack Robertson, and Mrs. Mary Robertson.

Mrs. Minnie Eddings of Camden, kept the brides register. Out-of-town guests were from Columbia, Great Falls, Spartanburg, Orangeburg, West Columbia, North Augusta, Rockingham, N. C., Montgomery, Ala., and Santa Maria, California. Goodbyes were said to the Reverend and Mrs. Iain Inglis.

During the evening the bridal couple left for a wedding trip to Daytona Beach and Walt Disney World, Florida. For traveling the bride wore a navy and white outfit with matching accessories. Her corsage was the white roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Herbert Rexrode, of Winnsboro, and the granddaughter of Mrs. John William Rexrode and the late Mr. Rexrode of Sugar Grove, West Virginia, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Samuel Timms of Winnsboro. In Union Memorial Church Ceremony

Miss Frances Catherine Rexrode Is Wed to Mr. Hooker, Sunday, July 9

MRS. ROBERT KENNERLY HOOKER

Miss Frances Catherine Rexrode became the bride of Robert Kennerly Hooker at half after five, Sunday, July 9, in the Union Memorial Presbyterian Church, Winnsboro.

The Reverend Iain Inglis of Honea Path, officiated at the double-ring ceremony, assisted by the Reverend Marion B. Anderson, pastor of the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Herbert Rexrode of Winnsboro. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clay Hooker, Sr., of West Columbia.

The church was beautifully decorated with magnolia, white gladioli, feverfew, fern, bows of ribbon plant and brass candelabrum holding white lighted candles.

A program of pre-nuptial music was presented by Mrs. B. E. Evans, cousin of the bride of Orangeburg, and Mrs. T. W. Gladden of Winnsboro, who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional marches were used for the processional and recessional.

Mr. Hooker was his son's best man. Other groomsmen were Cecil Clay Hooker, Jr., brother of the groom of Taylors, William Ronnie Edmund of Florence, William Herbert Rexrode, Jr., and John Todd Rexrode of Winnsboro and Charles Timms Rexrode of Nashville, Tennessee, all brothers of the bride.

Candles were lighted by Cecil Clay Hooker, Jr., and William Herbert Rexrode, Jr.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a formal length gown of white organza featuring a high collar and lace overlaid yoke. The bodice was also lace-paneled down the front to the satin-banded waistline. The full skirt was accented with a wide panel of lace in front to the hemline. The back of the skirt was designed with scalloped lace-edged peplums, the third one extending into a cathedral length train. Lace also cuffed the full sheer sleeves at her wrist. Her headpiece was a band of tiny blossoms of white venise lace with finger-tip silk illusion veiling. She carried her mother's wedding Bible, covered in lace with ribbon streamers and overlaid with bridal flowers centered with a white orchid.

Miss Hellen Grey Rexrode was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Martha Virginia Timms of Rockingham, N. C., Misses Jane Elizabeth and Lucy Diane Timms of Winnsboro, all cousins of the bride, Misses Carolyn McDill and Lillian Ruth Rexrode, sisters of the bride of Winnsboro.

The bridal attendants wore identical floor length lilac colored gowns. Featuring empire waistlines, the bodices and mandarin collars were of crepe. The overskirts of matching lace were accented at the waistlines with matching satin cords and bows. The sleeves were short puffed lace with scalloped edges. White gloves and headpieces of purple and lilac colored flowers completed their dresses. They carried nosegays of deep purple asters and lilac mums with matching streamers of ribbon.

Little Miss Cheryl Elaine Stevenson of Great Falls, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a floor length gown identical to that of the other attendants with matching headpiece. She carried a white basket of rose petals.

Master Craig Alexander Inglis of Honea Path was ring bearer. Dressed like the groomsmen, he carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Mrs. Rexrode, mother of the bride, chose a street length dress of blue and white lace. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Hooker, mother of the groom, wore a street length dress of pink chiffon. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was given in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The guests were greeted at the door by Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ballentine. Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lemmon introduced the guests to the receiving line composed of the bridal couple, their parents and the bridesmaids, Miss Catherine Timms, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Meric Williams of Walterboro, aunt of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Larry Parker and Mrs. Lewis Haigler presided at the punch bowls. Mrs. Jack F. Robertson and Mrs. Preston Timms cut and served the wedding cake after the traditional first slice was cut by the bride and groom. Others assisting in serving the delicious party foods were Misses Deborah Timms, Margaret Robertson, Peggy Robertson and Jenny Robertson. Also, Mrs. Julian Ballentine, Mrs. Grover Timms, Mrs. Robert R. Brown, Mrs. Mary Robertson and Miss Frances Robertson.

Mrs. Iain Inglis kept the bride's register. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brown.

During the evening the couple left for a wedding trip to the mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee. For traveling the bride wore a navy and white ensemble with white accessories. Her corsage was the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Hooker is a graduate of Winnsboro High School and Columbia Commercial College in Columbia. She is presently employed by the S. C. Vocational Rehabilitation in the Disability Determination Division in Columbia.

Mr. Hooker is a graduate of Airport High School and Midlands Technical Education Center in Columbia. He is employed by Lyles, Bissett, Carlisle and Wolff - Architects in Columbia.
