FIRST PRESIDENT
J.W. HOLLEY (1903-1943)

A HISTORICAL STATEMENT

Education must be made relevant and for more than 83 years, Albany State has been about the business of providing quality education. The 122 acre campus spans the East banks of the Flint River near beautiful downtown Albany.

One important and notable distinction of the institution is the fact that it has had only six leaders. Albany State College had its' beginning in 1903 when the Albany Bible and Manual Training Institute was founded. The first president of this institution, Joseph Winthrop Holley, came to Albany seeking aid and encouragement to organize a school that would afford better advantages to disadvantaged persons.

In 1917, the State of Georgia, through an act of the general Assembly, assumed responsibility for the institution's operation and changed its name to the Georgia Normal and Agricultural College with emphasis on teacher education, agriculture and home economics.

HOLLEY, JOSEPH WINTHROP -- College President -- Clergyman

b. April 3, 1874 - d. July 15, 1958, Winnsboro, S. C.; s. George and Duskey Holley; m. Daisie Lipsey. 1900; second marriage, Esther Tate, 1926: educ. Revere Lay Coll., Revere, Mass., 1896; Philips Andover Academy, Andover, Mass., 1898; Lincoln College course, 1900; Seminary, 1902; A.B., 1900 A.M. and S.T.B., 1902; D.D., 1906; LL.D, 1916: Pastor, Washington Ave. Church, Macon, Ga., 1904-13: established Albany Bible and Manual Training Inst., Albany, Ga., 1904: Stated Clerk of Presbytery of Knox, 1904-1958; elected Moderator of the Synod of Atlantic, 1914; re-elected 1924-1958; Pres., Georgia Normal and Agricultural College, Albany, Ga.; mem. Masons; K. of P., Alpha Phi Alpha; Pi Gamma Mu; Pol. Republican; Relig. Presbyterian; Address, Georgia Normal and Agricultural College, Albany, Ga.

Dr. Holley graduated from the Revere Lay College, Revere, Mass., and went to Lincoln University and graduated from college in 1900 and the seminary in 1902.

From Lincoln he went to Georgia and became pastor of Washington Avenue Church, Macon, Ga., and established the Albany Bible and Manual Training Institute at Albany, Ga., just one hundred miles South of Macon.

At Albany, the Training school has grown from a few students to nearly one thousand: and the buildings have grown from one shack to more than $3,000,000 worth of modern school property.

In the General Assembly, at Buffalo, N. Y., 1904 he took active part in the great debate on Union and ReUnion -- the latter with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Dr Holley represented the Church several times at the Meeting of the Alliance of the Reformed Church throughout the world, holding the Presbyterian Form of Faith or System.

Title: [Photograph of Dr. Joseph Winthrop Holley and Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, Albany, Dougherty County, Georgia, 1952]

Date: 1952

Description: Albany, 1952. Dr. Joseph Winthrop Holley and Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune (1875-1955). In 1903 Dr. Holley founded the Albany Bible and Manual Training Institution, an educational facility for blacks. In 1917 the state began to make some appropriations to the school, which gradually increased over the years. This institution has several names until 1943 when its name became Albany State College. Dr. Holley served as its president until 1943. Dr. Bethune founded the Daytona Normal and Industrial Institute for Negro Girls in 1904 in Daytona Beach, Florida. This educational facility is now known as the Bethune-Cookman College. Dr. Bethune served as president until 1942.

2003/02/07: Albany State College has been known as Albany State University since 1996. Other names include Albany Bible and Manual Institute (1903-1917) and Georgia Normal and Agricultural College, Albany (1917-1943). Bethune-Cookman College is still operating under the same name.

Abstract: This study examines accommodationism, a tactic of racial uplift used by black school founders and teachers in the Jim Crow South. For founders, accommodationism was a dangerous process of collaboration, resistance, and compromise. The subject under study is Joseph Winthrop Holley. Born in South Carolina, Holley studied in the North at Phillips Academy and Lincoln University. Despite a liberal education, Holley returned to the South and founded a Bible and industrial school. Holley was the most conservative founder of his day. His life and work take us beyond the Washington-Du Bois paradigm and help to clarify the work and meaning of accommodationism. The study also evaluates the degree to which conservative forms of schooling became a means for social control. (Contains 3 figures and 180 notes.)
